TELL OF COUNT'S LOVE RIVAL

INDIANA REBELS JAR ROOSEVELT PURGE PROGRAM

May Indicate End of Sway Over Party.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—The Hoosier Democratic organization's repudiation of President Roosevelt's proscription of Senator Frederick Van Nuys [D., Ind.] for fighting the Supreme court packing bill produced a political sensation in Washington.

The repercussions involved not only the fate of Roosevelt's policies in the November congressional elections but control of the Democratic party in 1940 and President Roosevelt's chances of getting a third term nomination.

At his press conference today President Roosevelt not only refused to comment upon the Van Nuys situation in Indiana but asserted arily that he had heard nothing of political developments from that state.

Laugh at President's Expense.

A reporter explained at length the offer of Gov. M. Clifford Townsend to Senator Van Nuys, and added that the governor had declared there would be no opposition from the White House. The President insisted that he knew nothing about it.

"As head of the Democratic party, how do you like the Indiana situation," the President was asked.

Amid the laughter which arose, Mr. Roosevelt answered that the questioner would better consult an astrologer.

The capitulation of the Indiana Democrats to Senator Van Nuys, who intended to seek reëlection as an independent if denied renomination by his party, furnished an inauspicious reaction to the expedition on which the President will embark Thursday to compass the nomination of Democratic candidates he favors and the defeat of those who have incurred his displeasure.

Leaders Voice Their Doubts.

In the light of what has happened in Indiana and Iowa, Democratic leaders were asking each other today whether Mr. Roosevelt may not have bitten off more than he can chew. He failed to defeat Senator Guy M. Gillette for renomination in Iowa, just as he now has failed to "liquidate" Senator Van Nuys in Indiana.

Gillette, like Van Nuys, had incurred presidential disfavor by opposing the court packing bill.

Up to date the President has not succeeded in finding candidates to pit against Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.] and Augustine Lonergan [D., Conn.] who opposed not only the court packing bill but other Roosevelt "must" measures.

Will Avoid Indiana.

On his western tour the President apparently is not going to court further humiliation. He is going to make speeches for his supporters but not against his opponents in his own party.

Speaking for the renomination of Democratic Senator Robert J. Bulkley in Ohio and Democratic Senator Alben W. Barkley in Kentucky, Mr. Roosevelt will avoid Indiana where his party is unwilling to follow him in meting out punishment to Senator Van Nuys.

President Roosevelt will speak in Oklahoma for the renomination of Democratic Senator Elbert D. Thomas, a 100 per cent administration supporter, and he then will go into Colorado, but not, it seems, to speak against the renomination of Senator Alva B. Adams, whose sinning was confined to opposition to the court packing bill.

Wins Presidential Forgiveness.

In accord with the principles of his intervention in Democratic primaries enunciated in his recent fireside chat, Mr. Roosevelt is reputed to have forgiven Senator Adams because of his heroic work in getting the 3¾ billion dollar relief and pump priming bill through the senate.

The President will pass rapidly through Nevada by night, not pausing to chastise Democratic Senator Pat McCarran, who broke with Mr. Roosevelt on the court packing bill and other measures. Finally he will emerge in California to give Democratic Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, loyal to the administration, a boost for renomination.

Eyes Focus on Return Trip.

ICKES PROMISES EARLY START ON CITY'S SUBWAYS

PWA Cash Assured Senator Lewis.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—Construction will start soon on three downtown Chicago subways, financed by Public Works administration grants, Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes assured Senator James Hamilton Lewis [D., Ill.] today.

The senator conferred with Secretary Ickes, a Chicagoan, at the request of Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago. The senator acknowledged he was worried over the prospects of subways for Chicago before he conferred with the secretary, but was cheered to learn that all difficulties can be ironed out.

He revealed that the final decision will rest with President Roosevelt, not merely for a routine approval of the grants but for approval of the plans after consultation with federal and city engineers. The President is interested, the senator disclosed, in the problems arising in the building of subways in Chicago's shifting soil.

Safeguards May Be Ordered.

Senator Lewis believes it is possible the President may order steel caissons strengthened and additional supports for the caissons to guard against any possible mishap. Chicago subways, because of the nature of the soil, cannot be cut through rock like those of New York and other cities.

The additional safeguards may add to the cost of the project. However, the senator said that he does not believe that any possible additional cost will move the President to withhold approval from the project.

The city at present is seeking $14,328,000 in PWA grants for the three subways. The city itself would put up $17,512,000.

"I conferred with Secretary Ickes at the request of Mayor Kelly and am happy to report that I am sure Chicago will have subways before very long," Senator Lewis said.

Steady Cash Flow Assured.

"I was particularly interested in getting assurance that sufficient money would be made available at once and would flow in large enough amounts to keep the project moving steadily. I do not think it would be a good thing for Chicago or the government to move sporadically.

"The secretary said he was very pleased that at the rate plans are proceeding there now is a sure prospect of subways for Chicago."

Ickes said that the city's subway plans have been sent to the Chicago offices of the PWA for final study by local government engineers, according to Senator Lewis. The Chicago regional office is in charge of David R. Kennicott.

"The plans have been sent to Mr. Kennicott, the secretary told me," Senator Lewis continued, "so as to expedite in every possible way every possible detail of construction and planning. The secretary is pleased with the details of the plans of the city engineers, but is seeking to clear possible obstructions so that once work is under way it will proceed smoothly and efficiently.

Wants Full Coöperation.

"His concern is for every possible coöperation between the city and the federal government, between city and federal engineers, and between himself and Mayor Kelly. And rightfully so, in my opinion."

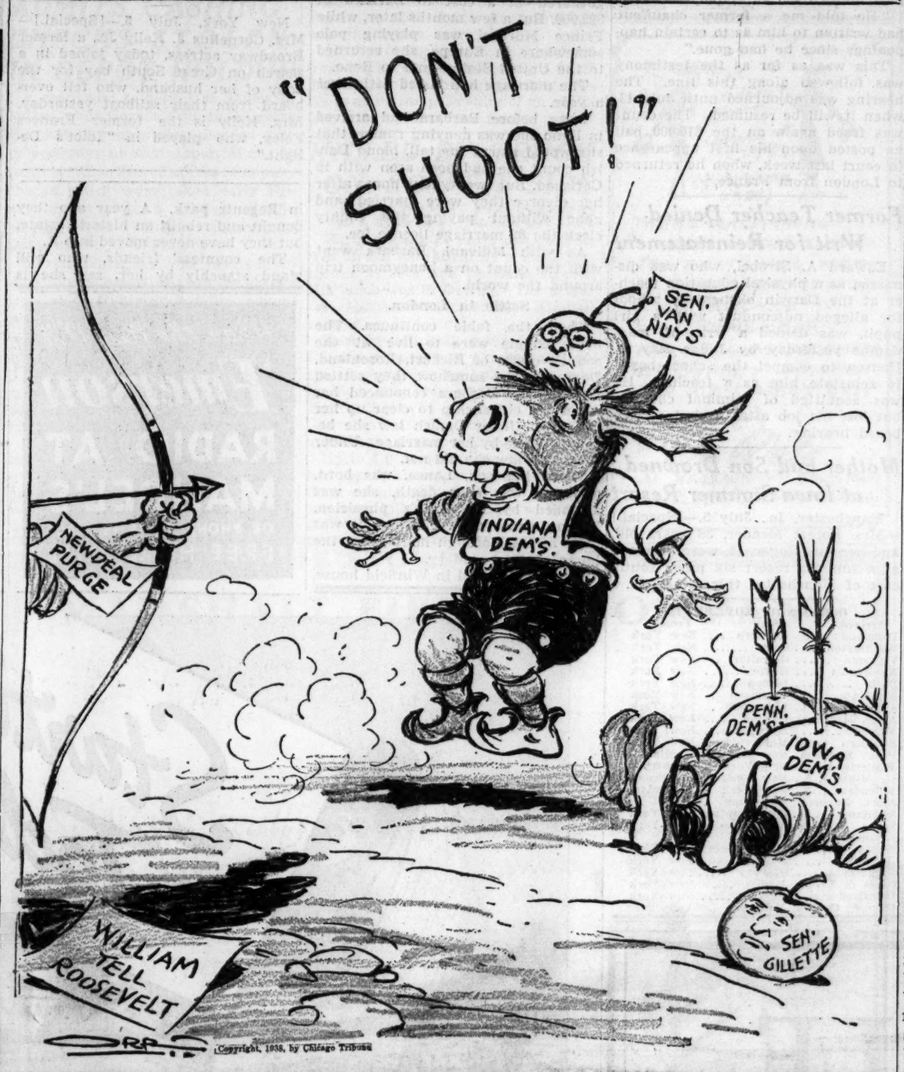

The senator expressed himself confident that the PWA grants will come to Chicago when the President returns from his transcontinental tour and fishing trip. Mr. Roosevelt's return is scheduled for about the first week in August.

The subway plans as developed by Chicago engineers have already received the approval of PWA engineers and the project was put on the list of approved projects in anticipation of the passage of the 5½ billion dollar pump priming program.

Since congress approved the plan and before and after it was signed by the President, Mayor Kelly came to Washington seeking to push the city's subways through the log jam of projects. He had attempted to obtain subway grants unsuccessfully in the last three years. Lack of success was due to shortage of PWA funds.

The city is also seeking thirteen million dollars more in PWA grants for major projects.

Hunt Shelter for Jews Who Flee Germany

EVIAN-LES-BAINS, France, July 5.—(AP)—Delegates of more than thirty nations assembled here tonight to thrash out the problem of sheltering greater Germany's Jews, political refugees and would-be exiles at a conference called by President Roosevelt. This constituted the world's first attempt at a round table conference of nations to settle a problem as old as the Cæsars.

Officially styled the intergovernmental committee of political refugees' conference, the sessions were scheduled to start tomorrow afternoon at this sunny resort on Lake Geneva to discuss means of finding new homes for those who have no place in Nazi Germany.

Others May Raise Problem.

Some eastern countries, however, were expected to raise almost as pressing a problem of Jews in Poland, Rumania, and Hungary.

[Altogether, some quarters have estimated, 1,000,000 persons would emigrate from greater Germany if given an opportunity. Religious Jews in German-Austria alone are estimated at 200,000, while persons with some part of Jewish blood in their veins are believed to be a few hundred thousand more.]

Myron C. Taylor, former head of the United States Steel corporation, led the United States delegation and was widely mentioned as probable president of the conference.

He was expected in American quarters to suggest that South American countries and the British dominions could most easily give a fresh start in life to thousands of anti-Nazis, especially those from German Austria who have left or want to leave.

A Unique Conference.

It was the seizure of Austria by Adolf Hitler March 13 and the consequent attempted mass flight of Austrian anti-Nazis to other countries that prompted President Roosevelt to call the parley—a conference unique in both prewar and postwar meetings of statesmen.

The conference will dovetail its

REPORT $15,000 GEMS STOLEN FROM HOME OF MARSHALL FIELD

Lloyds Harbor, N. Y., July 5.—[Special.]—The loss of jewelry valued at $15,000 from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Field here on Sunday, was revealed today as local, county and state police opened a widespread investigation.

The loss was reported to Lloyds Harbor police by Mrs. Field who said she had last seen the jewels when she left them on a dressing table after returning to her home with Mr. Field at about 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Field told police that the jewels were missing when she awakened on Sunday. They were a pearl necklace, a bracelet and a diamond ring which she had worn the night before.

Mrs. Field is the former Mrs. Ruth Pruyn Phipps of New York City. Her husband, a millionaire sportsman and retired banker, is the grandson of the founder of the Chicago department store.

FIND CITY DOGS HEALTHIER THAN COUNTRY HOUNDS

New York, July 5.—(AP)—A city dog is healthier than his country cousin because he's coddled more.

That's what thirty veterinarians found in a seventeen year survey reported by Dr. C. P. Zepp, vice chairman of the 75th annual convention of the American Veterinary Medical association which opened today.

The average life span for city dogs was found to be eleven years, against nine for the barnyard species.

"The main reason is the fine care and feeding given a city dog," Dr. Zepp said. "Another reason is that a country dog is exposed to climatic conditions which dry up his fur and result in skin diseases."

700 Suez Canal Workers on Sitdown; Seize Shops

CAIRO, Egypt, July 5.—(AP)—Eight foremen were wounded today in a clash with 700 Suez canal workers who were starting a sitdown strike, seeking higher wages. The workers, employés of the Suez Canal company, occupied repair shops at Port Said and the powerhouse at Ismailia. Police surrounded the buildings.

Indiana Fisherman Catches 125 Pounder Named Victor

Valparaiso, Ind., July 5.—[Special.]—A fisherman made a 125 pound catch at Fline lake today, but when he reeled it in he found he had caught a boy instead of a fish. The boy, Victor Beramcyh, 15 years old, of Gary, had been swimming under water. A surgeon cut the hook out of Victor.

Account Book Escapes Fate by a Whisker

This will let Alfred Logan's charge account customers know that they came within a dyspeptic goat's whisker of not being billed for their June purchases. You see, if Mr. Logan hadn't got his ledger back, which he wouldn't if it hadn't been for the dyspepsia. . . .

The story begins with Mr. Logan leaving his drug store at 2746 Central street, Evanston, Friday night, July 1. He hadn't gotten around to figuring up who owed how much and he took the ledger home with him.

Then the Adventures Start.

Then, the next morning, Mrs. Logan helpfully started for the store with the book, which Mr. Logan had forgotten. When she reached the back door she found it stuck and laid the ledger on a garbage can. By the time she had the door open she had forgotten her precious book.

Mr. Logan remembered it pretty soon and Mrs. Logan recalled the garbage can. But when she went out the can was bare. The Evanston police told Mr. Logan that maybe Albert Klamfoth of 2011 Pratt court had taken the garbage and the ledgerless apothecary went there.

"Well," said Mrs. Klamfoth, "Albert is gone. He took a collection of garbage out to his farm near Half Day, and he's going to feed it to his stock."

Enter Villain Named Alphonse.

Mr. Logan suggested that surely he wouldn't feed a ledger, and Mrs. Klamfoth said that if Alfonse the goat got hungry. . . . Mr. Logan hastened to Half Day.

"I don't know," said Mr. Klamfoth, "if your prospects are better than fair to middling. Alphonse is kind of off his feed and you can see if you want to."

The druggist reached the feed lot in the nick of time. Alphonse was just beginning to nibble on the A section of the book. And as Mr. Logan came near he took a firm hold on the cover and tore it away.

Mr. Logan's customers had all been billed last night and the ledger was locked in the safe.

CUSTOMER WITH SALES TAX RABIES BITES MERCHANT

George Skoniotes wants to find the man who bit him. It happened Sunday, he told Joliet police, when a customer stopped at his fruit stand at 161 South Chicago street in Joliet. The man picked up a watermelon, and when Skoniotes asked him for the additional sales tax the man bit him on the face and then drove off.

5 AND 10 HEIRESS WINS TITLES AND BITTER CRITICS

BY MARCIA WINN.

Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow holds a unique position among American heiresses. She is probably the most widely criticized of them all.

This criticism started long before the Woolworth heiress gave up her American citizenship. It dealt merely with her penchant for titled husbands and her blatant tossing about of millions.

Gives $100,000 to Charity.

The former Barbara Hutton was hurt, bewildered. She countered by giving $100,000 to one charity and $5,000 for a needy children's Christmas dinner, and then lapsed into her lavish displays.

The countess will be 26 years old in November. In her life there has been enough jeweled glamor for four story book heroines, yet her classic features, so nearly those of a storybook princess, already are deeply sad.

Her friends say she is unhappy that she cannot live in obscurity. They give no explanation of her actions on European soil, but excuse them on the "poor little rich girl" theory.

Fortune from Grandfather.

Barbara Hutton was a multi-millionairess before she could talk plainly. Her father, Franklyn L. Hutton, is a stock broker, who through weal or woes always bobs up to be her spokesman. Her mother, the former Edna Woolworth, daughter of Frank W. Woolworth, who developed a fabulous fortune out of selling five and ten cent articles, died when she was 4. Barbara, her only child, then inherited some $40,000,000.

Immediately upon coming of age she began trying to give this away to title-bearers.

Until then, her only publicity was a brief splurge in 1926, when at the age of 14 she sold 50,000 shares of Woolworth common stock for $10,000,000. It was one of the largest private stock transactions in the history of Wall street.

Meets Prince Mdivani.

After her debut, at the age of 18, she became a familiar figure in New York night clubs. Broadway columnists, addressing her by her first name, termed her "regular" as well as beautiful and she was squired about by many eligible young men. Then, on a world tour she met Prince Alexis Mdivani.

Her marriage to the polo playing Georgian prince was sudden and brilliant. It began her era of nobility. Even the maharajah of Kapurthala, wearing a purple turban, attended the wedding, performed in Paris. Barbara herself wore a diamond diadem—and gave her prince a string of polo ponies and a $2,000,000 trust fund.

They set out for a honeymoon on Lake Como, in Venice, and Barcelona,

BABS' $500,000 DIVORCE OFFER BARED IN COURT

Husband Spurns It; Threatens Duel.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Pictures on back page.)

LONDON, July 5.—Mayfair society speculated avidly tonight on the identity of "the other man" accused of being involved in the wrecked romance of Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow, American heiress to $40,000,000 of the Woolworth five and dime store fortune, and her Danish husband, Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow.

Sir Patrick Hastings. [Barbara Hutton's lawyer.]

The fact that there is "another man" in the case—he is rumored to be a prince—was brought out today by counsel for the count at his trial on charges of Countess Barbara that he made threats against her and that she was in fear of her life. The Danish nobleman, it was testified, had called both his wife and "the gentleman in London"—as attorneys for both sides agreed to call the mystery man—obscene names. The count, it was charged, first had threatened to challenge his suspected love rival to a duel, and later to "shoot him like a dog." Haugwitz-Reventlow, it was testified, considered that "his honor was at stake."

Count Demands $5,000,000.

These were only a few of the sensational charges made at the airing of Countess Barbara's second ruined marriage within three years. She secured a Reno divorce from her first husband, Prince Alexis Mdivani, in May, 1935, and married Count Haugwitz-Reventlow the next day.

Today's hearing was held in the dingy Bow street police court while police fought back a mob trying to get in to hear the spicy testimony. Count Haugwitz-Reventlow was pictured as at times "raving" and at other times weeping, making threats against his wife, praising her, demanding enormous sums of money, and threatening to kill himself. He was accused of having boasted of his ability to shoot from the hip through his pocket quicker than any one could raise a hand against him. It was disclosed that the count's police permit to carry a revolver had been revoked.

The count also was accused of having demanded $5,000,000 and custody of the couple's son, Lance, 2 years old, as his price for a divorce; of having threatened to seize Lance; of having threatened Countess Barbara with "three years of hell with headlines," and of having "engaged in talk of blackmail."

Barbara Offers $500,000.

The story of bickering over money also was brought out—how Countess Barbara first thought of making a settlement of $1,250,000 on her estranged husband and then deciding to offer him $250,000 "to let bygones be bygones," later raising this to $500,000. Barbara, it was testified, wanted a divorce on grounds of incompatibility. The count spurned the offer as "laughable" and "an insult."

Neither Barbara nor the count testified. All the testimony was given by William M. Mitchell, Countess Barbara's solicitor. He was questioned by Sir Patrick Hastings, another of the countess' attorneys, and Norman Birkett, attorney for the count.

The hearing opened with an outline of Countess Barbara's case by Sir Patrick, who disclosed that the couple had decided to discuss separation on June 2. Later, Sir Patrick said, the count went to France.

Count Holds Mysterious Letter.

While June 2 was given as the date on which the family break-up began, today's testimony disclosed that the rift between Barbara and the count dated back to some time last spring when the count discovered a letter written to his wife. The count still has the letter.

After outlining Countess Barbara's case Sir Patrick called Mitchell to the witness box. The latter, under questioning by Sir Patrick, told of having seen the count at the exclusive London Bath club after the June 2 meeting.

"What was his attitude toward his wife on that occasion?" Sir Patrick asked.

"At one moment he abused her and at the next he would indicate that nothing was too good for her," Mitchell replied.

"Don't use the words he used, but in what form of language did he abuse her?" Sir Patrick continued.

"In obscene language," Mitchell said.

Mystery Man Enters Case.

The mysterious "gentleman in London" was brought into the case by Birkett, the count's attorney, who also sought to bring out that the purpose of Barbara's warant for the arrest of her husband was not to protect herself from threats but to keep him out of England.

"It is plain, is it not, that one of the chief features of this case is that this matter of 'The Gentleman in London'—we have agreed upon the phrase—upset the count profoundly?" he asked.

"Yes, and, in my view, childishly," Mitchell replied.

"Some solicitors are husbands," Mitchell retorted.

Tells of Death Threat.

This line of questioning was continued by Sir Patrick when he drew out from Mitchell details of a conversation the latter had had with the count in France.

"Did he [the count] mention the name of a particular gentleman in London society?" Sir Patrick asked.

"Yes," Mitchell replied, "he did."

"I am not going to mention his name, but what did he say he was going to do to him?" Sir Patrick continued.

"He said some one in English society had written to him stating that unless he first challenged that gentleman to a duel he could never return to London society again.

"The count went on to say that dueling was too good for that — —, and he said 'I shall go straight back to London and shoot him like a dog.'"

This angle of the case previously had been brought out by Sir Patrick in his preliminary outline, when he said the count "had raved a bit" when "the gentleman in London" was mentioned.

Considered "Honor at Stake."

The count, Sir Patrick said, had declared "his honor was at stake and that he was going over to England to fight a duel with a man and was going to fight with the person he named." If he was not permitted to fight a duel, Sir Patrick said the count had declared, "he would shoot 'the gentleman in London' and put his wife on the spot."

Sir Patrick continued that Count Haugwitz-Reventlow "then burst into tears, and spent the whole day with Mitchell, varying between tearfulness and threats and asking for various enormous sums of money which he seemed to think he required."

The next morning, Sir Patrick continued, "the count apparently changed his mind, declared he would not have a separation, and said he intended to seize his son." The count, it was declared, said he was going to London to see Lance and if Countess Barbara tried to stop him, he added, "God help her and God help us both." It was then, Sir Patrick explained, that Countess Barbara had Lance made a ward in chancery, which places him under control of the court until he reaches the age of 21.

Blackmail Angle Brought Out.

The blackmail charge was brought out by Mitchell in his outline of his conversation with the count in Paris. The count, he declared, had hastened back to London because "he was apprehensive regarding something he had said to me."

"It was talk about blackmail," Mitchell continued. "He said I didn't understand the beginning of the technique; that a lot of money could be made out of it if properly handled, and that the only mistake he had made was in signing a New York deed."

Mitchell also told of the count's suicide threats.

"If I blow my brains out," he declared the count told him, "everybody will know Barbara drove me to it. Tragedy will haunt her all her life, and nobody will ever speak to her again. If I lose there is only one way out. I might take it even now."

Barbara's Letter Read.

Mitchell also told of the count's action when he [Mitchell] delivered to him a letter from Barbara in which she said it was "impossible for me to go on living with you." The count, Mitchell testified, burst into tears and collapsed on a bed. The letter, which was introduced into testimony, follows:

"Dear Court:

"I have received your letter, which makes it even more difficult to say what I have to say. Now that I have had time to think things over I feel more strongly than before that your attitude after last year and especially during the last few weeks has made it impossible for me to go on living with you.

"I don't want in this letter to go into details and recriminations which must be hurtful to both of us. We have had all that out already. Rather I want to say I hope you are well and that I want you to have a happy life just as I wanted for myself.

"Together this is impossible, as I realize now. I don't want you to have any hard feelings about me and I have not got any about you.

"I send you all my good wishes. There is one thing I want to ask of you: Do not ask or try to see me again. At this stage you will think this unkind of me, but on reflection you will realize that I am right, as any further meeting will only make things more difficult.

"I hope and believe you will realize that what I am saying now is what I really think and believe. No one has influenced me in the slightest. As regards details, I am leaving all this to Mr. Mitchell, whom I have asked to give you this letter. I shall be reasonable and I know that you will be also. With all my best wishes,

"Always affectionately,

"BARBARA."

The count's attorney, Birkett, resuming his questioning of the witness, reverted to the hint of a scandal in the Haugwitz-Reventlow household.

"Did he [the count] say 'I have ample evidence that Winfield house [Countess Barabara's London home] isn't a suitable place for him [Lance] to be brought up?'" Burkett asked.

"Yes, he said that," Mitchell replied.

"Did he say, 'I am receiving information on what is happening at Winfield house from an employe?'"

"He told me a former chauffeur had written to him as to certain happenings since he had gone."

This was as far as the testimony was followed along this line. The hearing was adjourned until July 13, when it will be resumed. The count was freed again on the $10,000 bail he posted upon his first appearance in court last week, when he returned to London from France.

Sergt. Marshall Pidgeon of bomb squad with his new badge, No. 13, which no one has been willing to wear since 1922.

Police Sergeant Marshall Pidgeon of the bomb squad is not superstitious. Yesterday, when he asked for a new badge, on the ground that his old one was blurred, he was offered No. 13, which no one had accepted since 1922. "Sure I'll take it," said Pidgeon; "I can collect pay on it just as well as on any other number." The last holder of No. 13, Policeman Max Patoski, wore it for eleven years.

Former Teacher Denied Writ for Reinstatement

Edward A. Strobel, who was dismissed as a physical education teacher at the Darwin elementary school for alleged misconduct with a girl pupil, was denied a writ of mandamus yesterday by Judge Ray D. Hensen to compel the school board to reinstate him as a teacher. He was acquitted of criminal charges, but lost his job after a civil service board hearing.

5 & 10 HEIRESS GAINS TITLES AND CRITICISM

Their parties were the talk of Paris. To celebrate her 21st birthday, princes, a duchess, three barons, thirteen counts, a lord, and two baronets gathered—at a cost to Barbara of $22,000. But a few months later, while Prince Mdivani was playing polo somewhere in Europe, she returned to the United States—and to Reno.

The marriage had lasted little over a year.

Long before Barbara had arrived in Reno she was denying rumors that she would marry the tall, blond Danish count she had been seen with in Carlsbad. But twenty-four hours after her divorce they were married—and gone without paying the county clerk the $2 marriage license fee.

Settle in London.

Then the fable continues. The noble couple were to live at the count's castle of Rickert, Rosenland, Denmark, but somehow they settled in London. Barbara renounced her American citizenship to clear up her position. Under Danish law she became a Dane by her marriage. Under American law she did not.

When her son, Lance, was born, and she was near death, she was attended by the king's physician. When Lance was christened, it was done in Marlborough house, now the home of Queen Mary.

The couple lived in Winfield house, in Regents park. A year ago they bought and rebuilt an historic estate, but they have never moved into it.

The countess' friends, who still stand stanchly by her, say she is impulsive, sensitive, generous to an inordinate degree.

The countess says nothing, but continues to look like a storybook princess, her carriage as fine as that of the duchess of Kent, her slender form—some thirty pounds lighter now than in 1935—swathed in luxuriant garments, earrings always shining beneath her blonde hair—which was almost brunette in 1935.

The earrings may be diamond circlets, they may be round pearls, or they may be the emeralds Napoleon III. gave the countess de Castiglione. [Barbara bought the latter from Ganna Walska, together with a diadem, necklace, and bracelets, for $1,200,000.]

The countess resents public interest in her ear rings, as well as in her stringent diet. She thinks it her own business, just as her poetry which, at a moment generally thought ill considered, she permitted to be published. More than that, they were set to music by Elsa Maxwell and sung by Lawrence Tibbett.

DRIVE LAUNCHED TO REMOVE SPEED TRAP AT PHOENIX

Prosecutor Says Village Exists on Fines.

County and state authorities yesterday set out to abolish another village speed trap, this time in Phoenix, a town of 3,000 population twenty miles south of the loop.

Arrow points to village of Phoenix.

Assistant State's Attorney Richard Austin said he had received several complaints from motorists. They said they had been trapped by an obscure stop sign at the intersection of Dixie highway and Illinois 54 in Phoenix.

"The village police lie in wait at this intersection," Austin said. "They appreciate that the sign is such that it is easily overlooked. The arrests are a main source of the village's revenue, and they must make arrests to keep their jobs.

Larger Sign Demanded.

"I am asking the state highway department to install a larger stop sign and to install a warning sign on the approach to the stop."

The latest complaint of an arrest at this intersection came from E. B. Utescher, chief engineer of the Drake hotel. He was stopped there by S. Zmuda, who identified himself as chief of police.

"At the justice of peace at 15725 South Halsted street," the engineer related, "I was asked for $25 cash bond. They settled for $10 bail. I admit that I didn't stop. I didn't see the sign. There is no warning on the approach, the sign is small and turned slightly sideways."

Dixmoor Quintet Arraigned.

From the neighboring village of Dixmoor yesterday, Mayor Charles Special, Police Magistrate Charles A. Braun, and the three man police force were arraigned before Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington. They are under indictment, charged with conspiracy to extort money from motorists.

They pleaded not guilty. The court set Aug. 2 for a defense motion to quash the indictments.

300 PICKETS JEER AT WRITS; BAR RETURN TO JOBS

More than three hundred Committee for Industrial Organization pickets hooted and jeered yesterday at an injunction order issued to restrain their interference with employés wishing to return to work at the Chicago Hardware Foundry company in North Chicago. All of the pickets were served with copies of the court order, but most of them tore up the writs. Their solid ranks around the plant forced forty-five employés to abandon their plan to resume work.

The plant has been closed since June 6, when a strike was called by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, an affiliate of the C. I. O., in protest against a 10 per cent wage cut. Other company employés, members of an independent union, want to return to their jobs, however, and on Saturday Judge Ralph J. Dady in the Lake County Circuit court at Waukegan issued a writ enjoining the C. I. O. unionists from blocking entrance to the plant.

Police Ride New Orleans Cabs, Block C. I. O. Strike

New Orleans, La., July 5.—(AP)—Heavy police details kept the Committee for Industrial Organization strike against a taxicab company and ten trucking firms in quiet channels today while a federal court hearing on the union's petition for an injunction against police interference was postponed until July 15. The Toye Brothers Yellow Cab company, against which the C. I. O. called a strike last week, resumed operations today with about 140 cabs, in each of which a uniformed policeman rode beside the driver.

Fashion Oddity

Hat worn by a woman in Hyde Park, London.

LONDON, July 5.—[Special.]—London, as one of the fashion capitals of the world, has beheld its share of unusual creations, but one of the oddest of the season is a hat worn by a woman strolling in Hyde Park recently. To observers it looked like a man's top hat that had been stamped on and crushed.

DEMAND TROOPS TO OPEN MAYTAG FACTORY IN IOWA

Des Moines, Ia., July 5.—[Special.]—A delegation of business men from Newton, Ia., today demanded of Gov. Nels Kraschel that he use National Guardsmen if necessary to open the Maytag Washing Machine company plant to employés who want to work.

"The business men of Newton have definitly decided that Newton is too small a town to have both the Maytag plant and the C. I. O., and in deciding which we would rather have, we have decided definitly that it is the Maytag plant," declared F. L. Drake, president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce and a member of the delegation here.

The Maytag plant has been closed since May 9 through a strike voted by the C. I. O. union.

Four hundred C. I. O. members held an eight day sitdown strike in the plant to prevent 600 members of a back to work movement from breaking the strike by returning to their jobs. The sitdowners were ordered from the plant last Friday night by Gov. Kraschel.

The sitdowners, however, agreed to evacuate only after the company had promised it would not attempt to reopen the factory until every effort at conciliation had been exhausted. The back to work leaders also promised they would not attempt to return to their jobs until the governor's conferences were ended.

LIST HIGHWAYS STILL CLOSED BY FLOOD WATERS

Flood waters in northeastern Illinois were still receding yesterday, but the Chicago Motor club reported that several main highways leading to Wisconsin remain closed. Included are U. S. 41 near Willow road, Illinois 59 between Fox Lake and Antioch, and Grand avenue between Illinois 59 and Lake Villa. U. S. 12 is open only to one way trafic between Fox Lake and Illinois 30. All detours, it was reported, are in good condition and motorists were little inconvenienced by them during the holidays.

JOBLESS YOUTHS PAINTING WOLF OUT OF PICTURE

100 to Be Stenciling Curb Numbers in Week.

Pity the poor wolf! He will find slim pickings this summer at the doors of unemployed young men who are rallying with mounting enthusiasm to the novel self-help standard raised by a fellow wolf-baiter, Ralph Baker.

Last night thirteen of the newest recruits to the Baker enterprise met in his home at 4449 Malden avenue to take lessons in their new job. And judging from the flood of applications which continue to pour in, Baker will have nearly 100 industrious men working by next week.

Paint Way Out of Depression.

Their income, as described last Saturday in THE TRIBUNE, comes from painting street numbers on the curb in front of a house with illuminating paint so that the numerals may be easily seen at night.

One man paints the black background, the second stencils the address, and a third makes collections, which are voluntary. With the approval of Mayor Henry Penfield, Baker started a crew of nine a week ago in Evanston, and met with instantaneous success.

His collectors can ask for no more than twenty-five cents. Any unemployed man, young or old, can join the work on a share and share alike basis, each crew of seven paying Baker 25 per cent. Each man averages about $5 net a day.

Housewives Pleased.

Housewives are enthusiastic, Baker said. Thirty-two have written him requesting numbers be painted on their curbs. Others have written commending him and his assistants for beating the depression with initiative and imagination.

But the greatest enthusiasm comes from the men themselves. One Evanston student at the University of Missouri pleaded to be taken on, declaring that he was not afraid to work, and work hard.

"I'm sure I'll find it more pleasant than being a real estate tax expert," said one of last night's painting pupils, Robert Dolan, 25 years old, of 6336 North Claremont avenue.

Beats Odd Job Work.

"I've done odd jobs for the last six months while studying at an extension university," declared another, Mark Walsh, 22, of 3517 North Wilton avenue. Jim Dwyer, 25, of 4454 Magnolia avenue, another recruit, declared that $5 a day is better than being an itinerant musician.

Jobless musicians, needy students, tax experts, butchers, bakers, and candlestick makers. They believe in the Baker plan, which has only two requirements, honesty and a willingness to work hard.

Rogers Park is next on the schedule for new curb numbers. And then Baker will branch out into other residential sections of the city and suburbs.

$150,000 Trafic Light Project Is Recommended

Expenditure of $150,000 from Chicago's share of the motor fuel tax fund for the instalation of new trafic signals on the west side and synchronization of existing lights, was recommended yesterday by the city council finance committee. The matter was introduced by Ald. John A. Massen [48th], chairman of the council committee on trafic and public safety.

THE MASSACRE Chicago's 1938 Trafic Toll

More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

ADMITS CASHING CHECKS STOLEN IN DEPOT HOLDUP

A man who said he was James R. Moran, alias Gordon Osburn, 35 years old, 3005 Throop street, pleaded guilty yesterday at Ann Arbor, Mich., to cashing American Express company checks which were taken early Friday morning in a holdup of the Northwestern railway station at Davis street in Evanston.

Moran denied he was involved in the robbery, asserting that the checks were given to him by a fellow traveler he knew only as Jack. He admitted, however, that he had forged and cashed a number of them along U. S. route 12 between Chicago and Ann Arbor. Sentence in the case was delayed until police can determine whether he was the holdup man.

Lewis W. Bergeron, ticket agent, and Paul Anhalt, a baggage man, were alone in the station when a gunman entered and forced them to turn over $100 in cash and $7,000 in checks and money orders.

GASOLINE TRUCK BURNS IN CRASH; TRAFIC BLOCKED

Trafic on busy Ashland avenue at Fulton street was blocked for more than an hour late yesterday afternoon when a truck and double tank trailer loaded with 6,500 gallons of gasoline caught fire after crashing into a truck loaded with 600 watermelons.

Flames from the gasoline rose 200 feet and melted the trolley wires of the Ashland avenue car line. Policemen and firemen who hurried to the scene had great difficulty curbing the fire and protecting the melons which were hurled to the street in the collision.

Dozens of boys who gathered defied the police and seized the melons. They were not routed until firemen turned streams of water on them. Even so, most of the undamaged fruit was stolen.

John Blackovich of Whiting was the driver of the gasoline truck. He said the accident occurred when the trailer became disconnected. Milton Pearlman, 1507 South Avers avenue, was the melon merchant.

All hydrants in the neighborhood were kept open during the night flushing the gasoline through the city sewers to avoid the possibility of an explosion from accumulated fumes.

KILLED BY TRUCK ON SOUTH SIDE STREET CORNER

Barney Hodo, 30 years old, colored, was struck and killed by a truck yesterday at 39th and La Salle streets. His home was in Detroit. The driver was Michael Bauers of 4411 Kimball avenue.

Herbert Mitchell, colored, of 3233 Rhodes avenue, was pursued and arrested yesterday by police who said he fled after his car had injured Frank Scott, 21 years old, of 1245 Church street. The accident occurred at Western avenue and 99th street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 412 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 318 were killed in Chicago, where 9,254 were injured in the same period.

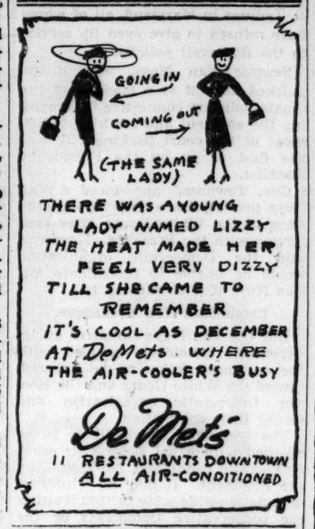

POLICE EXAGGERATE, HE SAYS; SPEED ONLY 75 MILES AN HOUR

Virgil Hollett was unperturbed by the stories the police told about him in the Berwyn police court yesterday until they said he was speeding 81 miles an hour when they caught him. Then he called a halt. It was only 75 miles an hour, he assured Magistrate Frank Pavek.

Hollett is 31 years old. He lives at 4740 Kenmore avenue. The police said he was intoxicated when they arrested him June 13 after a three mile chase.

Magistrate Pavek ordered him not to drive his car for a year, and continued the case until July 11 to ask the Berwyn safety council for a recommendation on punishment.

Accused of reckless driving, Alfred Payne, 52 years old, colored, of 210 East 54th street, was sentenced to five days in jail yesterday by Judge Michael G. Kasper in Safety court.

INDIANA REBELS JAR ROOSEVELT PURGE PROGRAM

neys northward, interest will attach to what he says and does, if anything, to circumvent the renomination of Democratic Senator Walter F. George in Georgia, Democratic Senator Ellison D. Smith in South Carolina, and Democratic Senator Millard E. Tydings in Maryland, all of whom have refused to give even lip service to the Roosevelt policies.

Senator Van Nuys, who distinguished himself as a member of the senate judiciary committee in composing the eloquent and scathing indictment of the court packing bill, was the first to go on the President's blacklist.

Gov. Townsend announced a Van Nuys proscription a year ago on the steps of the White House after conferring with the President. Townsend said the Democratic organization would be unable to renominate Mr. Van Nuys if it should try to.

Establishes New Technique.

But the Van Nuys threat of an independent candidacy, coupled with the enormous following he enlisted, routed the White House and the Hoosier Democratic organization and forced their submission.

The technique is one likely to be adopted with equal success by other Democratic candidates blacklisted by the President. It may be witnessed on a nation-wide scale in 1940 if either the conservative Democrats or the administration's high command find it necessary to threaten a third party move in the course of the fight for control of the national convention.

A potent factor in the surrender to Van Nuys, according to the understanding here, was cabled instructions from Paul V. McNutt, United States high commissioner in the Philippines and Democratic boss of Indiana, to renominate Mr. Van Nuys.

When Mr. McNutt returned to this country several months ago and launched his boom for the 1940 nomination for President it was predicted he would make peace with Senator Van Nuys in order to avert a split in the Indiana Democratic organization that would jeopardize his chances of getting a solid delegation to the national convention from his state.

NEW YORK MAYOR JUST PASSES UP FAIR'S CITY HALL

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia was ready today to move into his new summer city hall in the uncompleted New York City building on the world's fair grounds, but—

There was no welcoming committee on hand to greet him; no flags flew above the building, and work on the air conditioning had been halted by a strike.

There was no rug on the floor where his office ought to be, no furniture in the room, the lights wouldn't work, the water coolers didn't operate, and the washroom doors were wired shut.

He went away.

Beaten Outside Court

Bernard Rosenthal leaving courtroom after he was beaten by David Rosenthal. Behind Rosenthal is Gertrude Perzov, a witness in case.

Judge John J. Lupe yesterday ordered the arrest for contempt of court of David Rosenthal, 3648 Lexington street, after he was informed Rosenthal had struck Bernard Rosenthal, 3653 Division street, during a dispute in the corridor outside the courtroom. The two men are not related.

David Rosenthal had appeared in court for hearing on the separate maintenance suit brought by his estranged wife, Anne. He accused Bernard Rosenthal of being overly friendly with his wife.

Judge Lupe issued a writ to restrain Rosenthal from molesting his wife and ordered him to pay her $10 a week in support money. After all left the court, David Rosenthal was accused of striking the other man and then fleeing.

CANADIAN TORIES SPLIT OVER WAR AID TO BRITAIN

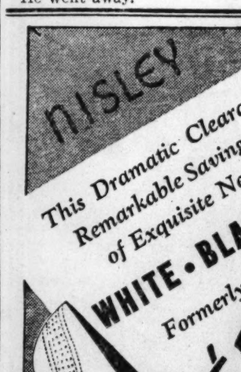

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., July 5.—Canadian coöperation with Great Britain in the empire's rearmament and preparedness program threatens to rock the dominion, it was disclosed today. The imperialistic Conservative party convention here is divided over the matter.

Premier W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal, announced on the last day of parliament that Canada would not allow Britain to establish Royal Air Force flying schools in Canada. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, hotly retorted he would fight an election on the issue. He is making it the keynote of the Conservative conference which opened today.

Arthur Meighen, the Conservative party's leader in the senate, brought the convention to its feet cheering with a denunciation of Mackenzie King's British air school edict. However, Conservative delegates from the province of Quebec are so opposed to a tieup with Britain in case of war that many may return home without waiting for the election of a party leader on Thursday.

VAN NUYS LOOKS FOR CLEAR FIELD IN SENATE RACE

Accepts Townsend Olive Branch in Good Faith.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—[Special.]—Although vary of what appears to be an olive branch extended toward United States Senator Frederick Van Nuys by Gov. M. Clifford Townsend, Van Nuys' strategists were inclined today to think their candidate will have clear sailing. The governor yesterday reversed himself and invited the senator to seek renomination in the Democratic state convention.

The reports his chieftains made over the long distance telephone to the senator, who is resting at Walloon Lakes, Mich., apparently pleased him greatly.

"From what my friends tell me," he announced late in the day, "it looks like an effort will be made to renominate me without opposition. I am returning to Indianapolis tomorrow to view the situation at first hand, after which I expect to make a statement—probably on Thursday."

Governor Leads Purgers.

Until yesterday the senator had been slated for the discard by the Townsend-McNutt-Minton machine because of his opposition to President Roosevelt's Supreme court packing scheme and the government reorganization bill. The governor had been outspoken and it had been understood that the convention next Tuesday—in which Townsend will control 85 per cent of the delegates—would nominate Henry F. Shricker present lieutenant governor.

Senator Van Nuys announced he would run independently by placing his name on the ballot by petition, and, on the surface at least, appeared less worried than his opponents expected.

Preceding the governor's invitation to the senator, rumbles had been heard here that many of the Democratic candidates were fearful of the possible popularity of Van Nuys' independent candidacy next fall and the effect it would have on their own chances.

Loopholes in Statement.

The governor's statement, however, was so worded as to leave some doubt whether he intended to support the senator in the convention.

Samuel D. Jackson, Fort Wayne attorney and for a time the leading candidate of the Townsend machine, withdrew his candidacy and said he would support what he called "the harmony movement" at the convention.

Alex Gordon, another avowed candidate, said the governor's "peace offering was the only step possible unless the state administration expected to take it on the chin in the fall. I have felt for some time that Senator Van Nuys would be presented to the convention."

RADIO ORDERED TO GIVE RIVAL NOMINEES EQUAL TIME ON AIR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—The Federal Communications commission tonight promulgated rules governing broadcasting of political speeches, under which it asked equal treatment of rival candidates and political parties.

Under the new regulations a station may refuse time to all political candidates for an office, but if broadcasting privileges are granted to one candidate, equal time must be offered to his rivals.

The rule, observers said, will benefit the listening public because it tends to make radio stations chary of allowing any one candidate time, because they would be forced to give equal time to all his rivals. The rule applies to all national, state, county, and municipal office seekers.

Rates shall be uniform for all candidates, the FCC rules.

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

MEXICO CITY, July 5.—John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and other labor leaders of the United States are coming to Mexico in September to aid the projected "Latin-American Workers' federation." This was revealed by Lombardo Toledamo, Mexican labor leader, in a speech here today. The new federation is being formed with the specific idea of buttressing President Lazaro Cardenas' campaign against "economic imperialism" in the rest of Latin-America and is intended to include the labor elements of all Latin-American nations.

EXPERTS PREDICT 158,000,000 AS U. S. POPULATION PEAK

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt made public tonight a report predicting that the American population, after attaining a peak of 158,000,000 by 1988, would dwindle thereafter and would consist largely of old, or middle-aged people.

The prediction was made by the committee on population problems and was transmitted to the White House by the President's national resources committee.

The experts estimated that between 1935 and 1975 the number of persons 20 to 44 years of age would increase only six per cent, whereas the number 45 to 64 years old would increase 69 per cent. Persons over 65, now comprising about six per cent of the population, will constitute 15 per cent of it in 1980. People under 20, now about 37 per cent of the population, will be only about 25 per cent in 1980.

HORNER TO SIGN BILLS CHANGING RELIEF SETUP

Springfield, Ill., July 5.—[Special.]—Gov. Henry Horner today indicated his early approval of bills placing the administration of relief under the direction of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission. The bills were passed at the two concurrent special session of the legislature which adjourned last Friday.

The bills provide that township supervisors and county commissioners will continue to oversee the administration of relief but will be subject to IERC rules. Additional jobs for relief staf employés are assured by one bill, which permits the expenditure of 10 per cent of relief funds for administration. The previous limitation was 8 per cent in Chicago and 5 per cent downstate.

SOUTH NO. 1 U. S. ECONOMIC TASK, SAYS PRESIDENT

Unbalance Can and Must Be Righted, He Adds.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—The No. 1 problem of the nation is the adjustment of the economic unbalance of the south, President Roosevelt asserted today.

"It is an unbalance that can and must be righted for the sake of the south and of the nation," he informed southern leaders who conferred today on southern economic problems with Lowell Mellett, director of the National Emergency council.

Mr. Roosevelt did not comment upon the effect that the new wages and hours law may have upon southern industry, but there was heated discussion among the leaders concerning the act which soon goes into effect, enforcing minimum wages of 25 cents an hour and a 44 hour week the first year of its life.

Mentions Industrial Question.

The President did say that one of the great problems in the south is that of labor and employment. He spoke also of problems "growing out of the new industrial era and, again, of absentee ownership of the new industries."

The President has not yet appointed the administrator and members of the board which will carry out the provisions of the act. A significant White House visitor today was President Sidney Hillman, radical leader of the C. I. O. Amalgamated Clothing Workers, who outlined to the President his ideas of the sort of man who ought to be appointed administrator. Hillman said he hoped the President would appoint an administrator before he leaves on his transcontinental trip Thursday night.

Cites Effect on Nation.

"It is my conviction," the President wrote to Mellett, "that the south presents right now the nation's number one economic problem—the nation's problem, not merely the south's. For we have an economic unbalance in the nation as a whole, due to this very condition of the south.

"The purpose of your conference is to produce a restatement of the economic conditions of the south and their relation to the rest of the country that we may do something about it."

The task, Mr. Roosevelt said, embraces wasted or neglected resources of land and water; abuses suffered by the soil; need for cheap fertilizer and cheap power, and problems presented by the population itself.

MARRIAGE TRADE DROPS SHARPLY AT CROWN POINT

Marriage licenses were issued to 2,074 couples in Crown Point, Ind., during the first six months of 1938, compared with 3,348 in the same period of 1937, Deputy County Clerk Walter Mybeck of Crown Point said yesterday. He would not disclose the figures by months.

The business of issuing marriage licenses in Crown Point, long a major industry there, fell off sharply after the Supreme court last January upheld a statute 86 years old. This old law forbade county clerks to issue a marriage license to a woman not a resident of the county in which it is issued.

A prospective bride requesting a license in Crown Point now has to sign an affidavit that she is a resident of Lake county.

Experimenting with chemicals in his basement laboratory, John Smidl, 17 years old, was severely burned about the face and hands yesterday when the combination he had mixed exploded in his home at 6444 26th street, Berwyn. The young man was graduated last month from J. Sterling Morton High school in Cicero, where he majored in chemistry.

Circuit Court Judge J. Owen Knotts filed his opinion today, granting Dr. France's request for divorce on ground of five year separation.

ROOSEVELT WILL PRESS DICTATOR BILL NEXT YEAR

Confident of Success, He Assures Reporters.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today revealed himself as determined as ever in his insistence that a bill be passed giving him dictatorial powers to reorganize the government.

Not in the least discouraged by the defeat of the measure in the last congress, the President said he was confident that he would be successful in his aims at the next session.

Believes Country Wants Bill.

The country undoubtedly wants a government reorganization bill, he declared at his press conference, and the next congress will realize this. The congressmen who voted to recommit the measure favored at least 90 per cent of the bill, he said, and opposed only 10 per cent of it.

Under those circumstances, he said, he was sure that a bill could be worked out next year. It was merely a question of every one getting together, he said.

Want Accounting Split.

Asked if he still favored abolition of the general accounting office, Mr. Roosevelt declared tartly that he never had recommended that. He said that he wanted the functions of the accounting office split in two—the government to check expenditures as they were made, and congress to check them at the end of the year.

The system advocated in the bill was merely that used by most corporations, he insisted, which had an expert accounting of operations at the end of the year.

The government is not going to wait forty years to reorganize, Mr. Roosevelt concluded on a challenging note.

BRIDGE WATCHMAN DROWNED.

East Moline, Ill., July 5.—[Special.]—Harold Cathcart, 39 years old, township constable employed as a watchman on the Campbells island bridge project here, was drowned in the Mississippi river today when a rowboat upset. His companion, William Simmons, saved himself by clinging to the boat.

ORDERS RECOUNT IN 13TH DISTRICT; RYAN VOTE GAINS

After a count of ballots in 51 precincts of the 13th senatorial district showed a gain of 250 votes for State Representative John G. Ryan, who was defeated for renomination in the last Democratic primary by Adams S. Mioduski, Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski yesterday ordered a recount in all 403 precincts in the district. Ryan was defeated by 140 votes on the results of the original canvass. He is contesting the nomination of Mioduski.

CLAIM OF $182,788 FILED AGAINST SWEITZER ESTATE

Assistant State's Attorney Jacob Shamberg in behalf of Cook county yesterday filed in Probate court a claim of $182,788 against the estate of the late Robert M. Sweitzer, ousted county treasurer. The amount represents part of the shortage of $533,817 found in Sweitzer's accounts as county clerk. On June 28 the county recovered $228,911 from the United States Fidelity and Guarantee company, his surety. Sweitzer died last April 6. He left an estate estimated at $25,000.

POLICEMEN TAKE OFF COATS; HEAT SOARS ABOVE 80

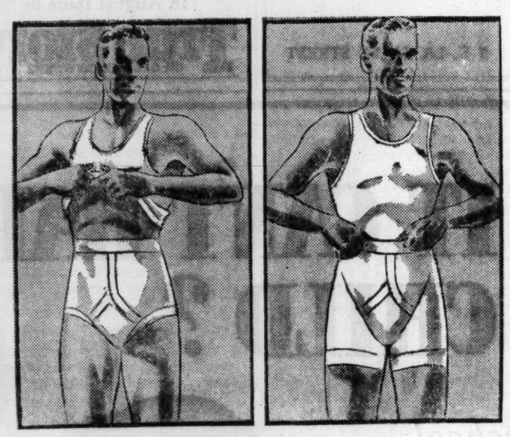

By order of Police Commissioner Allman all uniformed policemen yesterday doffed their coats and donned their blue tropical worsted shirts, which are standard summer wear. There is no fixed date for the change. The commissioner sets it when the weather becomes warm. Usually the police resume wearing coats about Sept. 15.

Temperatures yesterday crossed the 80 mark. Forecaster C. A. Donnel said that the weather today would be unsettled, with a shower or two likely. Maximum readings near 100 degrees were recorded in parts of the central west yesterday.

SPANISH REBELS TAKE SEAPORT IN VALENCIA DRIVE

Burriana Captured After Hand to Hand Fighting.

HENDAYE, France [At the Spanish Frontier], July 5.—(AP)—Spanish insurgent forces fought their way down the Mediterranean coast toward the fortified town of Nules today, hewing a path through stubborn government lines by dint of their superiority in planes and mechanized land equipment.

Sweeping through blasted orange groves, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Galicians opened the way by capturing the exporting town of Burriana, twenty miles north of Sagunto, while another column approached Villavieja, to the west, in an effort to force a ring around Nules. Insurgent dispatches reported the capture of Villavieja, but a government communique said the defending lines had held firm despite a terrific battering by the attackers.

Nules is on the Castellon-Valencia highway, fourteen miles north of Sagunta, where this highway joins the one from Teruel to continue as one road to Valencia.

Bomb and Shell Loyalists.

Today's fighting was a repetition of that of the previous few days which witnessed almost ceaseless artillery fire, tank charges, and airplane attacks.

Insurgent headquarters said government forces suffered heavy losses and 2,000 surrendered in the drive on Villavieja.

Heavy fighting also continued southeast of Teruel where the insurgents said they had shattered government lines and occupied more than 1,100 square miles since Saturday. In that sector the government threw its forces into a series of counterattacks yesterday and last night, but at dawn today the insurgents again opened up on them with artillery and planes and resumed their advance.

Seek to Trap Foes.

Thousands of government troops defending positions in the Universales mountains were in danger of being trapped, the insurgents said.

Burriana fell after 90 minutes of hand-to-hand fighting, preceded by a heavy artillery bombardment of the town started at dawn.

Fighting raged along a fifteen mile crescent shaped front from Burriana to Eslida, with the center curving northward through Artana. The insurgents asserted their advance gave them positions dominating the Espadan mountains. Villavieja is situated on the eastern flank of these mountains.

Reports from Barcelona said eighteen persons were killed and forty injured when insurgent planes raided Badalona, northern suburb of Barcelona, for the third time within a week.

Raid Village on Coast.

Dispatches from Madrid said four persons were killed and twenty injured in an insurgent air raid on the coastal village of Almenara, six miles north of Sagunto. Nine trimotor planes dropped 150 bombs in the attack, ten of them hitting in Almenara. The village of Los Valles near Sagunto also was bombed but the raiders were driven off by anti-aircraft artillery before they could attack Sagunto.

The defense ministery at Barcelona announced government planes attacked an insurgent airport at Caude, near Teruel, yesterday, the bombs starting fires after direct hits on field hangars where twenty-one insurgent planes were based.

Madrid again was subjected to shelling this afternoon. For more than an hour shells dropped into the Santo Domingo and southwestern sections of the city, while a few hit the central area.

Diver and Photographer to Explore Coral Forest

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 5.—Capt. John D. Craig, deep-sea photographer, sailed for Ciudao Trujillo today to join Max Nohl, a diver, to explore and photograph in color a coral forest off the north coast of the Dominican Republic. This forest has been known to exist since 1853. Craig said that from available data he expected to find coral trees seventy-five feet high and rich in color.

NATIONS APPROVE PLAN TO RID SPAIN OF ALIEN TROOPS

Success of Scheme Up to Enemies in War.

LONDON, July 5.—(AP)—Withdrawal of foreign soldiers fighting in Spain hinged tonight upon the approval by insurgents and the Spanish government of a $13,750,000 British plan for their evacuation.

The full nonintervention committee gave its assent to the scheme by unanimous vote—the original twenty-seven nations represented have been reduced to twenty-six since Germany's annexation of Austria—and requested Great Britain to gain the consent of Burgos and Barcelona, the insurgent and government capitals. The assent of Gen. Francisco Franco, rebel commander in chief, was forecast.

Details of the plan will be sent to both capitals tomorrow and will be revealed in a seventy page white paper to be published Friday.

Pay to Get Work Started.

Britain, France, Germany, and Italy each paid $62,500 to get the work started. Soviet Russia still refused to pay a full fifth share of the evacuation expenses, contending the governments of the foreigners fighting in Spain should pay the expense of transporting their own nationals home.

The plan's adoption was hailed in official quarters as a long step toward smoothing Europe's ruffled peace, and incidentally toward putting into effect the British-Italian friendship pact of April 16. The treaty becomes effective when a "settlement" has been reached in Spain.

See Long Job Ahead.

The committee had wrangled almost a year over the problem, however, and great obstacles still intervened.

Even if both sides in Spain consent, the ponderous procedure outlined would require several months before actual evacuation takes place, it was believed.

The question of appointing members of the commissions to be sent to Spain to count the alien soldiers on each side was to be taken up later.

The scheme embraced granting both sides belligerent rights after "substantial withdrawal" and reëstablishment of international sea and land controls to enforce the nonintervention committee's regulations.

Before the committee met Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax, Richard Austen Butler, parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs, and Sir Alexander Cadogan, permanent undersecretary for foreign affairs, held a conference upon the subject of Franco's attitude toward the withdrawal plan.

500,000 REFUGEES JAM BARCELONA; FLEE INSURGENTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 5.—More than half a million men, women, and children fleeing before the advance of Spanish rebel forces have reached Barcelona, it was disclosed today during a conversation between Julio Alvarez del Vayo, foreign minister of government Spain, and Georges Bonnet, French foreign minister.

Other hundreds of thousands, cut off from a flight northward, are crowding into Valencia. Del Vayo's problem, as laid before Bonnet, is how to feed and care for the refugees, and he asked France's help.

Army Leaders Confer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 5.—Gen. Alberto Pariani, chief of the Italian general staf, was closeted with German army leaders in the war ministry today and yesterday. Well informed sources said the Italian and German army chiefs discussed the Spanish civil war and preparations for joining in a program of action should the Barcelona government "carry out its threats of bombing Italian and German ships or cities."

NEW PATH OPENS FOR JAPS' DRIVE AGAINST HANKOW

Reach Lake Poyang; Kill 1,000 Fleeing Chinese.

SHANGHAI, July 5.—(AP)—Japanese commanders gathered their forces today, following upon the capture of Hukow, for an intensified drive toward Hankow, China's provisional capital 150 miles up the Yangtze river.

Gen. Von Falkenhausen, German military adviser to China, leaves Hankow.

Having smashed their way up the Yangtze for 450 miles, the Japanese at Hukow were in position to push a double attack—one directly up river between fortified river banks to Hankow; the other south across Poyang lake, itself now at high water, to a major Chinese air base at Nanchang, 100 miles away. From Nanchang they could move west to cut the Hankow-Canton railway and threaten Hankow from the south.

1,000 Chinese Slaughtered.

Naval commanders announced that a squadron of warships reached Hukow, after a major breaching of the Matowchen rock and timber booms, twenty-five miles down river, where Chinese shore batteries and machine gun units made a prolonged stand before admitting withdrawal of their major forces on June 30.

Describing the action about Hukow, a Japanese military communique today said 1,000 Chinese soldiers attempting to escape into Poyang lake in junks were slaughtered. Hastily drawn up artillery fired at the frail craft point blank, Japanese said.

As the warships approached Hukow through mine-laden, flood-stage waters of the Yangtze, Japanese said they shelled and silenced Chinese artillery batteries on the north bank.

Broken Dikes a Peril.

Fifteen miles up river from Hukow, Chinese were asserted to be strewing mines above Kiukiang, where they have erected another series of booms, and to have mobilized high speed torpedo boats for action against the warships.

Chinese reports said bursting dikes on the north bank of the river in the vicinity of Kiukiang were causing a new flood menace to Japanese. Japanese military officials declared the Chinese had deliberately pierced the dikes as a defensive measure, but Chinese said it had been impossible to maintain the dikes in the face of the Japanese military offensive.

With the war in China approaching its first anniversary, the Chinese government proclaimed July 7 henceforth a national Memorial day marking the outbreak of hostilities at Marco Polo bridge near Peking.

German Experts Depart.

HONGKONG, July 5.—(AP)—Persons in close touch with the Chinese government declared today that Chinese-German relations have become "even more serious than they appear."

Departure of the German general, Baron Alexander von Falkenhausen, and twenty-eight of his assistant military advisers to the Chinese government from Hankow today was judged only incidental in development of the situation. It ended a nine-year period of German military association with the Chinese central government.

There was a general belief in diplomatic circles that the Italian-German-Japanese anti-communism pact would be tightened in the far east, that Germany soon would make further moves to show her friendship for Japan, and that France and Britain would balance this by more obvious support to China—possibly financial.

It was predicted that Germany, in any future gestures toward Japan, would act on the theory that Nippon's position needs strengthening in the far east, particularly in regard to soviet Russia.

Envoy on Way Home.

It was believed that Germany's ambassador to China, Dr. Oskar P. Trautmann, now at Hongkong on his way home to report on the situation, would not return to Hankow and would not be replaced. Some German military supplies still are entering China to fill existing contracts, but the flow is diminishing and is expected to cease entirely in the near future.

Most recent evidences of the French-British attitude have been the two countries' warning to Japan to keep off the Chinese Island of Hainan, off the South China coast, and French occupation of the strategic Paracel islands about 125 miles southeast of Hainan, forestalling a Japanese move in that direction.

Japanese have reported details of a contract for construction of a railroad between French Indo-China and the South China province of Kwangsi, and there were unsubstantiated reports that French advisers might replace Gen. von Falkenhausen's staf.

WOUNDED SLAYER OF INDIANA POLICEMAN WINS HEARING DELAY

Michigan City, Ind., July 5.—(AP)—Arraignment of Orelle J. Easton on a murder charge was postponed today until Thursday. He is accused of slaying of Indiana State Policeman W. R. Dixon ten days ago.

The arraignment was postponed at the request of Paul A. Krueger, attorney for Easton, who said he needed more time to prepare a defense.

Easton is being treated at the state prison for bullet wounds received when he was captured near Joliet, Ill., in a gun fight with officers in which his brother, Clarence Easton, was killed.

Rioters Burn Jap Goods; Attack Factory in Malaya

PENANG, Straits Settlements, July 5.—(AP)—The importation of Japanese soy beans into Malaya today caused a series of disorders here. Rioters burned the signboard and boxes of soap belonging to a Penang factory. Later a mob seized Japanese goods and set them afire.

FIVE JEWS SLAIN BY TERRORISTS IN THE HOLY LAND

JERUSALEM, July 5.—(AP)—Five Jews were killed and five wounded today in scattered attacks by terrorists. Three were killed and one wounded as they left Ainvered settlement for work in orange groves. A Jewish father and son were slain near the temple area in the old city.

Bystander Saves Woman from Drowning in Lake

Miss Rai Kimmel, 27 years old, 933 Belmont avenue, was saved from drowning last evening in Belmont harbor in what, park police said, was a suicide attempt. Everett Burbes, 551 Stratford place, saw Miss Kimmel waist deep in the water, rushed in, and pulled her to shore, where police administered first aid. She was taken home.

JAIL EX-AUSTRIAN POLICE MAJOR FOR BEATING 100 NAZIS

KLAGENFURT, Germany, July 5.—(AP)—Joseph Wunsch, a former major of Austrian police, today was sentenced to three years' imprisonment in the first major trial under the Nazi régime in Austria of officials of the fallen Schuschnigg government.

He and other former provincial officials of Carinthia were accused of having "sadistically beaten and otherwise maltreated" more than 100 Austrian Nazis under arrest at Klagenfurt in 1934, when their party was illegal in Austria.

Joseph Roesch, former police inspector, was sentenced to 30 months in prison. Other sentences are expected soon.

RETIRED FARMER DIES.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

IN THE YEAR 8113

By CALEB

IN THE solid granite of a Georgia mountain scientists and educators are planting a store of knowledge intended for whatever colleagues of theirs may exist on earth six thousand odd years hence.

Vast funds of information about our present world are being engraved in heavy, wear-resistant steel—together with an ingenious device to help in a reconstruction of the English language in case it is no longer used or understood. All this is to be stored in a room hewn from solid rock, sealed with heavy steel doors.

Plans are to distribute more engraved steel plates among the world's great museums so that somewhere a survivor in A. D. 8113 will be aware of this cache of knowledge and uncover it. The year 8113 was chosen because it is 6,177 years from the time the plan was launched. The first recorded date in history—the beginning of the Egyptian calendar—was some 6,177 years earlier.

Into what sort of world will these plates emerge? What manner of man will bend his intelligence to the task of understanding their messages—assuming that all these plans are carried out? We stand exactly midway in the path of history contemplated in the ambitious scheme these scientists have launched.

Man has come far in 6,177 years; where will he be at the end of 6,177 more? And what difference does it make—considering the immediate and pressing problems of existence in 1938? But it may do us good to wonder a bit about the state of things a few hundred generations hence.

One thing is certain: no matter what the state of affairs may be in 8113, there will be those who describe the period as "troublous and fraught with grievous problems." Probably they will be right because if there are no problems in that year, then the world, and mankind with it, will have come to a standstill.

Problems—and their solution—build character in the individual and the race. There have been tough problems and stirring times ever since the Egyptian calendar was started—and there will be problems six thousand years hence.

Unless civilization continues steadily to have problems, man will be not one whit further ahead in 8113 than he is in 1938. This is not to dismiss pressing daily problems with a wave of the hand. Rather, it is to recognize them for what they are—an essential means to the essential end of progress.

HAMMER MORON SENTENCED ON 3D OF RAPE CHARGES

Faces 28½ Prison Years Unless Paroled.

CRIMINAL COURT.

George Heinold, manslaughter, sentenced to one to fourteen years in prison by Judge Joseph Sabath.

Louis Serraille, who has confessed raping fifty women in the last two years, was sentenced yesterday to twenty years in prison by Judge Joseph Sabath for raping a young woman, 22 years old.

Louis Serraille.

Because the judge ordered the sentence served consecutively with two other sentences, legal authorities said it would be twenty-eight years and six months before the rapist can hope to go free unless he receives clemency from the parole board, which has twice given him paroles. Serraille is 42 years old.

Woman Tells of Attack.

He waived his right to a jury trial yesterday, but pleaded not guilty. His young woman accuser identified him and told how he dragged her into his car near 44th street and Drexel boulevard last April 8 as she was returning from night school. Police told of his confession, which he insisted was obtained by force. Serraille was represented by Benjamin Bachrach, public defender.

Serraille, a chauffeur, was arrested May 15 and identified by three women who accused him of beating them with a hammer in efforts to force them into his car. The hammer was found on the car seat. Serraille said he had been too much under the influence of liquor in the few hours in which the attacks took place to know what he was doing.

Follows Crime Formula.

He subsequently confessed that he had made a practice of forcing women into his car and raping them.

Investigation disclosed that Serraille had been sent to prison in 1928 for a sex crime. While on parole he was convicted of raping an overseas war nurse and sentenced to twenty-five years in prison. His first parole was revoked. The Illinois Supreme court later reversed the twenty-five year conviction, and Serraille was again paroled.

Determined to pile up enough sentences to keep him in jail for many years, the state prosecuted Serraille on charges of assault to kill two of the women he beat with the hammer. Judge Sabath imposed two sentences of one to fourteen years after juries had convicted Serraille on June 21 on June 22. The estimated total of twenty-eight and one-half years' minimum punishment, legal authorities said, is based upon maximum time off for good behavior.

Alcatraz for Women to Be Built Near Dallas

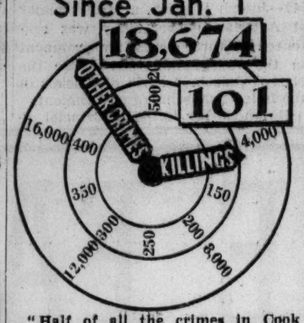

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(AP)—Attorney General Homer S. Cummings chose a site near Dallas, Tex., today for construction of a $1,700,000 federal prison for women. The institution, which will be in the nature of an Alcatraz for women, will be erected promptly, Cummings said. It will house 500 women, many of whom now are confined in state and municipal jails and reformatories.

3 STEPDAUGHTERS SEEK MERCY FOR MOTHER'S KILLER

Three step-daughters helped send George Heinold to prison for one to fourteen years yesterday for shooting their mother to death. And then all three joined in a vain plea for clemency. Heinold is 67 years old. On April 21, he shot his wife, Anna, 63 years old, as she lay in a sick bed in their home at 7201 South Campbell avenue. She died soon afterward. Judge Joseph Sabath heard the case without a jury in Criminal court. The slain woman's children all said Heinold had been drinking heavily because of despondency at being unable to obtain work, but that prior to that he had been kind to the family.

SHOOTS SLAYER OF HIS FATHER; PLACED IN JAIL

Harlan, Ky., July 5.—(AP)—Lee Fleenor, 34 years old, former deputy sherif and one of the defendants in the London, Ky., labor conspiracy trial, was in jail here late today following the shooting of Charlie Reno, 40, of Molus. Sherif Clinton Ball said Fleenor, who testified last year before the La Follette civil liberties committee, was held on a charge of shooting and seriously wounding Reno.

State Highway Patrolman Lee White said he was informed Fleenor, slowing down the automobile he was driving, fired at Reno, who was pushing a truck. Fleenor, claiming self-defense, said he was driving back from the trial at London and had slowed up at Molus to buy cigarets. He said Reno fired at him from the truck and that he returned the fire.

Reno was convicted six years ago on a charge of slaying Fleenor's father, Bird Fleenor, then a deputy sherif. He was paroled after serving four years of his eight year sentence.

BROADEN DRIVE AGAINST SALES TAX CHEATERS

Prosecutor Confers with State Finance Chief.

Plans for broadening the current drive on evaders of the Illinois sales tax were discussed yesterday at a conference held by State's Attorney Courtney, State Finance Director Samuel Nudelman, and their assistants. The meeting was held in Courtney's office.

Courtney said that tax cheaters attempting to avoid examination of their records by corporate reorganizations will be a particular target of the drive. Many concerns, he said, have been dissolved and then reincorporated for the purpose of concealing sales records dating back as far as 1933. After reorganization, these concerns then start paying taxes.

Plan to Plug Loophole.

Closer coöperation between the prosecutor's office and the finance department is planned also to prevent tax cheaters from taking advantage of a section of the tax law which provides that testimony of retailers given before the finance department cannot be used against them in criminal proceedings.

Following the conference it was said that the finance department will not allow merchants suspected of fraudulent returns to obtain immunity by testifying at department hearings. These hearings, it was reported, will be confined to cases involving disputes on accounting computations without evidence of fraud.

Carry Campaign Downstate.

Finance Director Nudelman said last night that the campaign against tax evaders be carried downstate at once. Until now it has been concentrated in Cook county. Nudelman will return to Springfield today and there arrange for conferences with state's attorneys outside of Cook county.

"In justice to business men who have been paying the tax, I intend to ask downstate state's attorneys to give us the same whole-hearted support we received from Mr. Courtney," Nudelman said. "We want to prosecute all persons who wilfully evaded the tax."

20 SCHOOL POOLS OPEN; 250,000 TO USE THEM FREE

Swimming pools in nineteen of the city's public high schools and the Wright Junior college were opened yesterday for boys and girls from 10 to 18 years old. There will be no attendance charge. Last year, the first year the pools were opened for the summer, 125,000 used them. James B. McCahey, president of the board of education, estimates that number will be doubled this year. High school instructors will be in charge. The pools will be open for girls on Mondays and Tuesdays and for boys on Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays.

RESUME INQUIRY INTO KANSAS CITY BOMBINGS TODAY

Some on Grand Jury Are Faithful to Pendergast.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—[Special.]—The Jackson county grand jury, which is specifically charged with investigating the long siege of vandalism and racketeering in Kansas City, will reconvene tomorrow after a week's rest from a ten minute session.

The figure of Tom J. Pendergast, Democratic boss, whose machine controls the city manager government in Kansas City, has cast its potent shadow over the investigation.

The inquiry was started to root out the source of vandalism and sabotage which resulted in the bombing of a dozen factories in Kansas City and the smashing of hundreds of windows in business houses.

Police Drive Halts Destruction.

Flooded with complaints, police finally began a drive against the vandals, and the destruction ceased. Reputable labor union officers informed police they would coöperate in apprehending the vandals. A dozen or so persons were arrested and confessed some window smashings, but most of the damage never was explained.

When the grand jury reconvenes tomorrow its members, most of whom are dominated by the Pendergast machine, will spend the rest of the week looking into routine matters. Shannon Douglass, the foreman—a lawyer, insurance man, strong follower of Pendergast, and head of the organization's legal committee—said the racketeering phase of the inquiry will be put aside until Monday.

Demands Definite Mark.

"We are not going to start shooting at the moon," Douglass said, "but we are going to gain some definite ideas about what we are doing before we start.

By that, he explained, the jury would have the benefit of advice from Clif Langsdale, a labor lawyer, and P. E. Reeder, an employers' representative, both of whom were appointed in the dual capacities of special prosecutors and counselors for the investigation. This was the first time in many years that special prosecutors have been called in to help a state prosecutor in presenting evidence to a Jackson county grand jury.

The jury was impaneled Wednesday, weeks after police had ceased their investigation into the acts of vandalism and sabotage.

Dozen Unionists Sentenced.

A dozen or so small fry union workers had pleaded guilty to charges of malicious destruction of property—a misdemeanor—and had been given short sentences in jail.

The biggest blow struck by police was the apprehension of W. H. [Wally] Mahan, one time organizer of a clerks' union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Mahan's conduct, both in the treatment of union members and in efforts to intimidate employers, had been such that he was ousted by the union. W. W. Graves, the county prosecutor, recommended that charges of kidnaping be dropped against him, however, when he pleaded guilty of destroying property.

He was sentenced to a year in jail, although three witnesses, including the abduction victim, a union man, were prepared to testify that he took part in the kidnaping.

Called "Goat" Jury.

When the jury was impaneled and word of its membership filtered through the Jackson county courthouse it was described as a good "goat" jury. Pendergast followers are known as the goat faction, as opposed to the faction headed by Representative Joseph B. Shannon, whose lieges are known as the "rabbits."

In addition to Douglass, these men on the jury have been particularly faithful to Pendergast:

Martin Crowe, head of the Crowe Bakery company, a former marshal and a veteran Democratic worker in Pendergast's behalf.

W. B. Duke, president of the Glendale Beverage company, a former business associate of John Lazia, gang leader who was assassinated four years ago.

Earl K. Townsdin, a former member of the upper house of the city council and secretary of a savings and loan association headed by James M. Pendergast, a nephew of the boss.

L. R. [Jack] Tolliver, long an active member in Pendergast's organization.

Mrs. Genevieve George in court yesterday with Attorney Robert Romano.

It appeared yesterday that there would be a reconciliation between Mrs. Genevieve George of 1314 Devon avenue and her husband, William, whom she wounded last Saturday night in a tavern at 1422 Morse avenue. At first Mrs. George said her husband was wounded when he tried to take a gun away from her in the tavern but later admitted she shot him when he threatened to leave her. In Felony court yesterday Judge John J. Rooney continued until July 12 hearing on a charge of assault with intent to kill against Mrs. George so that her husband may be in court. He is recovering at the Physicians Memorial hospital.

RESERVOIR RUNS OVER; JAP CITY OF KOBE FLOODED

139 Die; Streets Under 8 Feet of Water.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, July 5.—The gigantic Nunobiki reservoir in the hills above Kobe, one of the largest cities of Japan, overflowed this morning flooding 50,000 houses in the eastern half of the city and drowning 139 persons in a few hours. Reports said 141 persons were missing. The flood followed torrential rains which also affected Osaka. Eight persons were dead there, five of them perishing when a school collapsed.

Arrow indicates Kobe, inundated by overflowed reservoir.

Muddy waters eight feet deep rushed down into the business section. Fragile wooden houses in the path were swept along with the current.

Rainfall Continues.

Structures in the busiest sections, such as Motomachi and Sannomiya, were flooded to the eaves. Citizens took refuge in department stores and other tall concrete buildings. The water was eight feet deep in many of these.

The rainstorms which swelled the Nunobiki reservoir to overflowing began in the Tokio area, then shifted southwestward. The downpour continued in Kobe and Osaka tonight. Rivers were rising rapidly and railway communications were disrupted.

The Nunobiki reservoir was completed in 1926 at a cost of 12,000,000 yen [currently about $3,471,600].

Quake, Storm Death Toll Is 500.

TOKIO, July 5.—(AP)—Reports compiled today indicated the toll of dead in two days of storms and earthquakes in Japan last week may total 500. The emperor and empress granted money for relief funds.

DUCE SIGNS TRADE PACT WITH JAPAN AND MANCHUKUO

TOKIO, July 5.—(AP)—Japan, Italy, and Manchukuo today signed a trade treaty entitled "An accord among the governments of Italy, Japan, and Manchukuo for regulating trade and payments thereto between Italy on one side and Japan and Manchukuo on the other."

Observers considered it significant that Japan and Manchukuo, created by Japan out of Manchurian provinces wrested from China in 1931-'33, were linked as one party to the treaty. Hitherto Japan has insisted Manchukuo was independent.

30 NATIONS HUNT SPOT TO SHELTER GERMANY'S JEWS

Roosevelt Parley Opens in France Today.

work with that of the already existing league of nations commission which has attempted to shelter refugees from Germany before the Austrian annexation.

As far as was known but one country, Italy, declined an invitation to the conference.

Reservations on the part of many nations represented, however, were expected to make the discussions by no means easy sailing.

France, traditionally the home for political exiles of many hues and creeds, has been forced to cope with growing problems of international espionage, and as a consequence has taken steps to strengthen her police organizations dealing with aliens.

She is not expected to open her frontiers further to homeless German wanderers. In fact, one suggestion in French quarters was that the United States reserve for the refugees her entire immigration quotas for some years to come.

[The total number of immigrants admitted to the United States in the year ending June 30, 1937, was 50,244.]

Finance Another Snag.

Finance offered another snag. Germany, who so far has held aloof from the conference, may be asked to allow refugees to bring out of the country all or a larger part of their effects. The conference also must set up plans for financing evacuation and housing of refugees.

In some quarters it was said the Jewish Zionist organization would demand that Britain throw open Palestine to 50,000 Jews in 1938, and more in future years. On March 14 the British government announced an increase of 25 per cent in Jewish immigration quotas in Palestine, restricted prior to that to 8,000 a year.

Justice Cardozo Is Weaker; Suffers with Heart Ailment

Port Chester, N. Y., July 5.—[Special.]—Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo of the United States Supreme court was reported by his physicians to be somewhat weaker tonight at the residence of Judge Irving Lehman, in which the justice is visiting here. Reports that Justice Cardozo was sinking were denied by his secretary, Joseph Rauh. Stricken with a heart ailment last December, the justice recovered sufficiently to come here in April, but last week suffered a relapse.

VATICAN NEWSPAPER ASSAILS PROPAGANDA AGAINST THE JEWS

VATICAN CITY, July 5.—(AP)—The Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, today said anti-Jewish propaganda had produced results "unworthy of twenty centuries of Christian civilization." Recalling the words of Christ forgiving his crucifiers, the paper said:

"It is inevitable that any time we abandon the life of the gospels, human lives perish. Toward the Israelites we are not only extremely anti-Christian and anti-civil, but inhuman. For them the misery of exile and outlawing is not enough; it goes on to the pillory, beatings, wounding, and death. Propaganda against Jews assumes, wherever it is organized and led, proportions unworthy of twenty centuries of Christian civilization."

SWEARS IN JURY TO INVESTIGATE MILK BUSINESS

The federal grand jury which will investigate charges that a milk monopoly exists in the Chicago district was sworn in yesterday by Judge James H. Wilkerson. The foreman is E. J. Lambe, 203 Morgan street, Wheaton. Michael L. Igoe, United States district attorney, said presentation of evidence will begin Friday. Associated with him will be Leo F. Tierney, special assistant attorney general sent here from Washington. It is expected that the grand jury's work will require most of the summer. Three hundred witnesses are to tell their stories, and evidence will include several truckloads of records and books.

HELD FOR FATAL STABBING.

A coroner's jury recommended yesterday that Gabriel Lebrock, 43 years old, be held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter for the fatal stabbing of Joseph Lawrence, 49 years old, in their home at 825 Milwaukee avenue.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

For Better Times—

The public demand today is for business activity.

Some people think the railroads ought to stimulate business by spending more money—running more trains, hiring more help, buying more supplies.

Others realize that can't be done unless the railroads first obtain more customers and more cash.

That in turn hinges partly upon general business activity and partly upon competition, the latter provided by carriers which the government taxes us all, even the railroads, to support.

There's a perfect log jam, locked in place by the protruding key log of unequal competition. To remove that log will no doubt break that jam.

For better business we need justice in transportation. In terms of action, first give the railroads equality of opportunity, then ship and travel as your choice dictates.

THE DEMOCRATIC PURGE.

When Mr. Roosevelt starts tomorrow to cross the country opening his campaign against the conservatives of his party, with speeches along the way, he undertakes a task already half done. The conservatives have been eliminated from the administrative counsels of the party in Washington. Even as politicians their places have been taken by the young White House storm troopers. Their banishment from the Democratic Front would complete the purge and leave only the extremists.

It is the history of nearly every revolutionary movement that its tangent is always to the left and that its pace is set by one extremist passing another. Until the movement blows up it is constantly accelerated by the reformists who will work up the greatest passion, utter the loudest audacities, and make the most violent proposals. The more conservative of the new era men will drop out or they will be pushed aside. The advance sweeps over them.

That has been illustrated in Mr. Roosevelt's progress. The men he started with are now out. Some of them are his most violent opponents. Some have merely retired and are no longer heard. The first revolution was ushered in by Hugh Johnson, Raymond Moley, Rexford Tugwell, Donald Richberg, George N. Peek, and Dr. Arthur Morgan. They had the job of creating and working the new machine of government which was doing so many strange things to industry, agriculture, trade and finance in the name of emergency and with a promise to stop when the crisis was passed. If Johnson and Richberg had continued the way they were going with NRA blessed by the courts this country would not be trying to ward off a dictatorship. It would be under one. These two administrators, hustled out of their stride by more extreme agitators, now are opponents of the revolution.

The Democratic party men, as distinguished from the doctrinaires, theorists, reformists, and experimenters, stood the strain better for a long time. There were few independents two years ago. Such men as Carter Glass did not break off any suspender buttons in the campaign of 1936 but they accepted the convention and the candidate. It did not seem then that they were to be denied altogether a place in the party or that their opinions would make them pariahs. Many of them are on the black list now.

The Democratic Front has adopted communist and Fascist ideas of party discipline which is uncompromising. It does not permit shades and differences of opinion. A party member takes an oath of allegiance to the Leader, to Hitler, Mussolini or Stalin. Obedience is required. Independence is not tolerated. The party is an organization of restricted membership. Lack of zeal is punished by expulsion and the expelled member becomes a marked man. A word of criticism brings imprisonment or exile. The temper of this absolutism appears in the present Democratic campaign. The conservatives are to be weeded out. Their places will be taken by the American Labor party, the communistic Democratic Front, Lewis' C. I. O., the Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota, for which the Democratic candidates were withdrawn from the ticket two years ago, and possibly by the La Follette National Progressives.

Two years ago Gov. Lehman of New York was so important to the New Deal that the major concern of the national convention in Philadelphia was not to nominate Mr. Roosevelt but to persuade the New York governor to head the state ticket again. His letter to Senator Wagner during the court fight asking him to vote against the plan for the humiliation of the court put him outside of the ranks of the Rooseveltian liberals, of the Democratic Front.

The purge has a war chest of treasury money now being released under the appropriations voted by congress. The spending agencies of the federal government have been working late into the night since adjournment making the allotments of the funds which are to be distributed as rapidly as possible between now and the elections in November. The independent members of the party, the Democrats condemned by Mr. Roosevelt as conservatives, must fight their way against subsidies, contracts, and pay rolls.

If the purge should succeed the Democratic party will be converted into the party of an autocratic state. The discipline of absolute conformity will be clamped upon it. It will be a party to which John Lewis or Earl Browder may dictate but which cannot be advised by Garner, Lehman, Glass, Burke, Byrd, George, Smith, Walsh or any other man whose views are his own. The autocratic party is the power which creates the dictator.

SO THIS IS LONDON.

The crime records of Chicago and London have been compared frequently to the discredit of one city and the credit of the other. Apologists for Chicago have been required to make as much as they could of extenuating circumstances. The quick growth of the city had not permitted it to settle into a satisfactory status. It was young and full of ferment. It was the magnet for roving, adventurous characters and many of them not good characters.

When seasonal labor was through in the adjoining states and on the lakes idle men not any too well provided with money drifted into Chicago. Frontier habits were slow in dying out. London had its fling generations ago, before Sir Robert Peel organized the police. It had taken centuries to make the Londoner an orderly fellow, to subdue London's mobs, and chase the highwaymen out of the environs. When London was bad it was terrible.

The Chicago apologist can rest a little easier now. The comparative reports for last year show that serious crimes in Chicago decreased five per cent while such crimes in London increased ten per cent. We are slowing down. The English are brightening up in spite of the British government's undertaking to reduce crime by keeping the news of it out of the press. It may be the American movies and the American language. Says who?

GOOD, CLEAN SPORT.

We don't profess to know much about horse-racing; our knowledge of the subject would fit comfortably in a stick or two of primer type. Still, as we read Mr. French Lane's account of the running of the Stars and Stripes handicap at Arlington on Monday we were reminded of the motto, "Never give the sucker an even break." Evidently this ethical guide still has its devoted adherents.

A great crowd had turned out to see Seabiscuit, the Pacific coast champion, run his race. There was excellent reason to think he was the fastest animal entered, as the odds of 9 to 10 on Seabiscuit to win indicated. Among the nine horses opposing him were two from the same Chicago stable. One of them, War Minstrel, is pretty fair, especially on a heavy track. The other, Melodist, we gather, is not so hot.

The rôle of Melodist as it developed in the race was to impose an added handicap on Seabiscuit and thus make it easier for War Minstrel to win. Melodist was worked into a position soon after the start to cut Seabiscuit off. To get past Melodist, Seabiscuit had to be ridden wide, covering much additional ground. When Seabiscuit finally worked his way past Melodist that horse practically disappeared from the race and finished a poor last. Seabiscuit proved how good he was by finishing in second place, but War Minstrel was first.

Evidently what happened in that race is well within the rules. It is proper to enter two horses in a race and use one of them solely for purposes of obstruction. It doesn't seem fair to the owner of the horse so handicapped nor to the trusting souls who have made their bets on the naïve assumption that a race is intended to disclose which horse is fastest; but these persons are suckers who should never be given an even break.

Maybe War Minstrel is the faster horse, but as we read Mr. Lane's account nothing that happened at Arlington proved the fact.

JUDICIAL TIMBER.

Judge Otto Kerner, attorney general of Illinois, and Michael Igoe, United States district attorney in Chicago, have been prominently mentioned for appointment to the federal district bench. Judge Philip Sullivan, now sitting in the federal District court, has been recommended for promotion to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Judge Sullivan received his training for judicial office as a master in chancery and then as a judge of the Cook County Circuit court. His promotion to the federal Appellate court will be well received.

Judge Kerner has had a long and honorable career of public service as alderman, master in chancery, judge of the Circuit court, judge of the Appellate court, and attorney general of the state. He has demonstrated the temperament, the character, and learning which judges should possess.

Mr. Igoe is another public servant of proved capacity. In the legislature his quick mind and forthright character made him one of the most useful as well as one of the most influential men in Springfield in our generation. His achievement is the more creditable when it is remembered that he attained his position of influence as a minority leader. His career as district attorney has enhanced his reputation for courage, good sense, and legal ability.

These men are of the stuff of which good judges are made. They are Democrats rather than New Dealists. Their appointment would be received with approval in the community.

BARBARA AS A SYMBOL.

Barbara Hutton, Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow, after a brief interlude, is again in the news. She seems to be having the expected trouble with her latest husband.

Barbara, of course, has more money than she has earned, more than she needs, more than she can spend wisely and well. She is therefore a priceless asset to the Washington wrecking crew. They pretend that she is a typical product of American business and pass laws accordingly.

Barbara is not a popular figure in this country and she shouldn't be; but it is absurd to enact laws which, in preventing the creation of a half dozen future Barbaras, also throw millions of American men and women out of work. The price is excessive. Barbara and all the others like her—past, present, and future—aren't worth it.

Editorial of the Day

CONTOUR FARMING.

[Lincoln Star.]

By careful measurement in some southeastern Nebraska counties it has been determined that farmers who adopted a plan of contour farming to conserve moisture during the critical months of July and August have reason to be gratified with the results. Actual investigation in those fields, in comparison with adjacent lands, show moisture to a depth of a foot or eighteen inches greater.

Those rains which covered a large section of the state on the longest day of the year, and during the twenty-four hour period following, add to the certainty of a corn harvest, which is about the most important factor in Nebraska in the season of 1938. At Fairbury, for example, only slightly short of eighteen inches of moisture had fallen since the first of the year, virtually all of it since the closing days of February. That is nearly seven inches more rain than was received last year. And other sections of the state have fared nearly as well. One of the areas acutely afflicted with drouth, including Clay, Fillmore, and Nuckolls counties, is only slightly behind Fairbury and Jefferson county in the generosity of precipitation.

One crop which has received little attention but which represents a greatly increased acreage this season is the sorghum which has been planted to supply feed. They have attained a uniform flourishing growth to such an extent that fears about feed for live stock can be dismissed at this time.

There is an old saying that corn in Nebraska is made between July 20 and Aug. 10. Not in the last six years has this state approached that period with better prospects.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

A family man of our acquaintance likes to practice his crepes suzettes occasionally so that he can turn out superior ones when he is host at informal late gatherings in his own home. On a recent occasion he waited around until the butler and the cook and maids had gone to bed, then he tiptoed into the pantry and got together the ingredients and pans. These he carried to the lift for transportation to his handsome studio room at the top of the house. For an hour he puttered happily about, making batter, frying the little, thin pancakes, pouring the various liqueurs into the sauce in the chafing dish. He ate his crepes suzettes critically, then dutifully carried everything back to the kitchen again—so the servants wouldn't know what he had been up to—and went to bed. But he forgot the butter. Left on a radiator, it melted and ran over when the heat was turned on, the next morning being a cool one. When the crepes suzettes practicer went up to get something out of his desk before going to a board meeting the butler was there, cleaning up the mess. Our friend went down in the lift musing on criminals who plan the perfect crime, only to drop their eyeglasses or leave a cap behind.

Several months ago we reprinted an advertisment by means of which one John K. M. Ewing of Washington, D. C., was seeking recovery of his father's sword, engraved Lieut. Col. Charles Ewing, 15th army corps, and given him during the siege of Vicksburg. Two letters received in Chicago by Roy Mosoriak from Mr. Ewing tell their own tale. The first letter says "My father's sword has been found," and encloses a copy of the letter from the farmer who wrote he had the sword in his possession:

"Some months ago there appeared an article stating that you were looking for your father's sword. . . . Strange as it may seem, I believe I have the sword. Almost 20 years ago I walked down to the village to get some groceries, and to do so had to pass a blacksmith shop. It was about 5 p. m. and here before the shop was a conveyance something like a hayrack loaded down with household goods, covered with two old blue and white coverlets, or 'coverlids' as the man called them. From the back was a large copper kettle and tripod. I stopped and asked who owned the things and the smithy told me a man from Tennessee who had stopped to get a whiffletree repaired. The man in question had gone to buy a chaw of tobacco. He came back and I bought the coverlets, copper kettle, tripod, and loom for weaving carpets. . . . Just before parting he said, 'Sonny, I have something else you might want to buy.' He didn't say what but unstrapped a large wood box and from it took out a sword. I bought it. In the case or scabbard it measures 41 inches long. It was a fine piece of work. The broadsides are beautifully etched or engraved with all kinds of scrolls. There is an inscription, 'LIEUT. COL. CHARLES EWING, 15TH ARMY CORPS.' You might make me an offer on it. I wouldn't sell it unless I could get a good price."

Mr. Ewing had the sword shipped to him for inspection and identification. His second letter to Mr. Mosoriak:

"I had the sword inspected by an expert. His investigation shows it is not the genuine sword, and that the inscription was etched by acid and faked to look like the original might have looked."

TAKE NOT THE NEW UNTIL IT IS TRIED.

THERE is a never ending stream of healing preparations, some of which vary little from time honored and tried compounds. Nevertheless, in our eagerness for something new—miracle working if possible—we hail with delight many remedies the chief virtues of which may be that they bear high sounding, alluring names.

May not some of these new therapeutic agents be dangerous? May they be taken with impunity? We long have known that certain individuals are sensitive, extremely so, to various chemicals. But it is not the members of this class with whom we are most concerned. In fact, this discussion is a plea for a more critical understanding of the reaction of every substance that is taken by mouth, injected under the skin, or introduced anywhere within the body. Experience always is a wise teacher and enough time should elapse with carefully controled trials before widespread employment is advocated, even at the hands of physicians.

Take, for example, phenolphthalein, which is one of the ingredients of several cathartics. An occasional dose may do no harm to any one, but unfortunately the laxative habit may become fixed and thus an overplus of the drug may accumulate within the body, with damage to the kidneys or inflammation of the skin.

Attention has been called also to the influence upon the blood—lowering the number of white cells, which follows the steady utilization of some headache medicines. Much has been written about the possible danger of taking acetanalid unless it is properly safeguarded, and many medical men now include in this "use with caution" group such coal tar products as phenacetin and amidopyrine.

Cinchophen sometimes causes jaundice and a few fatalities have been reported, the result of degeneration of the liver. It is so helpful, however, in some phases of arthritis that its use is recommended by physicians who exercise immediate and constant oversight of the patient. With expert supervision there is little chance that the compound will get out of hand. Nevertheless, great harm may ensue if it is used indiscriminately as a pain reliever.

We may recall the joy with which many of our obese friends hailed the advent of dinitrophenol. "Fat will melt away" was a popular claim. Yes, it will, but the phenomenon may be accompanied by the formation of cataracts, lowered resistance to infection, reduced white cells in the blood, and some skin disturbances. The danger now lies in the fact that many so-called safe [?] reducers contain dinitrophenol or a similar preparation, disguised under some trade name. Medical science has devised no régime under which we can shed excess weight other than eating less food and taking plenty of exercise.

Some years ago it was common practice to use salts of silver in generous quantities as antiseptics. In some instances this led to the deposit of fine particles of metallic silver in the skin, with marked discoloration [darkening]. Unfortunately, no way has been discovered by means of which the metal can be removed. The condition is called argyria and now occurs far less often because of the lessons which we have learned.

Every physician is called on to recommend a sedative. Even though he fails to warn the patient against slavish adherence to the prescription, it is well to recall that no one of this large variety of sleep promoters should be resorted to routinely. Valuable, even essential, they are likely to give the taker a false sense of well-being. While they are not habit forming, as is opium and its derivatives, nevertheless the dependence upon them may be far greater than it should be.

After all is said and done, a drug is a boon only when its after-effects are negligible—harmless to vital organs.

CAUSES OF MENINGITIS.

E. K. writes: What causes meningitis? Can the disease result from neglected mastoid infection? Is it possible for a person to have a chronic, suppurative mastoid for over 20 years?

REPLY.

Meningitis may occur during the course of an infectious fever or arise from middle ear disease which has spread to the mastoid cells. Any organism gaining entrance to the coverings [meninges] of the brain may cause inflammation of these structures [meningitis]. An infection of low virulence may persist within the mastoid bone, blazing forth when the resistance of the body drops below a certain level.

EARLY PREGNANCY TEST.

Mrs. M. writes: Is it possible to determine positively a pregnancy of two months? Please state the manner of such a test.

REPLY.

The Aschheim-Zondek test is 97/100 per cent reliable. It depends on the detection of a certain hormone which occurs in the urine of pregnant women. The urine is injected into immature white female mice. If pregnancy exists, special changes will be noted—visible to the naked eye—in the pelvic organs of the experimental animals.

PROBABLY AN INFECTION.

Mrs. G. writes: During my last confinement in a hospital my physician said I was an antitoxin case. What did he mean?

REPLY.

Antitoxin is used to neutralize some bacterial poison. It may be that you exhibited a septic condition [infection] calling for the use of antitoxin—possibly to the organism called the streptococcus.

BREAKING TOBACCO HABIT.

G. K. writes: Some time ago you mentioned a substance that would be of assistance in breaking the tobacco habit. Will you tell me what this is?

REPLY.

You probably refer to lobeline sulfate. Details of the plan are incorporated in our leaflet on the cure of the tobacco habit, which you can get by sending a stamped, addressed envelope.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY NORMAN INGREY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile.—A move by the United States to permit entrance of Latin-American cadets into West Point and Annapolis has been welcomed as a stimulant to keener inter-American defense coöperation.

Were it not for a genuine South American fear of being left abandoned before the threat of imperialistic aggression, the present situation would contain many elements of humor.

As the Roosevelt administration has insisted that it is democracy to be defended in the western hemisphere, there has been a Latin rush for classification in this category. The erstwhile "corporative" régime of Getulio Vargas, the Brazilian dictator, for instance, suddenly has been transformed into a democratic bulwark, fighting against the imperialistic "minority" leaders of Germany and Italy.

Peru, Ecuador, and Bolivia, countries until recently in the military dictatorship class, have emphasized they have democratic ranking. Col. German Busch was elected "constitutional president" of Bolivia and fired decrees against menacing foreign doctrins, especially Fascism. Col. Alberto Enriquez of Ecuador hastened to give a civil complexion to his military régime and granted amnesties to political foes.

These are a few of the recent gestures south of Panama to squeeze in on the ground floor of democracy and qualify for the protection signified by the Monroe Doctrin, unilateral or multilateral, with the backing of the expanded arms program of the United States.

Since Gabriel Terra went out and Alfredo Baldomir came in as president of Uruguay there has also been a big swing toward constitutional democracy in that country. Roberto M. Ortiz is more moderate in Argentina, and Venezuela has made progress toward liberalism after dictatorship lasting a quarter of a century.

South Americans also are acting on the maxim of "God helps those who help themselves" in continental defense. To contribute to the "pooling of guns" advocated by El Mercurio, a newspaper in Santiago, the majority of the ten states are adding to or reorganizing their defense forces.

Reports on American arms exports have disclosed that both Argentina and Brazil are high in the lists. Chile plans to buy two cruisers of 8,000 tons each and reëquip its army, and Peru is devising new credits for national defense.

The United States not only is helping out in the supply of arms but also has been asked to supply training aid. This is a significant development in its relations with South American states. A naval mission recently arrived in Peru and now Argentina will develop its air force with American instruction. Nearly all of its planes are of American manufacture. Brazil has usually depended on American naval guidance.

Argentina is pledged to military autarchy, which is well advanced. Several munitions plants, including a heavy armament and nitric acid factory at Cordoba, are nearly completed. A large military aviation factory has been built in the same area.

Railroad and highway plans will insure Bolivian oil supplies, regulated by the recent trade treaty between the Buenos Aires and La Paz governments.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

PROBATE PROCEEDINGS.

Chicago, July 2.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If a person dies in Denver, Colo., and [1] the heirs live in Illinois and receive citations to appear in court in Denver on a certain date but are unable to [2] would it be possible to have the court hearings postponed?

3. Would the court hearing be postponed if the signed citation did not arrive on time for the court hearing or [4] could they proceed with the hearing without the signed papers?

5. If one of the heirs did not sign the citation would he lose his share in the estate?

6. Is it necessary to have all the heirs' signatures to close the estate?

7. Is it customary to have an accounting made of an estate showing assets and liabilities and [8] a copy given to each heir?

On the back of the citation where the heirs sign is the following: [9] "I hereby waive service of the within citation and consent that the instrument of writing purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased may be admitted to probate and record without further notice to me."

10. Does this sign away any right in the share of the estate or [11] does it give the lawyer power of attorney to act for the heirs? R. S.

1. Ordinarily, it is not necessary for the heirs to be present.

2. Depends on the grounds for your request. No grounds appear on the foregoing facts.

3. We do not understand what you mean by "signing" citations.

4. In general, where interested parties have been served it is not necessary for them also to consent.

5. It seems probable that the document to be signed is an appearance rather than a citation. The refusal to sign the appearance would necessitate service of the citation.

6. Yes, unless they are served.

7. Yes, at the time of the final account.

8. Not necessarily.

9. Under our local practice such a waiver would be a separate document. It is what we referred to as the "appearance" above.

10. No.

11. No. It merely takes the place of serving the citation upon you.

WHY HE IS OUT OF WORK.

Chicago, July 2.—For four years I have listened to college professors, dead head new dealers, dead end old dealers, soap boxers, economic experts, crackpots, and screwballs explain the reason and the remedy for the unemployment situation.

I have heard them over the radio, over the round table, in open forums, in back rooms, on platforms, on street corners, in churches, in barrooms, in magazines, and newspaper columns.

So far I have kept my mouth shut and listened. I am probably the only one who has, so now I would like to stick my oar in.

I am one of the unemployed men who is causing all the babble. In my case I know exactly why I am out of work, but I do not profess to know the remedy.

I have a skilled trade, and spent eight years as apprentice in mastering my art. It is a trade that had been handed down from centuries before the Christian era, a craft necessary to one of the oldest basic industries in this country. A few years ago there were 30,000 skilled men like myself, and twice as many unskilled helpers employed in this industry. Small independent factories were located all over the country from coast to coast, where fuel and material were available, giving work to thousands. Today a grease monkey tends an automatic machine which produces as much output as formerly required the labor of 40 men. Control of the machines is in the hands of a few men, the factories are strategically located, the small independent factories are closed. Fewer than 200 skilled men are left in this craft, the rest of them were obliged to seek other employment.

When I was a boy I read a magazine article predicting that the day would come when electricity and machines would do most of man's work. It painted a beautiful picture of a Utopian world than everybody would be dancing in the streets. That day has arrived, but the only dancing in the streets seems to be a gandy dance at the end of a WPA shovel for $55 per month, and one has to be on the verge of starvation to get to dance there.

EX-GLASS BOTTLE BLOWER.

GIVES BONDHOLDER'S VIEW.

Chicago, July 2.—I happen to be one of the poor benighted and bloated bondholders that city of Chicago officials are so fond of referring to and confess that I am the owner of a $1,000 Chicago Railways first mortgage bond which was due twelve years ago but not paid. Today it is selling at less than 50 cents on the dollar.

Through what appears to be a combination of efficient management and honesty of purpose, however, the car company has accumulated some $30,000,000 in cash, according to newspaper reports. Again it is reported that the federal court has decreed that the first mortgage bondholders have a first lien on this money. But now comes Mr. Sexton, the city's attorney, and objects to the bondholders getting their interest Aug. 1—insisting that the city be paid compensation under a new arrangement he proposes. My understanding is that the city already has $67,000,000 as a result of the present arrangement with the companies.

Moreover, how can the company expect the public to buy any of its new securities if it now defaults on its interest as well as its principal?

MINORS AT THE WHEEL.

Rockford, Ill., June 30.—In today's Tribune I read that youths under 18 will be granted three year driving licenses in Illinois for 25 cents. The papers recently published the fact that youths cause the majority of motor accidents. Few under 18 have the judgment to drive in today's hectic trafic, but, if they must be granted the privilege, they should at least be charged a higher fee than older people. This seems only logical in view of the Tribune's daily massacre chart.

AGHAST.

FINDS INSPECTORS A PEST.

Chicago, June 30.—Why state inspectors? Why should decent, honest citizens have to submit to tyrannical demands of parasites who are feeding at the public trough? The inspectors put in only a few hours a day at the most and receive a salary out of all proportion to the amount and kind of work they do.

Since the sales tax has been in effect there has been one scandal after another in which these inspectors have been involved. The farmers are asking that an appeal board be set up due to the fact that state health inspectors are so arbitrary and unreasonable. The private employment agencies in Illinois have been harassed, intimidated, and threatened by inspectors during the latter part of this administration.

What is the matter with the American people that they continue to allow their business to be inspected, expected, suspected, examined, reëxamined, and what have you? M. L.

SOME FEATHERED PESTS.

Downers Grove, Ill., July 2.—I read George F. Peabody's article on "Crows" in your column yesterday and I agree. I'll bet a quail or meadow lark will eat more cutworms and grasshoppers than a regiment of crows.

Other pests of the bird kingdom that ought to be eradicated are starlings, English sparrows, and blackbirds. Of these three the starlings are the worst.

Some people recommend feeding these pests in order to keep them around. The best food I can advise for them is a good substantial food in the form of bullets and shot from rifles and shotguns. It is quite cheap, as you usually only have to give a bird one feeding.

I will close by saying that the only good crow is a dead crow. True of starlings and sparrow also.

PETE M. SCHUMACHER.

HIS RESPECTS TO GELLERMANN.

Oak Park, July 2.—When they passed out a degree at Columbia for Dr. Gellermann of Northwestern they were wasting material. I am only an uneducated fellow, but thank God I am an American citizen, and proud of being a member of the greatest organization in our land today. Somehow I hate to see our national commander, Dan Doherty, enter into a debate with such trivial items as Dr. Gellermann has to offer. I would suggest that the dues for the entire period of Dr. Gellermann's membership in our fine body, the American Legion, be refunded to him with interest and that he be given a transfer to some foreign group, and his name forever be expunged from our membership rolls.

RICHARD A. ROSSKAMM.

HIGH COURT IN WISCONSIN.

Racine, Wis., June 29.—The thinking residents of Wisconsin are looking at their Supreme court with a great deal of suspicion these days. It begins to look as if Gov. La Follette has gone F. D. R. one better and is able to make the Wisconsin lawmakers jump through his political hoop.

STRICTER LAWS ON FIREWORKS DISPLAYS URGED

Release 2 in Park Blast; Victims Bonded.

Better safeguards against fireworks explosions such as the one that injured seventeen persons and terrified thousands Monday night at Portage park will be sought today before city council by Ald. William J. Cowhey [41st]. He will be joined by Ald. P. J. Cullerton [38th]. The park serves both their wards.

Announcement was made as police released Dale Sturtevant of Roscoe, Ill., and Robert Moffett of Beloit, Wis., employés of the United States Fireworks company of Beloit. Capt. Roger Shanahan of the park police said an investigation showed they had exercised ordinary precaution.

Fireworks Toll Mounts.

Although hospital surveys yesterday added forty-eight names to the list of those burned by fireworks, bringing the total for July Fourth up to 115, casualties still were below last year's figure of 146 injuries.

Ald. Cowhey said he would demand rigid regulations prohibiting the storage of fireworks on the ground under canvas while displays are in progress. He said he would insist on the use of approved reinforced fireproof containers which would be impervious to burning bits of paper from exploding rockets, such as caused the Portage park blast, or sparks from the outside.

Such boxes, he said, should be strong enough to withstand an explosion of all their contents without bursting and be capable of quick closing the instant a piece of fireworks became ignited.

$50,000 Bond Covers Injured.

Meanwhile, the Portage Park Independence Day Celebration Association, Inc., a group of neighborhood business men, announced that a $50,000 bond posted before the ill-fated exhibition would cover claims of the injured.

Three victims of the blast still were in Belmont hospital. They are Peter Carlson, 8 years old, 4850 North Ashland avenue; his brother, Jack, 10; and Doris Samuelson, 9, of 2835 Lincoln avenue. All were burned on their legs when aerial bombs and rockets exploded on the ground.

PET SHEEP LOSES LEGS; BOY GIVES IT A WHEELBASE

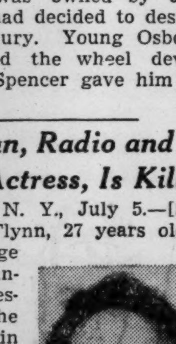

Murrayville, Ill., July 5.—[Special.]—A pet sheep belonging to John Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Osborne of Murrayville, has been supplied with a pair of wheels as a substitute for its back legs, which were crushed when a colt stepped on them.

A harness attached to shafts holds the wheels in place under the sheep's body and enables it to walk about the yard and graze. Each night the harness is removed and the sheep is placed in a shed, and each morning it waits quietly until John comes to harness it.

The sheep was owned by John Spencer, who had decided to destroy it after its injury. Young Osborne offered to build the wheel device, however, and Spencer gave him the sheep.

Elinor Flynn, Radio and Stage Actress, Is Killed

Glens Falls, N. Y., July 5.—[Special.]—Elinor Flynn, 27 years old, a radio and stage actress, was injured fatally yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding ran off a highway near here. Miss Flynn, who was born in Chicago, had been rehersing for a part in a Broadway production. At one time she was a member of the Lone Ranger radio show cast. Donald O. Cunnion, sports editor of the Glens Falls Post-Star, who was driving the car, was injured seriously.

Aurora Swimmer Swept Over Dam to His Death

George Bombard, 20 years old, 516 Sims street, Aurora, was drowned yesterday when the swift current of the swollen Fox river swept him over a dam near the Main street bridge in Aurora. Bombard had gone swimming with Darwin Schumak, 17, who was able to cling to a wall and save himself. Old residents of Aurora said the river stage is higher than it ever was before in July.

Boy, 9, Drowns in Fall Into River from Park Wall

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: "Dames Is Dumb"

SWEDISH PRINCE WILL LEAVE N. Y. HOSPITAL TODAY

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—After a full week of rest in the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical center, Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf of Sweden tomorrow will join in the celebration of the tercentenary of the landing of the Swedish and Finnish settlers near what is now Wilmington, Del.

So far the kidney ailment that attacked the crown prince, who is 55 years old, at sea a week ago today has made it impossible for him to make an appearance.

At noon tomorrow he will leave the hospital for the Union club, where he will be the guest of Thomas J. Watson, president of the International Chamber of Commerce. Tomorrow night, Gustaf Adolf, his wife and his son by his first marriage, Prince Bertil, will be together officially for the first time since their arrival when they attend a dinner sponsored by the Swedish-American Tercentenary association.

Officials said the prince's future plans were indefinite. He originally was scheduled to continue to Rochester, Detroit, Chicago, and Minneapolis, sailing for home on July 22. Prince Bertil will complete that itinerary.

POUND MASTER SHOWS FONDNESS FOR A PET DUCK

Policeman Clarence Mau was a bit skeptical Monday night when Harry Lydiard, 818 Fair Oak avenue, Oak Park, called the suburban station to complain that a white duck was following him about the street. But sure enough, it was a duck, a fat downy Pekin.

For safe keeping the duck was lodged over night in a cage of the dog pound. Yesterday John Nixon, 7 years old, appeared at the station. The duck, said John, was his Donald, a pet given him on Easter by his grandfather. Donald had strayed from his pen in John's home at 531 North Harlem avenue, Oak Park.

Policeman Mau went to the pound. Donald was not there. Mau hurried to the home of the pound master, John McNulty, at 1112 South Taylor avenue. "Where is the duck?" inquired Mau. "There," replied McNulty, pointing to a heap of well cleaned bones on the dinner table.

ASK BACK PAY FOR SUSPENDED GUARD AT JAIL

The city council finance committee yesterday authorized payment of $114 back salary to James Flynn, guard at the House of Correction, who was twice suspended by Supt. Edward Denemark for alleged infractions of the rules. Records show that he was suspended last December for being absent without leave, and in March following the escape of a prisoner. Ald. George D. Kells [28th], chairman of a subcommittee which investigated the matter, recommended that the payment be made. He explained that several guards were involved in the escape and there was nothing to show who was at fault.

Reports 6,700 Foot Flight for New Glider Record

Elmira, N. Y., July 5.—(AP)—Richard C. du Pont of Wilmington, Del., reported he reached a height of 6,700 feet above his starting point [Harris Hill, approximately 1,660 feet] in a 24 mile flight in the national soaring meet today. The flight not only bettertd the official American record which du Pont holds, but also the unofficial mark of Naval Cadet Robert M. Stanley of the aircraft carrier Lexington who soared 6,380 feet above his starting point last week. Du Pont scarcely had reported his flight before Peter Riedel, German soaring ace, phoned from New York City where he landed after a 182 mile flight from Elmira, saying he reached 8,600 feet, but his mark will not count as an American record because he is not a United States citizen.

Woman Prepares Shroud; Dies of Heart Disease

Mrs. Ella Merriman, 60 years old, a widow, died last night in her room at 4529 Hazel avenue, apparently of a heart ailment. Policemen investigating the death found Mrs. Merriman had prepared a white burial shroud and had drawn a will making the Acacia Park cemetery beneficiary of her estate, which included a $500 insurance policy made out to the cemetery. Her husband died a year ago.

Seattle, Wash., July 5.—[Special.]—Peter Paul Bell, 29 years old, a Louisiana farmer, has arrived here after hitch-hiking across thirteen states from Wadesboro, La., with his motherless baby boy, Jack, 2. They traveled some 2,500 miles together. They left Louisiana last December shortly after Bell's wife died.

ZOO DIRECTOR FOOLED BY PAIR OF SHARPERS

A new shipment of mammals, birds, and reptiles for the Lincoln park zoo was being unpacked yesterday and Director Floyd Young was telling a visitor what each crate contained.

"Now this one," he said, "has in it two porcupines from Turkestan, which are bigger than the native breed. One it called Prospero and the other Persephone."

When the box was opened Mr. Young was startled to discover three Turkestan porcupines. One was very small and nestled close to Persephone. It had been born en route from New York.

3 Killed in Mine Blast; 11 Others Escape Unhurt

FERNIE, British Columbia, July 5.—(AP)—Police said late today that the bodies of three men trapped by an underground mine explosion at Michel had been recovered. Eleven other men escaped uninjured when the blast ripped through workings of the Crows Nest Pass Coal company mine. The police blamed the tragedy on a lightning bolt which, they said, apparently traveled 3,900 feet into the working along steel rails of the underground railway and ignited a pocket of gas.

Finds Baby Abandoned in Weeds Near Dolton

A baby boy, about 7 months old, was found yesterday lying in the weeds at the side of Greenwood road, north of 157th street, southwest of Dolton. Frank Lattino, a nearby farmer, who found the infant, said he had seen a woman carrying a child in that vicinity Monday night. The baby, apparently none the worse for his exposure, was taken to Ingalls Memorial hospital in Harvey and will be removed to St. Vincent's orphanage today.

ASKS NEW TESTS IN HYPNOTIST DEATH MYSTERY

Los Angeles, Cal., July 5.—[Special.]—A new microscopic examination was ordered today of the vital organs of Mrs. Marie Colombos, 23 years old, whose death Thursday caused police to hold Robert Gilbert, a hypnotist, on suspicion of murder.

The examination was ordered by Coroner Frank Nance, who said he was dissatisfied with the autoposy on the body of Mrs. Colombos, an expectant mother. Her husband, George, a bartender, found her dead in their Glendale home soon after Gilbert assertedly left the residence.

Deputy District Attorney S. J. Leavy today declined to issue a murder complaint against Gilbert, explaining that he would take no action until after a coroner's inquest. Nance said an inquest will not be called until the new examination has been completed.

HARRY WETZEL, AIRPLANE MAKER, DEAD IN WEST

Santa Monica, Cal., July 5.—(AP)—Harry H. Wetzel, 50 years old, vice president and general manager of Douglas Aircraft corporation, died today of complications after an emergency abdominal operation.

Wetzel, born in Tamaque, Pa., studied industrial engineering at Penn State university. During the world war he became chief of aircraft production of the army signal corps. After the war he was works manager of the Illinois Malleable Iron company in Chicago. In 1920 he joined Donald Douglas in a small aircraft firm.

WIDOW DEMANDS $150,000 UNDER DRAMSHOP ACT

Suit for $150,000 damages under the dramshop act was filed in Superior court yesterday in behalf of the widow and son of Paul Schaffer, a machinist, who was injured fatally last April 8 in a fight in a tavern at 631 West North avenue. Defendants are John Gress, operator of the tavern, and Edward F. Lutz and the First National Bank and Trust company, owners of the property.

Schaffer's widow, Helen, and her son, Rudolph, live at 1958 Sheffield avenue. According to the bill, Schaffer was struck by James Radintz, who had been served whisky and beer in the tavern. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death at the inquest and charges against Radintz were dismissed in Felony court.

A Bantam Weight Contender

[Marshall Field Portrait Studio.]

Schiaparelli, a genius of witty design, presents the "doll hat," a serious contender for high fashion in the midsummer millinery showings. This one is made of black straw, has the world's smallest crown and shallowest brim, is trimmed with a few glossy green leaves and is kept on the tip top of the head with a band of grosgrain ribbon.

New Doll Hats Really Worthy of Their Name

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Dinky little dabs of hats might have been presented just to pamper a whim, but "doll hats" are now launched on a most successful headline wave of fashion. They're cool, they show a new hair dress to perfection, they're flirtatious, extremely feminine, and decorative. What else could capricious women desire?

Dubbing them doll hats isn't any understatement for such confections of bows, flowers, and a scrap of anchoring fabric. They aren't any bigger than the trifles found in any good doll wardrobe of your childhood.

They cling gayly to the coolest heads. Summer hats have been of two kinds, the huge wide affairs that rival a parasol for size, and now the smallest imaginable creations that have ever come to town. Spanking white numbers are made of pique, or to be more accurate a crisp white fabric bow, a couple of daisies, and a bunch of green leaves. Sometimes a bow of velvet ribbon ties a bunch of flowers and this duet is anchored to an almost invisible bit of net and presto—the hat of the hour.

Absurdly small amounts of dull black straw fashion microscopic crowns and equally short and small brims. Such a creation doesn't assure the slightest bit of anything but midsummer flattery, the essence of frivolous abandon, hats that are not to be taken very seriously, and for that reason ideal toppers for sultry summer weather. Later, you can find them made of taffeta bows, velvet ribbon, and feathers. These may be different in material, but they'll not be an inch larger.

Fashion photograph . . . headgear reduced to the irreducible minimum . . . a new model made of crisp black straw, boasting one of the smallest of doll size areas, a spot of a crown and the narrowest of shallow brims. Trim consists of a few green glossy leaves and a very realistic bug, sunning himself on the middle of the leaf. Securely anchored to the headline with a wide band of grosgrain ribbon, the newest doll hat, designed by that tongue-in-the-cheek wizard Schiaparelli, arrives to astound the summer spectator with an example of fashions gone goofy.

Tarkington Sues to Block 'Penrod' Film; Claims Title Is His

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—A suit to restrain Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., from showing the film "Penrod and His Twin Brother" was filed in Supreme court today by Booth Tarkington, author of the "Penrod" books and stories.

Mr. Tarkington charged that the film company misrepresented the film as based on these books and stories, while, in fact, the film story was written by others and was not based "wholly or in part" on the Tarkington stories.

The author said that on March 6, 1931, he had sold to the company exclusive film rights to the Penrod books and stories then published, but had reserved his rights to any future stories.

By "wide,' exclusive, and continuous use," he declared, he had acquired the exclusive right to the name "Penrod" as his "trade-mark." He asked for a temporary injunction, pending trial of the suit, and for an accounting of the profits from the picture and delivery to him of the films and negatives used for it.

The South Gets Full Share of Summer Trips

BY JUDITH CASS.

NORTH, east, west, and even south, vacationers are going by train, motor, plane, and boat. Up until recently no one went south for a summer vacation—southerners always came north. Now that northerners have discovered that many places that have pleasant weather in the winter have equally pleasant summer weather, the southland is becoming popular the year round. Air-conditioning has contributed greatly to those places in the tropics which are becoming summer as well as winter resorts, for in a modern train one can go through hot intermediate country in perfect comfort.

Mexico City, 7,415 feet above sea level, is a mecca for travelers in summer as well as in winter, although there are parts of Mexico, without a doubt, that are distressingly hot in midsummer. Not San Miguel de Allende, however, according to Stirling Dickinson, who just has built a house there and who recently was in Chicago visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Dickinson.

San Miguel School Attracts Many.

San Miguel undoubtedly will be included in the itineraries of many Americans who go to Mexico this summer, for the new art school there is attracting much attention. Mr. Dickinson teaches English language and literature, and landscape painting in the school which was founded last September by Dr. Salomon de la Selva. Miss Katherine Kuh is another Chicagoan at San Miguel this summer. She has gone south to lecture for two months in the school.

Still another Chicagoan there is John A. Holabird Jr., who is studying art. He left a week ago. In the autumn young Mr. Holabird will enter Harvard university.

The colonial convent of Las Monjas is being remodeled into a hotel and in addition numerous private houses are taking "paying guests" now that San Miguel is becoming a cultural and tourist center. The town is eight hours by train nearer the American border than Mexico City.

Soon after young Mr. Dickinson returned to Mexico his parents left for their summer home at Charlevoix in northern Michigan. Their daughters, Mrs. Gilbert H. Robinson and Mrs. William A. Little, and their babies have gone north to spend the summer with the Dickinsons.

John J. Mitchells Go to California.

After an airplane trip to Toronto to see Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, the John J. Mitchells have gone to their home in Santa Barbara, where they will spend the rest of the summer. Mrs. Armour is returning on Saturday from Toronto.

Henry Field and his bride left the evening of the Fourth for three months abroad. Mr. Field is the official American delegate to the International Congress of Anthropological and Ethnical Sciences to be held in Copenhagen Aug. 1 to 6.

The Fields will visit his mother, Mrs. Algernon Burnaby, in England. When they return to Chicago they will move from 999 Lake Shore drive to an apartment at 237 East Delaware place.

Mrs. Chauncey J. Blair and her daughter, Marquise d'Ivanrey, will arrive in Chicago Monday but they will be here only twenty-four hours before going on to North Pomfret in Vermont, where they have taken a house for the summer.

Mrs. Blair's son, William Mitchell Blair, and his wife live in North

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Now It Can Be Told.

Hollywood, Cal., July 5.—There has been a great to-do in the daily papers in recent days about Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs, and in most of the stories the former has been identified as "Little Miss Poker Face." Each time the sobriquet has been used your reporter has secured a vicarious thrill, for in a career singularly undistinguished he hung the "Poker Face" tag on Helen Wills.

You will never know how much satisfaction that has given me down the years. Once I won $400 in a crap game and the spiritual thrill of that accomplishment was something similar but not so enduring, because two nights later, fancying myself still possessed of the magic touch, I went back and lost the $400. The "Poker Face" nickname, however, has stuck down through the years.

It is positively revolting how little interest has been displayed in the tennis baptism at which I presided. Time and again, in large parties, I've deliberately steered the conversation to tennis to provide the opening through which I could glide with the nonchalant recollection of the day at Forest Hills when the nickname came to life.

The best response has been "is that so?" or "how very interesting." So inasmuch as nobody is interested in hearing the story, I'll tell it boldly and immodestly. And believe me, I'm the guy to do it.

Helen Wills became "Little Miss Poker Face" because at the old Madison Square Garden one night Luis Firpo knocked out Bill Brennan in the twelfth round of a fight that was scheduled to go fifteen rounds. There does not seem to be much relation between the crowning of Brennan and the baptism of Miss Wills, but actually the two are closer than a photo finish. Let me explain.

Your reporter, then a sports writer, sitting at the ringside of the Firpo-Brennan fight on the night of March 12, 1923, and observing the sudden striking down of Brennan in the 12th heat, concluded that the fight was what the boys would call a "barney," a fake. We said so in the following day's editions of the Evening Mail, screamed it to the world, or to that part of the world which the p. m. circulation of 187,000 reached.

The editors patted all of us on the back for fearless journalism. The owner of the paper, Henry Stoddard, mumbled something about an immediate raise. An hour after the editions appeared, and before Mr. Stoddard could get to the cashier and tell him to add some weight to the weekly envelope, a bulletin came over the city news machines: "Bill Brennan rushed to hospital with concussion of the brain."

"That's a fake, too," I told the editors, but a sudden chill had come over them, and though I hit it, a sudden chill had settled firmly in the pit of the stomach. To call a fight a fake, and then have one of the contestants taken to the hospital with reported concussion of the brain!!!

From the seclusion of his hospital room, Brennan roared threats of legal steps to be taken when he had recovered. Just then the rival New York Globe collapsed. The Evening Mail quickly hired Walter St. Denis from that paper, and St. Denis persuaded Brennan to forget it, cooing blandishments or threats into Bill's cauliflowered ear.

For some months your reporter wandered about the office wearily. What had been editorial bravery might easily have led to discharge, but Mr. Stoddard held off. "If I could only get a big scoop, or something," your harried hired man said to himself, "this would be absolution for my libelous sins." St. Denis assigned me to cover Forest Hills, and now perhaps you understand why I say that Helen Wills became "Little Miss Poker Face" because Firpo knocked out Brennan in the twelfth round at old Madison Square Garden.

A. Wallis Meyers of England was then No. 1 tennis authority of the world. I'd met him a year earlier when Miss Wills had come out of the west with pigtails down her back, so now meeting him again at Forest Hills I asked Meyers if he had noticed much improvement in the coast youngster. He had.

"What would you say was her greatest competitive asset?" I asked. He reflected long and deeply before saying: "She has good ground strokes, she's fair overhead, good footwork in deep court. Her greatest asset, however, is her inscrutability of countenance."

Mindful of the Broadwayites who would read the story, and not wishing to force them to go all the way from Lindy's to the public library, in penning the interview, I broke down Meyers' "inscrutable countenance" into the vernacular of the card game. So Helen Wills became "Miss Poker Face."

The nickname caught on like wildfire for two reasons, I think. The imagination of the country already had been exercised by the amazing little girl from the coast [that was fifteen years ago]. Secondly, the idea of a little girl so grave that she had a poker face painted so droll and ludicrous a picture that the nickname fed on what it conjured up.

That's the story and I will tell it next to St. Peter at the golden gate, as a plea for admission, and he will probably show me the original inscrutable countenance.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The charming young eastern woman who is a genius in blending perfumes, pomander balls, and exquisite sachet has something for those whose footsteps falter in blazing hot weather. It is called, quite unpretentiously, a "cooling lotion" but really deserves a more expressive title.

Some one has called it a headache cologne for the feet—which is precisely expressive. You apply it quite sparingly and massage ever so gently; in some magic fashion the feet are instantly cooled and remain cool for hours on end. There is menthol in it, among other things. The fragrance alone and the cool green color of it are blows at the steamy feeling we all know when the temperature soars.

We have suggested this to many working women who must walk a great deal during the day. They love it. When—as so often happens on cruelly hot days—the feet scream for assistance, this bottle can be whisked from the desk drawer. Five minutes of privacy, massaging it in soothingly, are all you need to make the feet feel brand new.

This cooling lotion is a godsend at the end of the day whether or not you must dress to step out blithely. A massage erases the memory of the heat, helps you to relax and takes the sting out of the burning coals. And if you must go out dancing, no matter how hot and weary you are, the cooling lotion massage helps you to carry on, cool and refreshed.

Critic Suggests Popular Touch for Park Music

BY CECIL SMITH.

The people of Chicago are evidently intent upon breaking all attendance records at the free Grant park concerts this summer. While last night's crowd did, of course, represent a drop in numbers from Monday's holiday peak, it was noticeably larger than most midweek audiences last summer. If the present ideal climatic conditions continue the workmen of the park district will have to hustle out a few thousand more benches before the week-end.

A. F. Thaviu conducted his well known concert band for the first time this summer. The program included quite a bit of this and that. A torpid little Spanish dance by the Pole, Xaver Scharwenka, found itself next to a "Rapsodie Hongroise," by an unannounced composer who surely never ventured any nearer to Hungary than Scharwenka did to Spain. Georges Enesco's first Rumanian rhapsody, coming afterward, seemed even more of a masterpiece of musical nationalism than it is. At least it was written by a flesh and blood Rumanian who is also a competent workman and a sensitive musician.

In retrospect the band music of the evening leaves a bad taste, though part of it was played with spirit. Without becoming too preachy about a popular program, it does seem legitimate to wonder why summer music should have to be vacuous in order to be light-hearted.

I do not mean that every Grant park concert should present a Brahms symphony or a Richard Strauss tone poem. Litolff's "Robespierre" overture and Johann Strauss' "Emperor" waltz, both of which Mr. Thaviu conducted last night, are excellent choices. So are thousands of other sparkling, heartfelt pieces, whether they be by Mozart or by Romberg.

There is no need ever to fall back on pot-boilers like the stupid ballet music from Gounod's "Faust" when the delectable dance music of Chabrier, so seldom heard, is within easy reach.

In short, Mr. Thaviu and some of his colleagues could make their programs more entertaining and more popular, and at the same time send their audiences away with a sense of having heard music that did something more than fill up time.

Henry Thompson, tenor, and Milo Luka, baritone, contributed solos, and joined in the duet "Si pel ciel," which closes the second act of Verdi's "Otello." Its musical difficulties and its immense breadth overtaxed the singers and the band alike, none of whom knew it very well. Mr. Luka was more in his element in Figaro's air from Rossini's "The Barber of Seville." Mr. Thompson sang two Italian songs by De Curtis at great physical expense, and with a plethora of contortions and mannerisms.

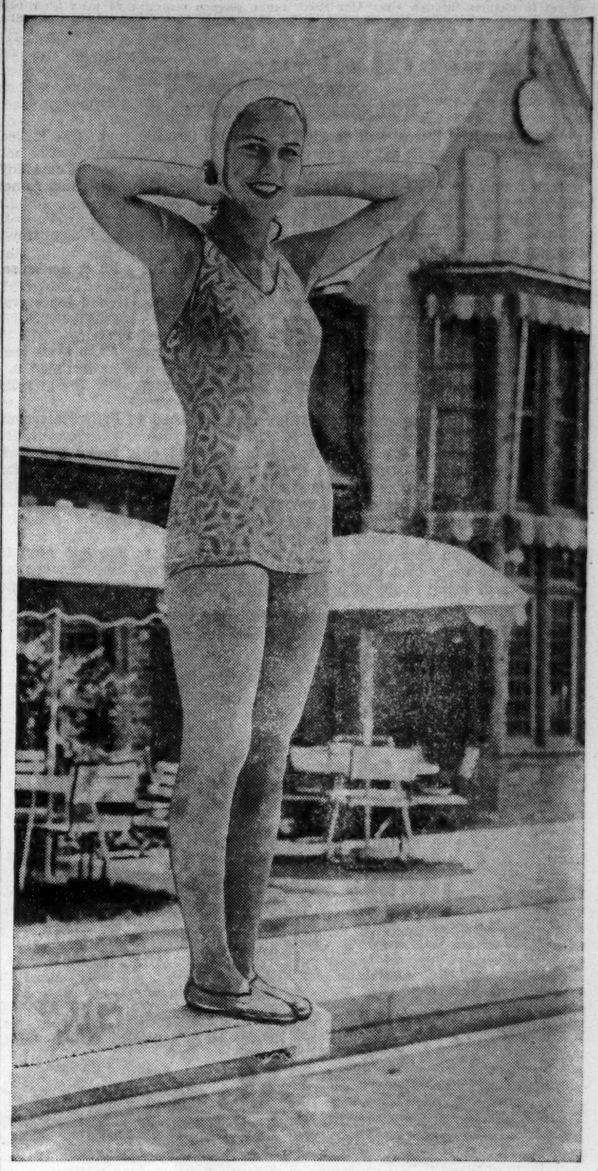

If these remarks seem crotchety, rest assured that they are not intended to inflict deep wounds. The Grant park concerts offer one of the most notable educational opportunities ever known in music. If any one cares to argue that nondescript music and mediocre performance lead to the greatest popular enjoyment of music I shall be happy to go to the mat with him.

Valentino Records May Join Gold Rush of Reissued Movies

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—To the movie ghost of Rudolph Valentino, currently breaking box office records in a revival of "The Sheik" and other pictures, soon may be added the voice of the one-time screen idol.

Today Mr. Powell phoned the record company whose files disclosed Valentino had had "a private sitting" on May 15, 1923.

Now the legal department is seeking if there are any barriers to a public reissue of the record.

SYNOPSIS.

On board the S. S. Panama Queen, sailing from Los Angeles to New York, via Panama, are Anne Sydney, who has a part in a Broadway play, and her crippled and embittered sister, Mena; Arnold Vernon, rich English motion picture producer, and his coldly beautiful wife, Claire; Isobel Butler, who has a stateroom next to the Vernon suite and hopes to get in pictures through him; Alex Reed, young surgeon returning to work after two years' illness, and gossipy Mrs. Panting. Isobel meets and arouses Vernon's interest. She plans to flirt with Alex to allay suspicion. Anne and Alex are mutually attracted. Mena spitefully tells Alex that Anne is a heartless flirt. Pride causes Anne to hold herself aloof from him. At Acapulco, Mexico, Dr. Neil Andrews, a friend of Alex's, joins the ship. He wants to get married and thinks Anne meets his ideals.

INSTALMENT XV.

MISUNDERSTOOD KINDNESS.

Isobel arrived like a rush of wind and settled into her seat. She looked across and saw Alex in his new place. "Yo-hoo," she called and waved her hand. She picked up the menu. "Sorry he's moved from here. Too many women round me while I eat plays hell with my digestion. Tell me, Anne, what are you going to wear at the masquerade?"

"Masquerade? When?" This from Mena.

Mrs. Panting pushed a printed notice across to her. "Tomorrow! There'll be prizes for the best costume and the funniest."

Mena pushed the notice away from her. "I think it's a lot of nonsense. I never dressed up in my life."

"Well, you should," said Isobel sternly. "Nonsense is good for everybody. It lets off steam and stops them taking themselves too seriously."

"I don't take myself too seriously," Mena defended herself.

Anne saw a dark angry red suffuse Mena's sullen face. But the girl did not answer.

She went for Anne afterwards when they returned to their stateroom. "Why do you let those strangers scold me?"

"Why do you do it? If I stepped in it would only make you look silly. If you want to show some spirit you should wear fancy dress for the masquerade and enter into the general gayety."

"Suppose I did, what could I wear?"

"Your lovely red kimono. It's a real one, not a cheap fake."

"Such stupidity. I don't even dance."

Isobel had an appointment with the hairdresser, so she left Alex in peace for the early part of the morning. Neil Andrews, however, spoiled his chance of being alone with Anne. Neil wanted to get to know Anne quickly, so that if he decided she was the girl he sought, there would be time for lovemaking on what was left of the trip. Kisses that tasted of salt winds and vows exchanged in vast water bounded darkness had a flavor all their own. At least Neil had always enjoyed ship's love affairs more than any other.

"Not engaged by any chance, are you?"

He followed Anne to the sun deck for her morning sun bath. Alex saw them go. He thought—if I push in when they're getting on so well, I'll give myself away. Anne paused involuntarily. She thought, if I ask him to come with us, he'll know. He'll think I can't do without him. But she had to speak. "Alex," she said, "you were so good as to say you would help me with Mena. Try to get her alone for a few minutes this morning. She's in a mood like thunder."

"Anything particular the matter with her?"

"Yes. I wanted her to dress for the masquerade. She won't join in, as usual. Perhaps she would if you asked her."

Alex's face was alight with pleasure because he could do something for Anne. "I'll certainly try to persuade her."

Anne thought as she lay on her face feeling the heat beat into her back—he looked so pleased—extraordinary—I believe he actually likes her.

He said lazily—"not engaged by any chance are you?"

"It would not go with my kind of career," she answered obliquely.

"True," she admitted. "And some of them are never seen again."

"What are you going to do about it?" he inquired with characteristic directness. "Go in for unsanctified affairs?"

His thrusting curiosity and refreshing bluntness amused Anne.

"Why should I go in for any kind of affairs?"

"You're human, aren't you?"

"Why yes——"

"And you look temperamental. Guess it won't be long before you think you'd better be kissed."

Anne caught his gaze boring into hers and turned away, feeling the blood warming her cheeks. "Do you mind if we don't discuss my sex problems?" she inquired coldly. "After all, there are other subjects."

"I don't go searching for topics. I talk about anything that happens to interest me."

"Well, it doesn't interest me."

He smiled at her, malicious eyes twinkling. "O, one of these frigid women. You're going to make a success as an actress."

She laughed in spite of herself. "Don't let me give you a wrong impression, Dr. Andrews. I'm not a frigid woman. The point is it has nothing to do with you." She stretched herself and got up. "I'm baked enough I think."

He got up with a lithe spring and followed her. "I wouldn't interfere with Alex if I were you. I saw him walking round a bit ago having a very earnest session with your sister."

Alex knew how to handle Mena. He saw the stormy look in her face when he accosted her, but he ignored it. "Mena, you're just the girl I want to see. I need you to help me."

He saw the reluctant pleasure in her face—also the surprise in it. People never asked Mena to help them. She looked at him a little suspiciously. "What is it you want me to do for you?"

"I'm told I have to dress up tomorrow night. I want you to help me get together some kind of a costume."

"You're going to dress up?"

"Certainly."

"But it's all such a silly business——"

"I don't happen to think so. Nonsense has—or should have a very high place in a medical man's esteem. It's a very good safety valve for people who begin to brood through taking themselves too seriously. We all do it, more or less, you know——"

"Do you?"

"I'm afraid I do when I'm not looking."

The frown had gone from her face and the look she gave him was almost tender. It changed to speculation. "Have you thought of Hamlet—or maybe Romeo?"

"Good," he laughed, "now you're developing a sense of humor. What are you going to wear yourself?"

Her face froze again. "Me? O, I'm not dressing up."

"Why Mena? Do you want to grow old before your time or are you just plain contrary?"

"What's the use?" she cried fiercely, "I don't dance, do I?"

Alex hated to fail in anything he set out to do. He said—"Very well, Mena, if that's how you feel. But what do you think your friends feel when you always persist in shutting them out?"

She stared at him startled. He had reversed the process that went on in her mind. It was people who were always shutting her out—out of everything, the music, the laughter—and the love.

"Come along now Mena, no more of this baby stuff. What have you got to wear?"

She said in spite of herself—"I have a very beautiful real Japanese kimono."

A wild color surged into her face and her eyes widened. For a moment she had a bright gleam of her sister's animation.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Not So Goofy

The Secretary of Today Rates High in Brains

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Queries have come to us concerning the problem of office jobs for the schoolgirl graduates. Simultaneously there comes a statement from Miss Anne G. Corrigan, assistant professor, New York university school of commerce, to the effect that the depression and its aftermath have opened up unprecedented opportunities for the college woman trained in both business and secretarial work.

"Both depressions were accompanied by all the usual difficulties incident to such cyclical movements, but, in addition, the numerous new business laws and regulations of the past few years placed a heavy toll upon the time and energy of employers which, in turn, created an imperative need for intelligent, trained, secretarial assistance," said Miss Corrigan.

"Busy executives are busier than ever, and they have been required to spend more time than ever before away from their offices, either in Washington or at trade conferences in various parts of the country, out in their own field, or adjusting labor difficulties and, in consequence, they must have efficient and intelligent persons in the home offices."

Today's successful secretary, according to Miss Corrigan, must have a knowledge of business administration and accounting as well as typewriting and shorthand.

"She must be able to handle her employer's personal finances, see that the data for his several income tax returns are in proper order and, in some cases, assist in the preparation of the returns, and often has the monthly job of balancing what is left in the bank balances or check book record. And she must have a good speaking voice and an attractive personality, for she must meet many people and transact a great deal of business over the telephone.

"Employers ask nowadays for secretaries, not stenographers, and increasingly demand college training," Miss Corrigan adds.

United Ireland Rally Will Be Held in City Sunday

Preceded by a parade, the Allied Irish Societies will hold a massmeeting Sunday afternoon in Garfield park. Former United States Congressman Clare G. Fenerty of Philadelphia will talk on "Ireland, One and Undivided." More than 100,000 persons are expected to attend the rally.

The Housewife

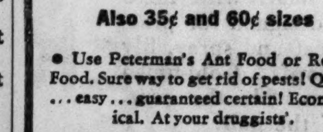

Housewives who have used ironing boards with the old-fashioned sleeve boards attached have had to practice a little legerdemain, for it's not easy to iron a dress or a kimono with that narrow piece of wood jutting out above the surface of the board.

A new invention does away with this obstacle. The sleeve board is there when needed, but when it is not you simply bend it back, out of the way. Also, it clamps to the ironing board and is firmly supported by a little metal rest. You can take it off entirely, if you wish.

Another new feature: a pad, made to fit, and a cover which snaps over the sleeve board with an elastic are for sale with this new device. And they are not expensive.

Good Morning!

"They do funny things in Hollywood."

"There," I thought, "is my review all done for me—with a little editing." As so:

The producers, director, and scenarist sure did funny things. But the cast—with the exception of Mona Barrie and according enthusiastic mention to Priscilla Lane, proved gallant fighters for a worthless cause.

See you tomorrow.

Include a can of salmon and a package of gingerbread mix in your grocery order for this short cut menu. In addition, you'll want tomatoes and beets, fresh peaches and cabbage for the slaw that goes into the tomato shells. There's nothing expensive on this menu, neither is there anything difficult or lengthy of preparation.

The old fashioned way to cook beets was to boil them an hour or longer in their skins, but nutritionists have decided that you may as well peel them and cut them up for cooking, for although some of the red juice comes out in the cooking water, it will cook back again into the beets if the water is allowed to evaporate. Today's recipe dispenses with water, cooks the beets in butter [or margarine] in 10 minutes or not much longer.

SHORT CUT DINNER
Salmon Cutlets with Cream Sauce
Parsley Buttered Potatoes
Tomatoes Stuffed with Cole Slaw
Chopped Beets in Butter with Celery Seed
Hot Gingerbread [made from Mix]
Peaches and Cream
Coffee

SALMON CUTLETS.
[Serves Four.]

Melt four tablespoons butter and blend in four tablespoons flour. Add one cup milk, cook and stir until thick. Add one can flaked salmon, the yolk of an egg, and salt and pepper. Shape the mixture into cutlets and fry in deep or shallow fat until golden brown. Serve with medium white sauce [two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, one-quarter teaspoon salt, a little pepper, and a cup of milk].

BEETS IN BUTTER WITH CELERY SEED.

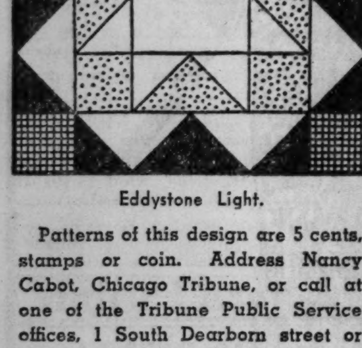

Wash and pare a bunch of small beets. Dice them finely or put them through the coarse knife on the food grinder. Melt two tablespoons butter in a heavy pan, add beets, sprinkle with salt, and cover. Cook gently for 10 minutes or until the beets are tender. Sprinkle with celery seed and serve. [Of course, if you haven't celery seed or don't care for its flavor, the beets are good "as is."]

Gingerbread mixes are splendid kitchen helpers. All you do is add water according to the directions on the package, give the batter a stir, pour it into a greased pan, and the gingerbread is ready for baking. You can't tell the flavor of gingerbread made with a good mix from that made from the beginning in your own little kitchen. For inexperienced cooks especially the gingerbread mix is a time and reputation saver.

If your family is the kind which prefers gingerbread as a dessert to gingerbread as bread, serve it in squares topped with sliced and sugared fresh peaches, and serve some kind of bread or roll during the dinner course.

"When the Business Woman Cooks," our new booklet of suggestions and recipes for busy women [and men cooks, too], is proving popular with readers. The recipes are planned to serve four, but may be divided easily if there are only two persons in the family. Copies are 5 cents each by mail, 3 cents if picked up in person at one of the two Tribune public service offices, Tribune Tower lobby and 1 South Dearborn street. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

'Eddystone Light' Is English Quilt of Rare Beauty

Eddystone Light.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

By NANCY CABOT.

"Eddystone Light" is an old English design, and the inspiration for this pieced block was the beam flashing from one of several lighthouses which were built on a group of rocks in the English channel southwest of Plymouth. Either printed or plain materials may be used. The coverlet contains only pieced blocks set together to form an all-over design. The nine inch white border surrounding the coverlet is quilted in the popular sunburst design. This pattern also was used to indicate the rays of light as the warning signal flashes off and on.

Comfort on Torrid Days

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

Cool comfort for torrid days—that's the motto of this simple frock with distinctive lines. It makes up beautifully in all the colorful and inexpensive sheers, both cotton and silk. Its V neckline may be left plain or may be edged with braid or lace. There is another scheme, too. Give the dress a bit of collar, as shown in the sketch at the right. The full and comfortable sleeves, cut in so casually with the shoulderline, may be edged to match the neckline, or have a narrow bit of braid attached. Around the slim waist is a narrow belt or a sash, as you choose. The skirt is paneled for perfect fit and enough fullness to assure grace and comfort in walking.

This is the sort of dress you can wear all day this season. It is pretty enough for all your informal social events, and it's extremely easy to sew. What's more, it's inexpensive, which is an item to be considered, you will admit.

Style No. 2082 is designed for sizes 16, 18, and 20 years, and 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3⅝ yards of 39 inch material, with ¼ yard of 39 inch contrasting.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

The most ironical thing about bridge is that experts sometimes take a severe licking on hands that an out-and-out novice would bring home without difficulty. The hand shown below is one of these. With every card exposed, the play for the contract is so absurdly easy that I hesitate to present the deal at all, because I realize that I will get countless letters deriding the play of the declarer. I urge readers, however, to bear in mind that the declarer could not know about the singleton jack of clubs in East's hand, and to base their criticism, not on the result, but on each play as it was made.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 no trump	Pass	5 no trump	Pass
6 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

Undeniably, South's two no trump was a stretch, his five honor tricks being comparatively "bare." I criticize this bid without criticizing South's next bid of six no trump. The fact that he had every ace and, thus, every control, indicated that North's hand must be replete with kings and queens and the slam bid, therefore, offered a good gamble.

Now for the play. West, completely in the dark, chose to open the nine of hearts. Dummy and East ducked and declarer's ten won. There now were in sight eleven top tricks. The twelfth could be gained in any of several different ways: By finding the diamond king in front of the queen; by dropping, or finessing against, the club jack; or, finally, by a squeeze. Declarer attempted to retain as many of these chances as possible. He cashed four heart tricks, discarding his own deuce of diamonds, while East followed suit and West let go a low spade and low diamond. Declarer then entered his hand with the ace of spades, cashed the spade queen, and led a low diamond toward dummy.

When West, without the slightest hesitation, followed with the seven spot, declarer decided that he did not have the king. Therefore, to retain control as far as possible, he put in dummy's nine spot. [So far it is difficult to find fault with any play made by the declarer.] East took the diamond nine with the ten, and returned a spade. Declarer naturally dropped the low diamond. West let go the diamond jack. Now, on the possibility that the diamond king might drop and, further, to get an absolute count on all suits, declarer led the diamond five to his own ace.

When West discarded a club on this trick his original distribution could be counted exactly. He had been shown to have only three spades, two hearts, and three diamonds, hence must have started with five clubs. Declarer, now in his own hand, with only A-Q-6-5 of clubs left and K-10-9 in dummy, had only one percentage method of playing the hand. Since West had had five clubs and East only one, it was originally five to one that the club jack was with the long suit. Hence, to play to the king and back to the A-Q apparently would be futile. On that assumption declarer led a low club and finessed dummy's nine spot. Came the flood! East won and gobbled up the remaining four tricks!

As I said originally, any dub would have made this hand, merely by banging down a high club honor at the start. But I must admit that my sympathy goes out to the beaten declarer.

Their wedding will take place in St. Matthews' church, Evanston, with a reception following at the home of Miss Watrous' uncle, Dr. Arthur H. Curtis, with whom she and her mother make their home. Miss Mary Curtis will be her cousin's maid of honor, and Miss Watrous' sister, Mrs. James Howlie Robinson, will be the matron of honor. Another cousin of Miss Watrous, Mrs. Claude Huck, the former Barbara Watrous; Miss Philomela Baker, and Miss Elizabeth Devine of Harrisburg, Pa., will be the bridesmaids.

James J. O'Leary of Boston will be Mr. White's best man, and ushering will be a cousin of Miss Watrous, Robert Rockwell; Mr. Huck, Mr. Robinson, and John Stearns.

Morgan-Fischer Nuptials in Florida.

Announcement is made of the marriage on July 2 in Palm Beach, Fla., of Mrs. Grace Long Morgan of Palm Beach and New York, to Franz William Fischer of 430 Barry avenue. The wedding was a quiet one in the Episcopal church of Bethesda-by-the-Sea. Richard O. Fischer of Omaha, Neb., was his brother's best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Fischer have gone to Cuba for ten days and when they return from the island they will be at 2427 Pine Tree drive, Miami Beach, until they start north. Mr. Fischer, who is well known to Lake Michigan and Lake Geneva sailors, has been asked to act as judge for the Inland Lakes Yachting association regatta to be held on Lake Winnebago at Neenah, Wis., starting Aug. 15, so he and his bride will come north in time for the regatta.

Energy Foods Needed During Summer Heat

By GLADYS BEVANS.

To have your children wind up the summer "tops" in health has been our subject for this week. Let's add today something about food.

To far too many housewives and, in fact, people in general, summer is synonymous with iced drinks, cold foods, refrigerator concoctions. In addition, "heavy" foods are scowled upon by most who provision for a family.

I believe that is all a great mistake. And it's no theory I'm putting forth I assure you—either as regards feeding adults or children.

An excess of cold foods and chilled drinks, with emphasis on the "lightness" of the diet, is responsible for many upset digestions in warm weather and for much less vitality with which to meet the inroads that heat does make upon the strength. I've seen people "set on their feet" in a severe hot spell by a good husky meal such as is served in winter—people who had been active and yet subsisting on cold foods and light foods.

Feed your active children and the busy members of your families on well balanced meals with the calories they require for vigor. That doesn't mean that, for instance, you'd choose hot puddings and hot pies and rich recipes especially—but it does mean there's no taboo on such menus as baked potato and broiled chops, which can be tempered if you wish with not-too-cold iced tea or milk and a fruit and cookie dessert.

Baseball Party Letters Must Go in Mails Today

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

No time to waste today, boys and girls! If you haven't already written for an invitation to our next party, better get a move on, because this is your last chance. Unless your note is mailed so that it will reach me by tomorrow morning, you're going to be out of luck.

The children who will be invited to our party at Wrigley field will be selected tomorrow, and on July 14th they'll see the Chicago Cubs play the Philadelphia team.

Any girl or boy is eligible to try for an invitation, and all you have to do is write a letter telling me why you'd like to be included in this gay party, and be sure to tell me your full name, address, and age. If you forget any one of these three items, you can't be a winner. Each child must write his or her own letter. Please don't ask for invitations for other children. If you have friends who wish to come they must write letters, too, although they may be sent in the same envelope with yours, if you wish.

As I have said, you don't need to worry about your spelling or your penmanship—I don't care about such things. All I'd like to know is whether you'd really like to come to this party. Out of all the youngsters who write to me I want to choose those to whom the game will be the biggest treat. We always have a grand time at Wrigley field, so if you're an enthusiastic Cub fan, you'd better get your letter in the mail today. Send it to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

The names of the winners will be announced in next Sunday's TRIBUNE.

I want to remind last week's winners, who have been invited to our ice revue that tomorrow's the happy day. So if your name was printed in my column last Sunday and you haven't received a personal invitation from me, you'd better telephone me immediately.

Zionists of America Score Nazi Violence as Convention Ends

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—(AP)—The Zionist Organization of America closed its forty-first annual convention today with an attack upon Nazi "violence and brutality" toward Jews in Austria and Germany.

Voicing the protest of "Israel and all enlightened mankind," a resolution adopted by the convention charged the "Nazi régime flouts all conceptions of decency and civilized conduct" and expressed sympathy for the "victims of these shocking persecutions."

Dr. Solomon Goldman of Chicago, newly elected president, told the convention Palestine has become the "most vital force in the economic rehabilitation of oppressed Jewries and the most potent factor in the revival of the creative genius of the Jewish people."

CHICAGO DISTRICT GETS $1,600,000 FOR PAVING JOBS

PWA Will Pay Half; Gas Tax the Rest.

BY HAL FOUST.

Three highway projects in the Chicago area, to cost approximately $1,600,000, were announced yesterday by F. Lynden Smith, state director of public works. Half of the cost will be paid from a $1,594,625 federal Public Works administration grant and the other half from state gasoline tax revenue. Construction is to start this summer.

Rand road, which was posted with the U. S. 12 markers this year, is to be widened, partly on a new location, for 5.5 miles north from the Cook county line to beyond Lake Zurich. This route, with its heavy trafic between Chicago and southern Wisconsin, is now a forty foot slab from Chicago to the Cook-Lake line. In Lake county it is a winding eighteen foot road with dangerous dips and curves. On the shore of Lake Zurich it is especially dangerous.

Ashland Avenue to Be Widened.

Ashland avenue is to be widened and repaved between Warren avenue and Lake street. This section, about a quarter of a mile long, is now a congested bottleneck in a north and south artery through Chicago's west side.

In the third project the state will lay 8.25 miles of 22 foot pavement on Illinois 54, the Three-States highway, from North avenue at Villa Park and Elmhurst to Higgins road at Oakton street. This will be an extension of the Illinois 54 superhighway now ending at North avenue and will be part of the Chicago Regional Plan association's design for a belt route around Chicago connecting Indiana with Wisconsin. Work has been going on since 1930. Four lane pavement has been laid in Du Page county, a viaduct has been built over the Des Plaines valley, and a new road has been built on the south bank of the Calumet Sag canal.

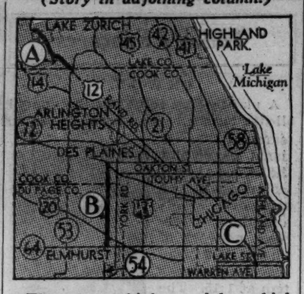

Indiana's Plans for Road.

Robert Kingery, manager of the planning association, said Indiana is completing a survey to carry the Three-States highway from the state line on the north bank of the Little Calumet river to Broadway in Gary. The first section for construction will be to Indianapolis boulevard in Hammond. Eventually, divided pavements will be continued toward La Porte and South Bend.

In Illinois, north from Higgins road, no survey has been made, but the association plans that the Three-States highway should be extended to connect with Skokie road north of Libertyville near Gurnee.

New Road Project

(Story in adjoining column.)

Three new highway jobs which will be started with federal aid this summer. A—Rand road to be widened north from county line. B—Extension of Illinois 54 to be paved north from Elmhurst and Villa Park. C—Ashland avenue to be widened between Warren avenue and Lake street.

CALVIN COLLEGE GROWS IN MIGHT AND CONVICTIONS

Development of Complete University Is Goal.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 5.—[Special.]—Strong religious convictions plus group sacrifice and work is a mighty force to reckon with in any field. When it enters education it sets up a center of attraction and by a law of growth builds ever greater mansions. Its success seems to be in direct proportion to the strength of the convictions.

An example of this is found in Calvin college in the residential section of this city, an institution which has grown from a small Christian school begun by Holland Dutch immigrants in 1876 to a full fledged liberal arts college and theological seminary which may be called the heart of the Christian Reformed Church in America and which has as its goal the development of a complete university.

Back of it is a church membership of 118,973 in 288 congregations. Each church family contributes $3 a year for the support of this college, which has a budget of $110,000 a year. This sustained support is its endowment.

Through it and private gifts from such wealthy members as the Edsko Hekman family, pioneer bankers and furniture men, it has built four major buildings on its ten acre campus. Its student body has grown steadily through the depression. The college enrollment is now 428, the highest in its history.

The college might be described as a vigorous effort at scientific fundamentalism, at putting intellect at work in supporting John Calvin's views of the world and of life in general. What it means to be a Calvinist is described by one of the church's lecturers as follows:

"He who believes in God without reserve and is determined that God shall be God to him in all his thinking, feeling, willing, in the entire compass of his life activities, intellectual, moral, spiritual, throughout all his individual, social, religious relations, is, by the force of that strictest of all logic which presides over the outworking of principles into thought and life, by the very necessity of the case, a Calvinist."

These Calvinists are concerned over the soul of America, which they have adopted with whole hearts and which they would make into a true democracy. They see their infallible Bible and revelations in danger, not through knowledge but through ignorance. They have seen the frost of doubt upon their children's faith, and they would undergird this with the power of a thorough education under Calvinistic auspices. They would battle modernism with its own weapons.

It is interesting to note that the Calvin College club of graduate students at the University of Michigan this year took highest rank in scholarship.

Dr. Clarence Bouma, in writing of the school and American life in the semi-centennial volume of Calvin college, traces the dominating schools of thought that have shaped this country to Puritanism and pragmatism. The sub soil of the latter philosophy is found in the achievements of modern science, technology, commerce, industry, and finance.

"Into these lines of endeavor," he says, "our nation has thrown its greatest efforts. In them it has found—and lost—its soul."

Objectives Set Forth.

Defining Puritanism as "a trembling walk with God," he continues:

"Our school should incarnate, apply, and propagate the essential spirit and principles of a 20th century Puritan idealism in the midst of a system of thought and life which in all its expressions and ramifications is deeply influenced and increasingly dominated by the spirit and principles of utilitarian pragmatism."

The Calvin institution has come through three stages. It was on June 15, 1894, according to Dean Albertus J. Rooks, professor of Latin language and literature, that the decisive step was taken that resulted in the college. The synod made provision to open the literary department of the seminary to those who were not studying for the ministry. The regular four year college course with A. B. degree resulted. The first to receive a degree was the Rev. H. Henry Meeter, now professor of Bible, a course which is not incidental in this college, but which dominates all the courses.

Dr. Ralph Stob President.

The Board of Trade of Grand Rapids aided in the growth of the college by collecting funds for its transfer to the present campus. The president is Dr. Ralph Stob, professor of Greek language and literature. He is a graduate of Calvin, but took his doctorate at the University of Chicago.

The college makes religious instruction, either doctrinal or historical, compulsory for all classes of students. All students must attend chapel at 9:40 a. m. each school day and attend church on the Sabbath. The courses are a general college course, pre-seminary, education, pre-medical, law and engineering, business administration, forestry, and nursing.

The general college requires 125 hours of semester work. This must include Bible, English, French or German, history, philosophy, natural science, and Latin or Greek. The ideal of all the teaching is to find the presence of God in everything.

CITY'S LICENSE FEE REVENUES SHOW AN INCREASE OVER 1937

The revenue from all city licenses in the first six months of 1938 was $10,073,523, compared to $9,642,274 in the same period of last year, City Collector Louis Rixman said yesterday. This includes $4,939,050 in vehicle licenses for 1938, which was $79,670 more than was collected in the first half of 1937.

Regulatory license fees this year were $5,134,473, including $2,849,700 for taverns and liquor stores. Corresponding fees for the first half of 1937 totaled $4,782,894. Increased fees voted in December to aid in restoring pay cuts to city employés were responsible for the gain.

The money collected for vehicle licenses is spent for street repair and maintenance while revenue from regulatory licenses is used for corporate purposes.

A LITTLE GIRL'S TEARS SET ASIDE EDICT OF COURT

The tears of Marguerite Hebel, 8 years old, yesterday caused Judge John J. Lupe to allow her to remain with her mother, Mrs. Marcella Hebel Kowaleski, 1751 Kimball avenue, despite a court order awarding custody of the girl to the father, George Hebel.

Last Jan. 8 Hebel and his wife were divorced and custody of Marguerite and Richard, 11, was awarded to the father. On June 14 the girl left her father's home at 1210 North Bell avenue and went to the home of her mother who had remarried. As a result Hebel had his former wife brought to court on a contempt order.

In Judge Lupe's chambers, the girl said she wanted to stay with her mother. She said she had gone to her mother because her father had made her throw away a dress which had been given her by her mother. Continuing the hearing, Jude Lupe ordered social service workers to investigate to see if the girl should remain permanently with her mother.

ETHICS QUESTION RAISED IN DEFEAT OF SEABISCUIT

Owner Howard Finds No Fault.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Many arguments were heard at Arlington Park yesterday on the amount of ground Seabiscuit lost at the Post and Paddock club turn when, according to many observers, he was carried wide by Mrs. Emil Denemark's Melodist in the Stars and Stripes handicap Monday. The winner of the race was Melodist's stable companion, War Minstrel.

The three stewards, Christopher J. Fitzgerald, Webb Everett, and Otto W. Lehman, said they saw no interference and thus gave no thought to a disqualification. Had Melodist fouled Seabiscuit on the turn War Minstrel also would have been disqualified.

The rules of racing provide that if one horse in an entry is guilty of a foul, all the horses running in the entry must be disqualified.

Recall 1927 Futurity.

Chicagoans recalled the 1927 Futurity at Belmont Park in which Mrs. John Hertz's Anita Peabody and Reigh Count finished first and second. A claim of foul was lodged against Reigh Count. It was charged he had interfered with Victorian, the colt that had finished third.

The claim was not allowed. Had the racing officials ruled it a foul, however, both Anita Peabody and Reigh Count would have been disqualified and Mrs. Hertz would have lost the valuable Futurity purse, which totaled $91,790 that year.

There are many instances where an entry has been disqualified because one horse, which failed to place, had committed a foul during the running of the race.

Roberts Denies Interfering.

Jocky Porter Roberts, who rode Melodist, declared yesterday he did not interfere with Seabiscuit.

"I was having a hard time keeping Melodist from lugging in toward the rail on the first turn," he said. "I was excited about my own horse and if we did carry Seabiscuit out I can't recall it. I don't remember seeing Seabiscuit in the race until we were going down the back stretch and he was in front of us."

Seabiscuit had started from the extreme outside post position. Melodist lugged out and soon was running directly on the inside of Seabiscuit. It was Jocky George Woolf's plan to move Seabiscuit over close to the rail on the turn. Had he made such a move, he would have fouled Melodist. At that stage Seabiscuit was finding it difficult to untrack himself in the soft going.

Woolf Goes West.

Jocky Woolf left soon after the race for California where he will ride Seabiscuit again in the California Gold cup on July 16. He made no statement regarding the incident before he left. He did not claim a foul. Some spectators declared, however, that he stood up in his saddle, glared at Jocky Roberts on Melodist and shouted "Move over."

There is no telling how much, if any, ground Seabiscuit lost through the incident. It may have amounted to a length. The stewards said he did not lose ground.

Race followers who examined the chart of the race figured that Melodist was 36 lengths behind the winner at the finish. So, they wondered, what was he doing in there?

Charles S. Howard of San Francisco, owner of Seabiscuit, did not regard the incident at the first turn as having anything to do with the final outcome of the race.

"It was the weatherman and not Melodist that kept us from winning the race," he said. "Seabiscuit takes care of himself in those situations when he runs on a track he likes."

He Likes to Travel.

Seabiscuit gets away today for California, but will be back at Arlington Park in time to run in the Gold cup on July 30. His great rally in the Stars and Stripes has won him many followers in Chicago.

"Seabiscuit is a good traveler," his trainer, Tom Smith, said yesterday. "He enjoys a train ride and sleeps as well on his straw bed in an express car as he does on his stall floor."

One thing that impressed horsemen was the way Seabiscuit ran with one ear pricked forward and the other back. The Arabs have always contended that this is the stamp of an intelligent horse and that he is thinking as well as running.

GOMEZ SPAT IS OVER; LEFTY AND WIFE ARE PALS

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—Vernon Gomez, Yankee pitcher, who will be the American league's starter in tomorrow's All-Star game in Cincinnati, bade his estranged wife, June O'Dea, an affectionate farewell as he left New York today.

"I've just decided that Lefty isn't so bad after all. We've been seeing a lot of each other lately," Miss O'Dea said. "Why, we even played golf together for a whole week without quarreling. That's a record for any couple."

Apparently all the accusations of black eyes and fights with which June charged Lefty last May in Supreme court, have been dropped, as was her separation suit. Attendants at her apartment house said the temperamental pitcher was a constant visitor.

EYSTON FLIES TO UTAH TO ATTACK HIS OWN RECORD

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—Hoping to raise his own world land speed record of 312.20 miles an hour, Capt. George E. T. Eyston, British driver, left tonight by plane for the Bonneville salt flats of Utah. He said he would feel well repaid for a year of effort in further perfecting his seven ton streamlined automobile, Thunderbolt, if he can bring the mark up to 330 miles an hour, or about five-and-one-half miles a minute.

Four feet have been added to the tail of this extraordinary machine—now 34 feet 5 inches long—which is incapable of being driven even in the lowest of its three gears, at less than 100 miles an hour. When a run is to be made, Capt. Eyston said, a push is given to the car by a big bus.

IRISH BOXERS ARRIVE TODAY FOR C. Y. O. BOUTS

City Plans Welcome for Invaders.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

This is the day Chicago will greet the Irish amateur boxing champions. The ten boys from Eire, who will meet the Catholic Youth Organization team in Soldiers' field a week from tonight, arrive at 1:30 this afternoon, Chicago daylight time, at Union station.

The Irish squad will be greeted officially by Daniel J. McGrath, Irish consul; Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, director of the C. Y. O.; James O'Keeffe, president of the Holy Name society; Edward Daley, representative of the mayor; William J Campbell, state director of the National Youth association, and Jack Elder, athletic director of the C. Y. O. Irish societies also will have deputations at Union station.

Immediately after the station reception, to which all Chicago is invited, the Irish boys will be taken to the city hall and presented to Mayor Edward J. Kelly. From the mayor's office the squad will proceed to the Auditorium hotel which will be their headquarters during their visit here. The team will train at the C. Y. O. gymnasium, Congress street and Wabash avenue.

Three Are Veterans.

The Irish boxers, who will attempt to hand the C. Y. O. boys their first defeat in intercity or international competition, are John Healy, 112 pounds; Frank Kerr, 118 pounds; Jimmy Smith and Harry Fisher, 126 pounds; Ernie Smith, 135 pounds; Willie Moore and Tommy Byrne, 147 pounds; Dick Reade, 160 pounds; Dick Hearns, 175 pounds, and Matt Lacey, heavyweight. Three of the boys, Kerr, Ernie Smith, and Hearns, were members of the Irish amateur team which was defeated at Soldiers' field, 6 bouts to 2, in the summer of 1933.

The trainer of the team is Frank Cooper. Mike Heaslip is the team manager and Paddy O'Carroll is the delegate from the Irish Amateur Boxing association.

Tom O'Connell and Mike Murphy, C. Y. O. officials who went to New York to greet the Irish team on arrival there, are accompanying the squad to Chicago. It is quite likely that after this afternoon's reception the team will go immediately to the C. Y. O. gymnasium to resume its preparations, which were interrupted by a two day stop-over in New York.

Reception on Surday.

The official civic reception to the Irish lads will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Garfield park bandstand. Judge John P. McGoorty is chairman of this reception and Congressman Clare Gerald Fenerty of Philadelphia will deliver the principal address on the subject "Ireland One and Undivided."

While the arrival of the Irish boys holds Chicago's attention today, there has been no let-up in the drills of the C. Y. O. boxers for the reception they are planning for the Irish boys at Soldiers' field next Wednesday evening. Seventy-nine boys are in camp at the Lewis Holy Name Technical school, Lockport, Ill. Seventeen of the boys who are seeking places on the C. Y. O. international squad are Irish. Ten other races are represented, Italian, Polish, Negro, Mexican, Austrian, German, Jewish, Slovenian, Norwegian, and French.

C. Y. O. Boys Press On.

The boys who prove their ability to the coaches, Paddy Kane and Dick Fitzpatrick, will be named. The eight C. Y. O. champions, who are defending their titles against squad members, are: 112 pounds, Walter Cavalieri; 118 pounds, Frankie Kainrath; 126 pounds, Joe Du Pont; 135 pounds, Joe O'Connell; 147 pounds, Tony Motisi; 160 pounds, Curtis McDaniel; 175 pounds, Embery Adkins, and heavyweight, Clarence Brown.

The C. Y. O. boxers will work daily at Lockport until next Monday and after the light drill on Tuesday the team selections will be announced. The squad will report in Chicago just in time for the official weighing in on the day of the international bouts.

Among the newcomers to All-Star competition are these six who will represent the American league in the sixth annual battle in Cincinnati today.

BY ARCH WARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CINCINNATI, O., July 5.—Amid the flood of conjecture anticipating the outcome of the sixth annual All-Star game in Crosley field tomorrow the impression persists that the underlying purpose of the enterprise more or less has been forgotten. . . . The All-Star contest was conceived and promoted for charity. . . . It has been conducted as such through the years, but the spirit of competition has become so increasingly keen that the charity angle has been ignored in the publicity attending the game. . . . When your correspondent engineered the first interleague battle in Comiskey park in 1933 his suggestion that the net proceeds be donated to a fund to care for aged and disabled players no longer able to provide for themselves was indorsed by both organizations. . . . They have maintained that policy through each succeeding game. . . . It probably is a tribute to the popularity of the promotion that its purpose does not have to be stressed. . . . The All-Star game stands on its merits as a sporting spectacle. . . . In the brief span of five years it has contributed some of the most star-spangled chapters in baseball history. . . . The fact that 140,000 fans applied for the 28,000 seats in Crosley field is evidence of its appeal. . . . Keep in mind while you are shouting for Ducky Medwick, Mel Ott, or Gabby Hartnett to knock the cover off the ball, or imploring Charley Gehringer, Earl Averill, and Jimmy Foxx to bang a homer, there's one group that can't lose. . . . They're the old timers who are down and out, flat broke, and unable to work to get help. . . .

Every club in the American league is represented here tonight except the White Sox. . . . The delegation includes Tom Yawkey and Eddie Collins of the Red Sox; Alva Bradley, C. C. Slapnicka, and Manager Oscar Vitt of the Indians; Walter O. Briggs Sr., Walter O. Briggs Jr., and Manager Mickey Cochrane of the Tigers; Edward Barrow of the Yankees, Donald Barnes and William De Witt of the Browns, Clark Griffith of the Senators, and Roy Mack of the Athletics. . . . Among the National league officials are Boots Weber, Charles Drake, and Bill Veeck of the Cubs; Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey of the Cardinals; Bob Quinn of the Bees, Gerry Nugent of the Phillies; Larry MacPhail of the Dodgers, and Horace Stoneham and Eddie Brannick of the Giants. . . . Billy Herman, Cub second baseman, who is scheduled to start at that position for the Nationals, went to his home in New Albany, Ind., after Monday's double-header in St. Louis. He will motor to Cincinnati in the morning. . . . Stan Hack, Bill Lee, and Gabby Hartnett, the other Cub players named to the All-Star squad, returned to Chicago from St. Louis, but will be here in plenty of time for the squad meeting with Manager Bill Terry tomorrow morning. . . .

President William Harridge brought nearly his entire American league office staf to the game. . . . The party includes Tommy Connolly, supervisor of umpires; Miss Dorothy Hummel, L. C. McEvoy, Miss Mary Ryan, Lew Fonseca, Henry P. Edwards, and Edward Lehmann. . . . President Ford Frick of the National league was accompanied by Harvey Traband and Bill Brandt. . . . Mr. Frick announced that Jimmy Wilson of the Phillies will serve as coach in place of Frankie Frisch, who is trying to restore normal strength to a weak ankle. . . .

Both Bill Terry and Joe McCarthy were in amiable mood this evening. . . . "There's no use worrying," McCarthy philosophized. "I quit that several years ago." . . . We'll remind him of that statement if and when the Yankees tumble to third place. . . . Leo Durocher of the Dodgers was named as the starting shortstop because Lefty Gomez will be on the mound for the Americans. . . .

Hotels are turning away customers without reservations. . . . Al

GOMEZ FACES VANDER MEER; TWO CUBS START

Kreevich of Sox in A. L. Lineup.

New York in '39

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CINCINNATI, O., July 5. — New York's Yankee stadium was chosen as the site of the 1939 All-Star game today at a meeting of officials of the National and American leagues and Commissioner K. M. Landis. The date of the game will be determined at a meeting of officials in December.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., July 5.—Baseball's annual one day spectacle—the sixth struggle between the elite performers of the two majors—takes the stage in Crosley field here tomorrow. Some 28,000 folks, all that can be jammed into the premises without overflowing into playing space, will be there to see whether the American league again proves its superiority or whether the National can recover some lost prestige by accomplishing its second victory since the game was originated in 1933.

Today, except among the real baseball people who worry but don't predict, the question on all corners was "Who is going to win?" Anything can happen in a single game. The American will present, as usual, a combination of power hitters. The National's layout, with less of a home run threat in its attack, will attempt to offset this lack by employing pitchers who have been amazingly effective. So it is just a matter of whether these pitchers can keep the American league power in check.

Vander Meer Faces Gomez.

The starting pitchers will be Johnny Vander Meer, the left handed sensation who recently pitched two successive no-hit games for the Reds, and Vernon [Lefty] Gomez, the Yankee southpaw for whom these All-Star struggles are old stuff. Bill Terry, the Giant manager, who will lead the National All-Stars, announced Vander Meer as his choice almost as soon as he arrived here today. McCarthy waited for several hours before reaching his decision, the delay being occasioned by the fact that there are uncertainties about some of the eight moundsmen at his command.

Terry picked Vander Meer in the face of hints that the kid isn't quite as strong as he was a couple of weeks ago. The youth had to quit against the Cubs in last Sunday's game when they broke his winning streak. He went eight innings and lasted that long only because he was bathed with iced towels after every inning. Terry's answer to this was, "Well, even if he is tired, he shouldn't notice three innings of work, and besides, he has done enough to deserve the honor of starting."

Who'll Follow? No One Knows.

Neither McCarthy nor Terry was sure tonight about which way they'd turn for pitchers after their starters had either served their three allotted innings or been knocked out. Terry said that for Vander Meer's successor he would decide between Bill Lee of the Cubs or his own Carl Hubbell and finish with Mace Brown, the curve ball rescuing specialist of the Pirate staf. If the American leaguers should become too tough, Terry might call on Paul Derringer of the Reds, but he prefers not to use two pitchers from the same club. His other choice is Jim Turner of the Bees.

McCarthy's pitching confusion can be attributed to the fact that three of his seven men toiled yesterday and another is thought to be in a slump. Bob Feller, the Cleveland speed boy, worked a full game yesterday. Johnny Murphy of the Yankees, added to the All-Star list when

TALKED ABOUT IS DASH VICTOR AT ARLINGTON PARK

Calumet Stable Takes Lead for Meeting.

Warren Wright's Calumet stable took the lead yesterday in the number of races won by a single establishment at Arlington Park when Talked About came from behind to capture the Palatine purse by four lengths.

Talked About ran the six furlongs in 1:12 4-5. It was the fastest race run at Arlington since the recent rainy period. It was Talked About's second consecutive victory against the best sprinters. Candescent was second and Tunbridge third.

Talked About was the twelfth Calumet horse to parade to the post during the Arlington season. Five of them have won.

Jocky Irving Anderson was on Talked About. It was the tenth victory he has scored since the Arlington season opened.

While leading the horses to the post in the fifth race on Monday Outrider Frank Miller suffered a fractured finger in quieting a nervous entrant. C. Mulaney donned the hunter's red coat yesterday.

Jocky W. J. Johnston, who broke his collarbone in a spill at Fairmount Park, will resume riding at Arlington Park within a few days.

Apprentice C. Perkins, lightweight rider for the Woolford farm, who arrived from California, will be seen under silks at Arlington Park within the next few days.

Trainer Tony Pelleteri's Mower, Bonnie Clabber, and Startling, which raced in Detroit Saturday, returned to Arlington Park yesterday. Jocky Robert Finnerty, who went to Detroit to ride them, also returned.

Trainer Ted Horning shipped Figaro, Air Tube, and Air Chute from Detroit to Arlington Park. Jocky Basil James, the stable rider, also returned from the motor city.

Arlington officials are waiting word from Trainer Earl Sande on when he plans to ship Col. Maxwell Howard's stable, which includes The Chief and Stagehand, to Arlington Park. Both 3 year olds are scheduled starters in the Classic stakes.

HIGH TOP, having speed from start and under light restraint to the stretch turn, responded to strong hand riding after coming out in the final quarter and got up in the final stride. EPIDOR, taken to inside after being rushed into command, was under severe pressure last three-sixteenths and held on fairly well but was not good enough. MOLIDA far back in the early stages came to the extreme outside in the stretch and closed a gap in the final eighth.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

ROMAINE, away fast and having speed, was under energetic riding from the start, held on well to wear down STONES LANDING and won drawing clear. Latter took command easily, rapidly increased his advantage when placed to urging after about three-eighths but weakened badly in the final furlong. GALLANT STROKE, always clear while racing a trifle wide, was strongly urged from the start and held on well.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $25 each.

Time, :23 3-5, :47 2-5, 1:13 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Bustle, $10.00 straight, $5.20 place, $3.40 show; Pelter, $5.20 place, $4.60 show; Floragina, $3.80 show. Winner trained by E. Haughton. Went to post at 3:10½. At post 1 minute. Start good, from gate. Won easily, place driving.

BUSTLE, well up while racing in hand the first three-eighths, raced to FLORAGINA quickly on the stretch turn and opening up a good lead continued well to win with something left. PELTER, slow to respond came strongly while securing room between horses in the last eighth. FLORAGINA had good speed from the start, saved ground and readily submitted to BUSTLE but held on with determination, although unable to withstand PELTER.

FOURTH RACE—Seven furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23 2-5, :47, 1:12 4-5, 1:25 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Boston Sound, $6.60 straight, $3.00 place, $2.80 show; Spanish Babe, $3.00 place, $2.80 show; Bold Lover, $5.80 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 3:36. At post 4 minute. Start bad, from permanent stalls. Won easily, place driving.

BOSTON SOUND, rank at post, and placed outside the stalls for the start, began in motion, was immediately taken to inside and assisted by good rating while making the early pace in hand, sustained fine speed to end and won with something left. SPANISH BABE was under vigorous riding after about three-eighths and held on with determination. BOLD LOVER, in hand for almost five-eighths, made only a weak bid when called upon and weakening, barely outlasted BRISTLE.

FIFTH RACE—One mile and an eighth. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Winner trained by J. H. Skirvin. Went to post at 4:04½. Off at once. Start good, from gate. Won driving, place same.

MIDAS, well up from start and saving much ground rallied to only light pressure after reaching the final quarter and, wearing down AL AU FEU was ready to draw out. Latter receiving a poorly judged ride was forced very wide when beginning to move up after reaching the final half mile, continued to race wide after taking command and held on well but could not withstand the winner. SIR MIDAS made the early pace under clever rating, swerved out slightly on the stretch turn and gave way gradually thereafter.

SIXTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,200. Net value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50.

TALKED ABOUT, vigorously ridden the first quarter and on the inside throughout was steadied around the turn, quickly disposed of TUNBRIDGE when returned to stout urging and drew out fast through the last eighth. CANDESCENT, raced wide throughout and always under good urging held on courageously. TUNBRIDGE had the most speed from the start, bore out on the stretch turn and weakened sharply near the end.

Winner trained by R. O Higdon. Went to post at 4:55. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won driving, place same.

MISS FIREFLY taken in hand after being rushed into command with a big loss of ground in the first half mile, increased her advantage under mild urging when approaching the stretch and, holding on with determination under strong handling, outstayed NATALIE ALICE. Latter began to work her way up after about three-quarters, stood a light drive gamely and was slowly wearing down the winner. EMIR, in hand early, rallied when called upon but was overmatched.

EIGHTH RACE—One mile and an eighth. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

CAPTAIN JINKS taken to the outside after a quarter, improved his position slowly while racing under a steady hold the first seven-eighths, took command quickly when ready and won with something left. REX EQUINUS had speed from the start, readily gave way to the winner but held on fairly well to the last sixteenth where he faltered badly. ENTREE raced prominently from the start and had no mishaps.

Close Races Mark Play in Park Softball

The Chicago Motion Picture league, with three teams tied for first place, can point to the tightest race in the Grant Park softball association, but there are other organizations—Chicago Jewelers and Santa Fe club, for instance—which are speculating as to where championships are ultimately going to settle.

Paramount, Photoplay-Film and the Elmans share the Motion Picture lead, each having scored six victories in eight games. The championship apparently rests among these three, for the next team—Filmack—trails by three games in fourth place.

Top position in the Jewelers league is held by two teams, Braudes and Buchsbaums, both undefeated in four games. The Santa Fe club also has undefeated co-leaders, team No. 5 of General Office and Outbound Freight No. 6 each having scored three triumphs. Corwith No. 4 also is very much in the running with two victories and one defeat.

Bismarck leads the Loop Hotel's bracket No. 1 with five victories and two defeats, but is being pressed by Stevens, four and three, and Palmer House and Allerton, three and three each. La Salle holds a two game lead in Bracket No. 2, with Sherman four and two, and Congress four and three, second and third, respectively.

TEMPLETON POLO TEAM DEFEATS BOSTWICKS, 11-3

Westbury, N. Y., July 5.—[Special.]—The Templeton polo team, with the Guest brothers, Winston and Raymond, setting a fast scoring pace, defeated the Bostwicks, 11 to 3, today on Whitney field. The two now are tied for the lead in the Meadowbrook club's tournament for twenty-goal teams, with five victories and one defeat apiece.

The playoff is scheduled for Thursday.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

Entries Will Close Friday at Midnight.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

There are names, great golfing names, in the archives of the Chicago District Golf association in its La Salle hotel headquarters, but yesterday officials in charge of the organization's second annual Chicago open tournament, to be played on July 22, 23, and 24 at Olympia Fields, were convinced that they had the most brilliant collection of them all ready for the main event of Chicago's golf season.

Listed among the entries for the tournament were the names of professionals who have dominated American golf for a span of two decades. There was Gene Sarazen, defending the title he won at Medinah last year. There was Walter Hagen, one of the truly great names of American sports. There was Ralph Guldahl, the man who in eight June days won his second straight national open crown and his third consecutive western open title. There were such potent swingers as Harry Cooper, Horton Smith, Johnny Revolta, Dick Metz, Jimmy Thomson, Lawson Little, Ky Laffoon, Sam Snead, and Ed Dudley.

Entries for all contestants must be filed with the C. D. G. A. headquarters by midnight Friday. The fee is $5.

Among the former champions who will compete in the thirty-fifth annual Pater-Filius tournament at Midlothian tomorrow are H. B. and Howard Baal of Elmhurst; Walter G. and Walter R. Leininger of Oak Park; D. L. Harrington and Edward of Flossmoor, and the John Van Nortwicks of Chicago Golf. Oldest contestants in the event will be the Jack Benders who have missed only one Pater-Filius in the last 26 years.

Setting a new course record of 33—33—66, Johnny Revolta, professional at the Evanston Country club won the pro-amateur tournament of the Illinois section of the P. G. A. at the Techny course yesterday. Dick Metz of Mill Road farm, 34—33—67 was second and Eddie Williams, Bryn Mawr, 34—34—68, third. The old record was a 67 made by Jimmy Thomson.

The tournament was something new for the Chicago district, the professionals being privileged to bring one, two or three amateurs and the scores of all counted in the prize list. In this way it was possible for one pro to sweep the board, and Revolta came within one of doing it. He had 61 with P. S. Billings, 62 with Evanston's club champion, Steve Williams, but slipped with C. F. Murray to 66.

Two Columbus Players Added to A. A. Stars

Columbus, O., July 5.—(AP)—Manager Burt Shotton of Columbus selected two of his own players today to complete the roster of the American association All-Star team he will pilot in a night game against Indianapolis in Indianapolis July 14.

Shotton, manager of the All-Stars by virtue of his position as manager of the 1937 league champions, named Infielder Jim Bucher and Outfielder Eddie Morgan to round out the squad of twenty.

The eighteen others, six of them from Kansas City, were selected by the American Association Baseball Writers' association. The selections follow:

Pitchers—Kemp Wicker, Kansas City; Leroy Parmelee, Minneapolis; Whitlow Wyatt, Milwaukee; Lloyd Brown, St. Paul, and Raymond Phelps, St. Paul.

Two Indianapolis players named to the squad—Pitcher Vance Page and Catcher Bill Baker—were replaced by runners-up in the voting when the Indians clinched the right to be host by gaining first place in the standings yesterday. The runners-up were Pitcher Phelps and Catcher Linton.

Buffalo Scores Third Straight Cricket Victory

Buffalo St. Catharines defeated Winnipeg, 63 to 46, in the only game of the Chicago cricket tournament at 48th street and the outer drive yesterday. It was Buffalo's third straight triumph. Two games will be played this afternoon at the outer drive between Wilson and Montrose avenue. Buffalo St. Catharines will play a combined Winnetka and Lake Shore team and Winnipeg will play a combined River Forest and Oak Park team.

All-Stars Meet in 6th Annual Battle Today

Hank Greenberg, the Detroit first baseman, withdrew because of an injury, pitched seven and one-half innings in the July 4 double-header. McCarthy admitted he would like to have Murphy available for the finish, but doubted whether it could be done.

Grove Has Been Slipping.

Johnny Allen of the Indians probably will follow Gomez, and if John can control his temper he'll be a tough bird for the Nationals to bring down. The veteran Bob Grove of the Red Sox will be on hand, but he has pitched some poor ball lately. Charley Ruffing of the Yanks, one of the other nominees, pitched a bit more than six innings yesterday and, as McCarthy said, "had nothing." These conditions make it possible that Buck Newsom of the Browns will be called on, leaving Vernon Kennedy of the Tigers for an emergency.

Terry Plans Few Changes.

Terry picked his entire National lineup before he knew who was going to pitch for the Americans, but he suspected it would be Gomez, who has been hit hard in only one of his four previous All-Star appearances. When Terry announced his lineup he declared it was his intention to go through the entire game with the same men, pitchers excepted, unless he had to remove some slow runner in an effort to get a tying or a winning run.

Two Cubs will be represented at the start by Stanley Hack at third base and Billy Herman at second. Herman isn't hitting as he did in previous years, but he's still the league standout at his position and besides might bring his bat back to life for one day. There was great relief among the National league adherents when Terry revealed that Hack would be at third and Mel Ott of his own team would be returned to the outfield, where he served most of his big league time.

Ott to Go to Center.

Ott will be in center, this being a logical move because of the men nominated for the two other fly chasing jobs. Ducky Medwick of the Cardinals, whose hitting in last year's game included two doubles and two singles, will perform in left, his regular position. Ival Goodman of the Reds plays right field regularly and he'll be on his home lot, where that field is deep enough for his style of fancy fly catching.

Left field in the Rhineland park isn't so deep and that's a feature the American league has kept in mind. It accounts for Jimmy Foxx, a right handed hitter whose power mainly is to left, being named instead of Lou Gehrig for first base.

Four Reds Chosen.

The Reds will have four men in the starting National lineup and that's quite an honor for a team which was the league's doormat only a year ago. Catcher Ernie Lombardi will be in there because of his hitting. He likes the local left field wall. Frank McCormick will be at first base and like Vander Meer, is a first year man. They are the first freshmen to be named to a National All-Star aggregation. Goodman, the fourth Red to start, also was chosen because of his hitting as well as his fielding. The Reds have been pretty jittery for the last ten days, but that's a gamble the National league is taking.

McCarthy admitted that at least two of his starters will be supplanted, regardless of how much left handed pitching the Nationals offer. These two are Second Baseman Charley Gehringer of the Tigers and Earl Averill of the Indians.

The umpires will line up with Bill Klem of the National behind the plate, Harry Geisel, American, at first; Lee Ballanfant, National, at second, and Steve Basil, American, at third. At the half way mark Klem will go to third, Geisel behind the plate, and the two others will move up a notch.

In the first All-Star game, played in Chicago in 1933, the Americans won by 4 to 2, Babe Ruth providing most of the heroics. In New York the next year the Americans won again, this time by 9 to 7. In 1935 the American leaguers won in the Cleveland stadium, 4 to 1. In 1936, in Boston, when Charley Grimm led the Nationals, they scored their lone victory, 4 to 3. Last year, in Washington, the Americans triumphed, 8 to 3.

Schacht, famous comedian, was among those who failed to crash the Netherland Plaza this morning. . . . Johnny Vander Meer, who is expected to work three innings for the Nationals, lost thirteen pounds while pitching against the Cubs Sunday. . . . The American league will use the visiting team's dressing room and the National leaguers will use the Reds' quarters. . . . The league presidents have issued orders for the athletes to report to their clubhouses at 11 o'clock in the morning. . . .

Some of the authors predict the National league will withdraw from the All-Star series if its team loses this one. . . . The owners still are smarting from the magazine article Tom Meany of the New York World-Telegram wrote last winter in which he used the All-Star game as evidence that the National is a minor league compared to the American. . . . It is unlikely, however, this will come to pass. . . . American sportsmen don't like quitters. . . . By the way, what became of King Levinsky? . . .

Cincinnati hopes its five representatives in the National league lineup will not reflect the jitters that has gripped the Reds the last few days. . . . In the last four games Bill McKechnie's hirelings have made fourteen errors. . . . Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs is the only National leaguer who has had a place in the six All-Star games. . . . The American league has two, Lou Gehrig of the Yankees and Charley Gehringer of the Tigers. . . . Gehringer's composite batting average for the series is .529, and Gehrig's .200, the same as Hartnett's. . . . Frankie Frisch of the Cardinals, who participated in the first two All-Star games, leads all competitors at bat with a mark of .571. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Hack Wilson pounded out two home runs as the Cubs defeated Brooklyn, 14 to 8. . . . Ray Miller knocked out Sid Terris in one round in New York. . . . The White Sox won their first game under the management of Lena Blackburne. . . . Rene La Coste won the Wimbledon tennis championship by defeating Henri Cochet.

SURVEY REVEALS LUCK IS NEEDED TO FILL CREEL

Michigan Checks Up on Skill vs. Chance.

BY BOB BECKER.

A new and accurate sidelight on how much luck and skill figure in lake and stream fishing has been presented by the Michigan department of conservation. As a result of a scientific investigation, the department comes to this conclusion: A full creel seems to be the result of skill and chance combined with the experienced angler having an edge on the beginner.

The department decided to learn how much skill was involved and how the expert compared with the average. So it issued special creel blanks to a small number of anglers who go fishing regularly and who presumably know what it is all about. Some were "ordinary experts;" others were "expert experts."

The Boys Keep Records.

All the fishermen [seventy-one] filled out the blanks so that a total of 1,812 fishing records were available. Examining these, conservation officials compiled the following facts:

2. The good trout fishermen took twice as many fish as the average fisherman.

3. On lakes the experts took 2.2 fish per hour as compared with 1.7 fish for the average. [What the fisherman calls "off days" brought the average way down. If the expert had turned in only his best days these figures would have been quite different.]

Many Use Fly Rods.

A large percentage of the skilled fishermen used a fly rod. Their favorite hour for fishing was 7 to 8 p. m. [This evening period often is the best time for bass fishing, too.] An examination of the records suggests that more skill is involved in trout fishing than in lake fishing. At least the expert is farther removed from the average in this branch of the sport.

SNITE TO ATTEND RACE IN TRAILER WITH IRON LUNG

If present plans are carried out Fred B. Snite Jr., infantile paralysis victim who has been in an iron lung for months, will attend the Arlington Park races tomorrow or Friday.

He is to go in a new trailer especially built for him in Florida at a cost of $15,000. The vehicle arrived at the home of young Snite's father at 909 Ashland avenue, River Forest, yesterday.

It is air-conditioned and has special generating equipment to furnish power for the iron lung's storage batteries. The trailer is equipped with a set of mirrors through which Snite may view his surroundings. Through this device he expects to look at the races.

COTTON TRAILS IN TRIAL ROUND FOR BRITISH OPEN

Drenched and buffeted by a storm early in the day, Cotton beat par by a stroke at Prince's course with a 71 for 143, while Fallon, who went out after the storm had died away, shot a 73 over the same course to add to the 69 he posted yesterday at St. George's.

A. J. Lacey and Eddie Whitcombe, first day leaders with 68s, both scrambled out in 37 at Prince's and had even more trouble coming home. Whitcombe three-putted No. 17 and had trouble with his irons all day as he took a 76 for 144, and Lacey had a 77 for 145.

Adamick and Jack Trammell Are Suspended

Chairman Joe Triner, Sheldon Clark, and James R. Fitzpatrick of the Illinois boxing commission yesterday suspended Jimmy Adamick for one year and Jack Trammell for five years.

Adamick was awarded a two round knockout over Trammell in Mills stadium June 8 after Trammell had floored the Midland, Mich., fighter, but the 4,000 spectators, who paid $5,000 to see a fight demonstrated their displeasure by booing.

Yesterday the commission declared the bout no contest.

The commission also revoked the promoter's license of Jerry Lavan and suspended for five years Jimmy Brady, manager of Adamick; Jimmy Buchanan, representative of Trammell; Tommy Walsh, who was associated with the promoter, and Jack Kearns, who was mentioned in the testimony taken June 20.

To a question as to what happened to the $1,500, part of the fighters' purses, withheld by the commission, Chairman Triner said:

"The money will be turned over to the promoter. Under the rules of the commission there's nothing else to do."

"Well, what about the spectators? What redress have they?" the commissioner was asked.

"None," Triner replied. "According to our rules the money goes to the promoter."

Andres Returns to Auto Racing at Fair Grounds

The automobile races Sunday on the Fair Grounds Speedway will mark the reappearance of Emil Andres, Chicago driver, who was badly injured at Indianapolis during the running of the 1938 Speedway classic. For a time hope was abandoned for his recovery, but he is now completely well and is anxious to return to the speed sport.

Jimmy Snyder, another Chicago driver, who still holds the record for one lap at the Indianapolis speedway, also will go to the post Sunday. Chet Gardner, Frank Wearne, and Billy Devore, all of whom ran in the money on the Hoosier track, likewise will be in action.

Devore is the son of the late Earl Devore, one of the outstanding pilots of fifteen years ago, whose career was ended when he, along with Norman Batten, another noted pilot, were lost at sea in the Vestris disaster.

Gardner, a veteran of the dirt track game, has driven frequently in Chicago. He began his racing career at fairs in the southwest, graduated to the coast tracks, and finally into the big time. He has driven in the Indianapolis race seven times.

Wearne, who finished tenth at Indianapolis this year, is also a graduate of the coast tracks, but has been winning consistently in the midwest this season.

Pallatin and Woods Meet in Marigold Bout

Tommy Pallatin, Golden Gloves graduate and former National A. A. U. lightweight champion, will meet Harvey Woods of St. Paul in an eight round return bout in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, tonight.

Last month Woods scored a one round technical knockout over Pallatin when the latter was disqualified for going down without being hit. It was Pallatin's first setback in seventeen professional appearances. He is confident of obtaining revenge.

In the eight round semi-windup Billy Marquart, only fighter to whip Sammy Angott, lightweight champion of Kentucky, will try to make it two in a row over Lloyd Pine.

He couldn't go the route because he was not trained down for ENDURANCE

RESOURCES CORP. ASKS COURT TO HALT SEC PROBE

Hearings Held in Illegal Manner, It Charges.

Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—The Resources Corporation International of Chicago today filed suit in the United States District court here asking that the Securities and Exchange commission be restrained from conducting further hearings into the activities of the company, which is promoting a Mexican timber land development.

Company attorneys asked that the SEC be enjoined from "usurping" power and from enforcement of "illegal, unreasonable, arbitrary, and capricious" regulations.

The corporation, which said it owns 2,000,000 acres of timber properties in Mexico, brought its legal action as the result of hearings in Chicago at which the corporation sought to increase its outstanding stock. The corporation applied for permission to offer 35,000 shares of its stock for sale.

Claim Holdings Worth 9 Million.

In connection with the proposed sale, the SEC ordered an investigation into the affairs of the corporation, which valued its timber holdings at nine million dollars. The Chicago hearings disclosed that Harper S. Hoover, Resources chairman, made a down payment of $152,919 on a $359,154 equity in the two million acres of timber land. The hearings were conducted by Examiner Henry Fitts of the SEC.

According to testimony, Hoover induced investors to put $731,000 into the corporation upon the representation he and his partners had put two million dollars into it. Hoover and his partners were said to have canceled their contributions and to have used investors' funds solely in the other operations of the company.

As the SEC dug deeper into the affairs of the corporation, its officers filed a petition to withdraw their application for sale of stock. This action moved the hearing to Washington, where the SEC denied the company's petition so that its investigators could continue their examination.

Call Examiner Prejudiced.

Resources corporation alleges that the hearings in Chicago were held in a manner not permitted by law and without regard to constitutional rights; that no proper opportunity was given its counsel to cross-examine witnesses, and that the examiner, by his rulings, indicated he was prejudiced.

The bill further alleges that the SEC gave copies of the company's list of stockholders to outside attorneys and others to the injury of the company, and that through unlawful and illegal actions of the SEC, a stockholder has been incited to start a suit for receivership against the company in the Circuit court at Chicago, which suit is now pending.

Holders Sign Statement.

"Notwithstandingg the actions and conduct of the Securities and Exchange commission, 1,986 stockholders [over 82 per cent] recently have signed statements expressing their faith in the honesty and integrity of the officers of the company and confidence in the conduct and management of the business," the bill said.

The plaintif asks the court to enjoin the holding of any further hearings on its registration application and to compel the commission to grant the company's request for withdrawal of its registration statement.

COTTON

Cotton futures showed moderate strength at the opening yesterday, in sympathy with Liverpool, but eased later to close .08 to .19 cent a pound lower. Pressure on the market came largely from houses with spot and Wall street connections, while the trade was a good buyer.

There was some buying on the break attributed to a private estimate that about 24,500,000 acres had been planted for the 1938 cotton crop, somewhat less than recent estimates.

A good demand for textiles continued in New York, with some constructions up ⅛ cent a yard. Sales of print cloths in New York last week were estimated at 35,000,000 yards. The department of agriculture estimate will be issued July 8.

Spot cotton closed .10 cent lower, with New Orleans 9.15 cents; New York, 9.03 cents, and Galveston and Houston, 8.85 cents a pound. Prices follow:

RFC WILL FLOAT BIG LOAN; AVOID FEDERAL BUDGET

$200,000,000 Issue Is First in 5 Years.

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(AP)—The treasury announced tonight the proposed sale of $200,000,000 of Reconstruction Finance corporation notes as the first step in cutting the huge lending agency loose from the regular federal budget.

The notes, the first securities offered the public directly by the RFC in five years, will enable the agency to continue its industrial, railroad, utility, and other loans without help from the treasury.

The operation also will prevent an increase in the public debt as reckoned by the treasury, because the securities, although guaranteed by the treasury, will be listed by it only as "contingent liabilities."

At the treasury an official said it would be the policy of the RFC to continue selling its own securities when it needs money, but temporary loans might be obtained from the treasury.

Stricken from Budget List.

The treasury struck off of its list of budgetary expenditures today the RFC, the Commodity Credit corporation, and the Export-Import bank. The Commodity Credit corporation recently sold $200,000,000 of its notes to the public in a similar operation.

Formerly these agencies borrowed from the treasury when they needed money and the net amount of these borrowings in excess of repayments was included in the total of budgetary expenditures and in the deficit.

The RFC notes will mature in three years. The interest rate will be announced Monday morning. The notes constitute the first public offering of securities since the RFC sold notes in 1933 to buy gold.

The treasury official said that hereafter the only RFC or Commodity Credit corporation expenditures which will be included in the budget will be any funds appropriated to these agencies by congress to make up for losses or any sums which congress might direct the two corporations to donate to some other agency.

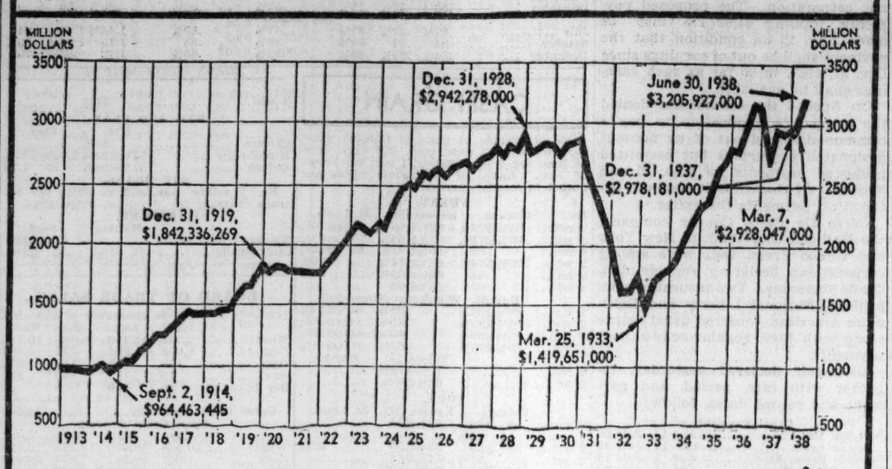

Tells Purpose of Change.

"The purpose of this change," a formal treasury announcement said, "is to simplify the daily treasury statement and to eliminate confusion and misunderstanding concerning the effect of such corporations' transactions on the federal budget."

A report of its activities for May, submitted by the RFC to the senate and house today, showed that an aggregate of $13,091,802 had been authorized in that month in the program to aid small industry.

A total of $16,221,500 was authorized for the railroads, including loans and purchases of securities. Loans of $5,836,126 were authorized to banks; $600,000 to a building and loan association; $1,296,060 to a mortgage loan company, and $575,000 to a joint stock land bank. Loans authorized to public bodies for construction projects aggregated $2,337,000.

County Auto Sales in June Drop to 5,273

Sales of new automobiles in Cook county in June totaled 5,273, representing a seasonal decline from the 6,612 total in May, it was disclosed in figures made public yesterday by the bureau of motor advice. Comparison with June, 1937, shows the sharp contraction in the automobile business that is in line with the curtailment of production at the automobile factories. The June, 1937, total was 13,061 units, more than double last month's total.

There were few changes in the position of the ten leading cars in volume of sales. However, Plymouth moved up to take first position in Cook county with 924 sales. It occupied third position in May and in June, 1937.

Chevrolet Ranks Second.

Chevrolet moved back to second position with a total of 874. It held first place in May with 1,210 sales and in June, 1937, it was in second place with a total of 1,744.

Ford was third in sales volume with a total of 862. In May, 1938, it was in second place with a total of 1,055, and in June, 1937, it was in first place with a total of 2,641.

Buick held fourth place with a total of 603. It was in fourth place in May with a total of 798 and sixth in June, 1937, with a total of 963. Pontiac continued in fifth position, which it held in May of this year.

Sales Are Compared.

STOCKS ON NEW YORK EXCHANGE SHOW GAIN OF 7 BILLION IN JUNE

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—The market value of shares listed on the New York Stock exchange increased $7,377,260,351, or 21.3 per cent, in June to $41,961,875,154, the exchange reported today.

The monthly compilation showed there were 1,256 issues totaling 1,426,893,438 shares on June 30, and that the average market value was $29.41, compared with $24.28 on June 1 and $39.21 on July 1, 1937. On June 1 there were 1,251 issues and 1,424,479,669 shares with a market value of $34,584,614,803, and on July 1, 1937, there were 1,236 issues totaling 1,399,459,739 shares with a market value of $54,882,327,205.

Although the total market value of the listed stocks June 30 was $12,920,452,051 less than on July 1, 1937, it was an increase of $10,103,413,283 from the $31,858,461,871 reported for last March 31, the low point of the 1937-'38 recession.

ASK TO SUBMIT PLAN IN POSTAL REORGANIZATION

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—A plan of reorganization for the Postal Telegraph and Cable corporation under section 77-B of the national bankruptcy law has been drawn up by a group of bondholders represented by Percival E. Jackson, it became known today.

These bondholders seek permission of the federal court to intervene in the reorganization proceedings and submit the plan to all the bondholders. Federal Judge Alfred E. Coxe will hear their plan tomorrow. The Jackson group represents some $2,000,000 of the $50,670,209 collateral trust bonds and debenture stock outstanding.

Meanwhile the Lehman committee, which represents $25,000,000 of the Postal Telegraph bonds and debenture bonds, is working on the final stages of a plan which, if certain major items can be ironed out, may be in form for submission soon.

Steel Output Declines to 22.4% Rate

A rebound from the July 4 holiday shutdown was reported in Youngstown and Buffalo steel mills as the American Iron and Steel Institute estimated the ingot production throughout the nation this week will sink to 22.4 per cent of capacity, compared with 28.7 per cent last week. Operations a month ago were at 26.2 per cent.

The institute estimate of the week's rate is on the usual basis of ratio of scheduled production to capacity operations for seven days, no attempt being made to adjust the rate to take into consideration the usual closing of plants over a holiday.

Output 67.3% a Year Ago.

Operations in the corresponding week last year were at 67.3 per cent of capacity, a drop of 7.7 points from the preceding week. The drop two years ago was 6.8 points to 67.2 per cent.

Youngstown output rose 1 point to 21 per cent of capacity yesterday, according to Dow, Jones & Co., and will move to 25 per cent Friday when the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company blows in three open harth furnaces. Yesterday's rise was caused by Republic Steel corporation's adding an open harth furnace. Of the 83 open harths in the district, 24 are operating, 27 will be scheduled Friday, and 30 are expected to be going next week.

Price Changes Cause Delays.

Immediate business in Youngstown is reported to be rather hesitant because of the price system changes, but mills have had better inquiries which are expected to boost orders when the pricing is clarified.

Buffalo operations were reported at 30 per cent of capacity yesterday, compared with 28 per cent before the holiday, reaching a high point for 1938 to date. Bethlehem Steel added two furnaces in that district.

Dow-Jones also said there was "quite an impressive increase in orders for some of the heavier steels" late last week, and that inquiries "have become substantially larger."

CHICAGO BANKS' DEPOSITS RISE, BUT LOANS DROP

Earnings Are Lower Than Year Ago.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

(Statistics on page 25.)

The quarterly reports of Chicago banks issued yesterday in response to calls from the controler of currency and the state auditor disclosed a further increase in deposits in the three months ended June 30 and a shrinkage in total funds employed in loans and other commercial uses.

Carrying more deposits and having less opportunity for profitable employment of their funds, the banks earned less in the first half of the year than in the corresponding period of 1937, the statements indicated.

Aggregate deposits of Chicago banks increased to $3,205,927,000 on June 30, a gain of $287,880,000 compared with three months earlier, and an increase of about $62,000,000 over the previous high mark reached Sept. 30, 1936.

Loans and Discounts Drop.

Loans and discounts declined to $604,783,000 at the end of the second quarter from $695,277,000 at the beginning of the period. The banks were carrying $1,423,602,000 in cash on June 30, compared with $934,316,000 on March 7. Since September, last year, when the decline in business activity began, bank loans in Chicago have fallen about $230,000,000.

The June 30 figures reported by the loop banks indicated that earnings for the first half year were substantially less than last year. The banks do not report earnings as such

Swift Fights Wallace Desist Order; Defends Credit Policy

Swift & Co., largest packing company in the country, yesterday petitioned the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago to set aside a recent order entered against it by Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, on the ground that Wallace had violated the United States constitution, the packers and stockyards act, and the rules of practice governing hearings under the act.

Secretary Henry A. Wallace.

Wallace last month issued a "cease and desist" order directing that Swift refrain from alleged "unjustly discriminatory" credit, discount, and weight practices in New York.

The Swift petition stated that eight separate complaints originally were made against it Sept. 30, 1936, but that after the proceedings were started Jan. 11, 1937, two additional counts were added. The company was cleared of seven of the ten counts.

Calls Order Unlawful.

The petition set forth forty-four reasons to support its contention that the order issued by Wallace was "erroneous, unlawful, and void."

Swift contended among other things that Wallace violated "the due process of law" provision of the constitution, in that the company was deprived of its right to know charges made against it in advance of the hearing, to prepare its defense against the charges and to make full and effective cross-examination of the witnesses produced against it.

The petition said that the secretary of agriculture erred and committed an abuse of his statutory power and discretion in permitting the New York Association of Meat, Poultry, and Game Purveyors to intervene.

The examiner who conducted the hearings in New York, the company said, admitted numerous items of hearsay and double hearsay evidence, evidence outside the purview of the complaint, evidence relating to events occurring after the commencement of proceedings, evidence relating to places not specified in the complaint, and irrelevant evidence.

Swift declared that the cease and desist order issued against it is so "general, indefinite and ambiguous that the company cannot determine what course it must follow to obey it." It declared further that the order is an attempt to regulate the private affairs and business of the company and added that the company is "not a public utility and is not subject to such regulation."

Cites Financing Problem.

In defending its credit practices, under which most credit is limited to a week, the company declares that its average daily sales amount to $2,500,000, that it pays spot cash for live stock and that it pays wages weekly.

It said that, were credit to customers extended one day beyond a week, $2,500,000 additional capital would be required to finance the huge volume of business and $100,000,000 additional capital would be required if all customers were on monthly terms.

Building Material Prices Already Cut, Ickes Is Told

San Francisco, Cal., July 5.—(AP)—The suggestion of Secretary of the Interior Ickes that building material producers reduce prices as the steel industry did brought a rejoinder today from W. H. Lowe, president of Paraffine Companies, Inc., nation-wide materials manufacturing firm. Lowe said he wired Ickes that building materials producers had cut prices before steel companies announced their reductions.

STOCK MARKET SAGS AS BUYING TIDE GOES OUT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 5.—Reversing the rising trend of the last twelve sessions, stock market prices gave ground today in the face of selling. Losses in the leaders ranged from fractions to 2 points, while more sensitive issues slumped as much as 5 points.

The turnover was 1,694,840 shares, not far above last Saturday's 1,472,420 shares. In the first two hours trading was at the fast pace of last week, owing to an accumulation of holiday week-end orders, and the ticker was behind for several minutes. Later, however, the gait was slower.

The opening trend was obscure, with blocks of 1,000 to 4,000 shares changing hands. Prices at this stage were mixed in a narrow range. Constant pressure, however, pointed the list lower and the day's lowest quotations were registered around midday. Following that there were narrow, jerky motions, with neither buyers nor sellers able to get the upper hand.

491 Issues Close Lower.

Toward the close there was a feeble rally under the leadership of the coppers, and prices moved up slightly from their lows, but a fundamentally soft note prevailed. The day saw 904 issues in action, with 228 closing higher, 491 lower and 185 unchanged.

The market's need of technical correction was advanced as the chief reason for today's setback. Brokers

WHEAT BREAKS 2 TO 4 CENTS ON HEAVY RECEIPTS

Harvest Speeded by Dry Weather in West.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Year ago
Wheat	$ .70½	$ .73	$1.24½
Corn	.57½	.57½	1.25⅝
Oats	.26¾	.27⅝	.44
Rye	.52⅞	.53	.92
Soy beans	.87⅛	.89⅝	1.43½

An avalanche of cash wheat, receipts totaling approximately 17,000,000 bushels at the twelve primary and five southwestern interior terminal markets over the double holiday, resulted in sharply lower prices for futures yesterday. Although hedging sales were not regarded as large considering the size of the receipts, the market received little support, and closing trades on the Chicago Board of Trade were at net losses of 2½ to 2⅝ cents a bushel.

Other Markets Lower.

Minneapolis led the decline, influenced by the receipt of general rains over the spring wheat belt during the holidays, and closed 3⅜ to 4¼ cents a bushel lower. Black rust reports from the northwest were not a market influence. Dry weather prevailed in the southwest where harvesting of winter wheat is progressing rapidly and Kansas City futures declined 1⅞ to 2 cents. Winnipeg wheat futures were 1⅜ to 2⅛ cents lower compared with Monday.

At no time yesterday did the wheat market show any great strength. Hedging sales appeared on all the minor upturns and professional traders generally were on the selling side, anticipating continued large receipts of winter wheat.

December Corn Higher.

Unfavorable comments on the corn crop were received from a wide area yesterday and led to considerable professional buying of December contracts at times. The latter represents the new crop. At one time prices rallied 1½ cents a bushel from a small setback at the opening, but reacted from the top to close ⅜ cent higher. Exporters were moderate buyers of July and September, but they closed ⅛ cent lower in sympathy with wheat.

Hedging sales made their appearance in September rye yesterday for the first time this season. There was no pressure on July. Closing trades were ⅛ to 1¼ cents lower. Oats declined about ½ cent, on selling induced by the easiness in wheat. Favorable crop comments from central Illinois were largely responsible for a break of 1⅞ to 2⅝ cents a bushel in soy bean futures.

COMMODITY LIST IRREGULAR, BUT COPPER RISES

Producers of Red Metal Boost Domestic Price.

Nonferrous metal contracts, led by copper, climbed higher in commodity futures trading yesterday, after an advance of ¼ cent a pound by leading producers in the price of domestic copper. Other commodities were irregular in futures trading, with losses in rubber, hides, silk, and cocoa. Cottonseed oil and wool tops gained, and coffee and sugar contracts were mixed.

Yesterday's advance in the price of domestic copper to 9.75 cents a pound was the third markup since the first of last week, when the metal was quoted at 9 cents. Fabricators stepped up the prices of their products in line with the higher quotation. Scrap copper quotations were moved up ¼ cent a pound to 8¼ cents.

Sales at High Mark.

Sales of domestic copper over the week-end were reported at 130,966,000 pounds, largest for any week-end this year. Export copper also showed strength, moving above the 10 cent level, compared with 9.9 cents on Saturday.

Copper futures closed 0.18 to 0.25 cent a pound higher. Lead futures gained 0.12 to 0.16 cents, zinc contracts were up 0.09 cent, and tin moved ahead 0.10 to 0.35 cent. Cash demand for lead and zinc continued active, with quotations unchanged.

Hides Mostly Lower

Hides at New York closed 0.02 to 0.08 cent a pound lower. At Chicago hide contracts for 1938 deliveries lost 0.04 to 0.15 cent, but March, 1939, contracts were nominally 0.10 cent higher.

Closing 2 to 4 cents lower were raw silk contracts, with the September delivery finishing at $1.69 a pound. Cottonseed oil, after showing gains of 0.01 to 0.04 cent a pound, reacted under liquidation influenced by easiness in the grain markets, to finish unchanged to 0.01 cent higher. The July price was 8.27 cents at the close.

SEC APPROVES SENIOR DIVIDENDS BY UTILITY FIRM

Columbia G. & E. to Pay Aug. 15.

The Securities and Exchange commission yesterday gave its conditional approval to payment of preferred dividends by the Columbia Gas and Electric corporation. The proposed payments, totaling $1,627,175 may be made Aug. 15 on condition that the payment shall be out of earnings since Dec. 31, 1937, in so far as such earnings shall be available.

On April 8 the commission denied the company's application to pay a common dividend out of an account designated as surplus but permitted preferred payments for Feb. 15 and May 15. At that time it reserved decision on payments thereafter.

Cerro De Pasco Copper company, the National City Bank of New York and Cuneo Press, Inc., were among corporations declaring regular dividends yesterday. Two insurance companies — National Liberty and Baltimore American—ordered usual extras along with their regular semi-annual payments.

MANDATORY WHEAT LOANS A CERTAINTY, WALLACE DECLARES

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace said today that private crop estimates made it obvious that mandatory wheat loan provisions of the new farm act would be placed in operation.

Wallace, calling at the White House, said he left a memorandum on the wheat loan situation with President Roosevelt.

"It is obvious from private crop estimates," the secretary told reporters, "that when the federal crop estimate comes out about July 11, the crop will be shown of sufficient size to make necessary the mandatory loans on wheat."

Under the farm law, Wallace said, the loan will be 52 per cent of the $1.14 parity price, or about 59 cents.

Later, Wallace explained that the minimum rate was 52 per cent. The law also provides a maximum loan rate of 75 per cent of parity.

HOME FURNISHINGS SHOWS BRING MANY BUYERS TO CHICAGO

Thousands of retail buyers registered yesterday at the American Furniture mart, 666 Lake Shore drive, and the Merchandise mart, as national home furnishings shows opened in each place. Better than normal buying was predicted by Lawrence H. Whiting, president of the American Furniture mart.

Slightly higher prices are in prospect, due largely to the effects of the new wage and hour law, according to manufacturers showing wares at the American Furniture mart.

Dollar Gains as Investors Abroad Send Funds to U. S.

The dollar rose in value in relation to foreign currencies yesterday. Transfer of foreign balances to New York for investments in American securities was said to be the chief influence in the advance. The British pound closed 1¼ cent lower at $4.94 7-16 and the French franc dropped to 0.00625 cent to 2.7806 cents.

Stocks, Bonds

reported a large number of "stop loss" orders before the opening and the list caught some of these on the decline, contributing to the corrective price swing.

Steel, railroad and chemical stocks were among the hardest hit. United States Steel common slipped 1⅛ points and Bethlehem dropped 1⅝ points. Losses in the chemicals ran to around 2 points, with Allied, du Pont, Air Reduction, and Union Carbide among the chief losers.

Santa Fe, 1⅛ lower; Union Pacific, down 1½, and Chesapeake and Ohio, with a loss of 2⅛ points, dragged the rail division into lower territory.

The price of membership on the New York Stock exchange, down a few weeks ago to $51,000, a twenty-year low, stood at $68,000 today on the basis of the latest transfer, up $3,000 from the last preceding sale.

New York Bonds.

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—Rail liens, which for the last two weeks have been leaders in the bond market's post-congress boom, faltered today as industrial and utility issues moved to the fore. Transactions for the day totaled $7,192,900, face value, against $7,685,000 Friday.

Treasury issues displayed an easier tone, closing 4-32ds of a point lower to 1-32d higher. Abitibi Power and Paper 5s gained 3½ points, being a leader among foreign liens.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks, after showing strength at the opening, turned irregular yesterday. The Tribune average of 20 representative stocks closed off 0.09 at 10.75, after reaching 10.97, the highest figure since Jan. 17. Seven issues established new 1938 highs. The turnover was 43,000 shares, compared with 52,000 Friday.

Listing on the Chicago exchange of stocks of three more companies now listed on the New York exchange was approved yesterday by the executive committee. The issues are Acme Steel common, Deere & Co. common, and 7 per cent cumulative $20 par preferred, and International Harvester company common, and 7 per cent cumulative $100 par preferred. Seven other corporations are preparing applications.

Bank Stocks.

Northern Trust and Harris Trust and Savings shares were strong spots in Chicago bank stock trading yesterday. Northern Trust was up $5 a share at $515 bid, $530 asked. Harris Trust at $285 bid, $295 asked, was up $10 from most quotations Saturday, although one dealer marked quotations up to this level late Saturday.

First National, leader in the rise of the last two weeks with an advance of $69 a share, slipped $4 yesterday to $228 bid, $232 asked.

Tide Water Preferred.

Investors' Guide: I have a few shares of Tide Water Power company preferred stock. I paid $95 per share. It has just discontinued paying dividends. Any information you can give me about the company would be appreciated.—G. R. L.

Answer: The Tide Water Power company provides electric light and power, gas, and street railway service in Wilmington, N. C. About 223 other cities, towns, and rural communities in North Carolina also are served with electricity and three communities are provided with water. Rate decreases amounting to $51,500 were granted by the company early this year.

Despite an increase in operating revenue, net income for twelve months ended March 31 decreased to $113,629, or $4.76 a preferred share, from $169,732, or $7.11 a preferred share, in the preceding year. The decline in net income was due principally to higher taxes, high operating expenses, and heavy depreciation charges.

Total assets were $13,073,556 at the end of 1937. Current assets were $564,152 against current liabilities of $614,379. The company has 23,858 shares of no par $6 cumulative preferred stock outstanding. All the common is owned by Southeastern Electric and Gas company. The preferred dividend due June 1 was passed.

Total assets were $7,481,355 at the end of 1937, and current assets were only $87,356 against current liabilities of $139,345. The company operates under a 99 year charter granted in 1868.

Charges were 1.71 times covered in the twelve months ended March 31, 1938, compared with 1.82 times in the preceding year, 1.78 times in all of 1937, 1.83 times in 1936, 1.76 times in 1935, 1.76 times in 1934, 1.72 times in 1933, 1.71 times in 1932, and 2.22 times in 1929.

Although earnings have been fairly steady, the coverage of fixed charges is rather small. For this reason and because recent statements show a decline in the margin of coverage, we would at present regard the company's bonds as more a speculation than an investment.

MEMBER BANKS EXPAND LOANS AS JUNE CLOSES

Report First Increase in 21 Weeks.

Loans made by member banks of the federal reserve system in the week ended June 29 increased $20,000,000 over the preceding week, the federal reserve board stated yesterday in its weekly report on member bank conditions in 101 leading cities. This was the first time in twenty-one weeks that there has been an increase in such loans over the preceding week.

The total on June 29 stood at 3 billion 936 million dollars, compared with 3 billion 916 millions at the end of the preceding week. Compared with the corresponding 1937 week, however, there was a decline of 395 million dollars.

Loans Are Business Index.

Loans made by the member banks to business are rated as one of the best business indicators. Active business requires loans to finance operations and as such business expands loans normally increase. Conversely when business declines the need for loans is less and the reserve board has lower business loans to report.

There was an increase of only 12 million dollars in loans to brokers and dealers in securities despite the higher rate of activity. The total outstanding as of June 29 stood at 652 million dollars, a decrease of 795 millions from the like week of last year.

Holdings of direct obligations of the federal government showed a small decrease of 12 millions and fully guaranteed obligations moved up 7 millions. The total of direct obligations held by the banks was 7 billion 770 million and the total of fully guaranteed obligations was 1 billion 488 million

WESTERN NEWS UNION RECEIVER PLEA REJECTED

New York, July 5.—(AP)—Federal Judge John W. Clancy today denied an application of R. Hosken Damon and Homer M. Preston of Chicago, two directors of the Western Newspaper Union, for a temporary injunction and the appointment of a receiver for that company.

The suit arose from the purchase by John H. Perry, head of the American Press association, of a block of voting trust certificates and Western Newspaper Union common stock which, with stock he already owned, gave him control of W. N. U. last month.

Damon and Preston unsuccessfully contended that an Illinois federal District court decree of 1912 permanently enjoined the concern and the American Press association from consolidating and that the sale of American stock to Perry was a violation of that decree.

The court held the concern wholly liquid.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Prices for cattle and hogs yesterday soared to new high price levels for the season. Top steers advanced 35 cents over last week's close, to $11.75, the highest mark in the trade since Jan. 18. This was $1 above the low spot of last month. Hogs reached $9.45, the highest price since March 25, showing a gain of 70 cents compared with the June low day.

Improved consumer demand for meats, which has raised the wholesale price of beef and pork, coupled with the moderate two day supply offered, stimulated buying by packers at the stockyards.

Despite the action in other live stock and the strong to $1 higher wholesale trade for dressed lamb, new crop lambs slumped 25 to 50 cents.

Insurance Investment Influences.

Not only are millions of Americans interested in insurance company investments from the standpoint of safety of their policies, but they should be interested in these investments for their vast potential influence in stabilizing or supporting bond markets and providing a market for new issues whose proceeds go into the progress of industry.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the nation's leading life insurance companies bought $3,962,000,000 of securities in 1937 and $4,607,000,000 in 1936—at a rate of well over $10,000,000 a day every day in the year, including Sundays and holidays. Government bond support may be indicated in purchases of $1,174,000,000 of these obligations by the twenty biggest companies last year.

Largest insurance company investor is Equitable Life Assurance society, New York, with $568,402,000 in security purchases last year, $689,085,000 in 1936, and $722,957,000 in 1935. Other leaders and the amounts of securities bought in 1937: Metropolitan Life, $539,607,000; Prudential, $428,539,000; New York Life, $233,186,000; Travelers [life department], $123,642,000; Penn Mutual, $120,228,000; John Hancock, $108,037,000; Mutual Life of New York, $103,793,000; Northwestern Mutual, $82,865,000.

CASE CONTINUED ON OBJECTIONS TO INSULL REPORT

Special Referee in Bankruptcy Garfield Charles yesterday continued hearings on objections made by Samuel Insull, Harold L. Stuart, and others to portions of a report submitted by Charles to Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson dealing with fees in the bankruptcy case of the Corporation Securities company of Chicago.

Attorneys indicated a settlement of the objections may eliminate the need of further hearings. It was intimated that attorneys for Insull and Stuart will withdraw their objections if certain portions of the Charles report, in which the former management of the company was charged with misconduct, are eliminated.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Crop Insurance.

July 5, 1938.

FEDERAL crop insurance on wheat to be harvested next year will be offered to farmers in Du Page county this week, according to plans of officials of the Agricultural Adjustment administration with offices in Wheaton. Wheat sown this fall will be the first crop to be insured under the government's AAA program.

Out in the Tribune's Du Page county farm neighborhood farmers are wondering how many wheat growers will take part in this new government experiment. In Du Page, as well as in other nearby counties, chinch bugs, black stem rust, and other pests have made wheat raising hazardous, resulting in a reduction of the grain on many farms in recent years.

Acreage Increase Seen.

Wheat insurance may encourage many to increase their acreage of winter wheat to be sown this fall for harvest in 1939. The insurance plan provides for storing and placing in reserve wheat which can be drawn upon by insured wheat growers when they suffer losses resulting from drouth, flood, hail, plant disease, insect infestation, or other unavoidable causes. With this kind of protection —designed to take some of the gambling out of wheat raising — an increased acreage of wheat may be sown this fall.

Du Page county farmers will be advised that they must make application for wheat insurance within the next six weeks. The deadline is Aug. 15. This deadline for the acceptance of wheat growers' applications for crop insurance to cover the 1939 winter wheat crop has been fixed by Washington officials. It applies to all winter wheat raising counties in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Ohio, South Dakota, and Nebraska.

Down at Champaign state AAA wheat insurance officials estimate that 20,000 farmers will apply for the federal wheat insurance this year. They point out that the new farm law provides that farmers pay premiums on their wheat insurance either in wheat or its cash equivalent at the current market price. Then growers will have their choice of accepting payment for crop losses either in the form of wheat or its cash equivalent at the current market price.

First Policy Issued.

The amount of premium farmers are expected to pay is indicated by the rate that applies to the first policy issued in Illinois to the Worner Brothers in Macon county. The Worners insured their wheat yield of a 53 acre field by paying a premium rate of one-half bushel an acre to insure a yield of 19.5 bushels an acre. They have an average yield of 26 bushels an acre for the base period used in calculating rates. Their application was for 75 per cent coverage in case of loss.

All the applications for wheat insurance received by the Du Page county AAA office at Wheaton will be sent to the state office at Champaign, and from there to the Kansas City branch office of the Federal Crop Insurance corporation.

The law provides for the establishment of a $100,000,000 corporation to be operated in forty states where wheat is raised. Congress also provided for an appropriation of $6,000,000 for each fiscal year. The first fiscal year began on July 1. This money is to be used to cover operating and administrative costs of the corporation.

MEN—STEADY WORK.

We will select 5 men at once, with the privilege of thorough training at our elec. appliance factory branch—at our expense, and start them immediately on a permanent basis, full time.

Married men preferred, as these positions are responsible and we require no investment or deposit—but you must be reputable and able to learn this work as taught. This is steady profitable sales work, but our method of putting the prospect into the market for our invention, is so unusual that it necessitates being trained in it, regardless of previous experience. While learning, new men must be satisfied on earnings of $35 to $45 per week on a percentage basis, but later can increase this substantially. Previous experience not important because our method is so unusual, but those selected must be willing to work hard and study to qualify for the higher income.
